Joseph People Hear Lecture on Creation of World and Probable End.

Joseph, Or., Feb. 22.—Many people were disappointed Thursday morning when the advance agents for the French horse buyers received word from headquarters that they were in the market for no more horses at the present time. It came as a thunderbolt out of a clear sky as the main buyers were expected in on the noon train from La Grande. The advance agents, Mr. Sweeney and Mr. Jesse did all they could to help the horsemen out. They paid the livery bills on the horses they had tagged for the buyers.

E. T. Luna of Athena has accepted a position as dry goods salesman in the B. & M. Supply company's department store. Mr. Luna's wife is not with him at present but will arrive here next week some time.

Homer Hayes has resigned his position in the B. & M. Supply company's store and has taken a homestead on Snake river where he intends to engage in the stock business. Mr.

Hayes is an O. A. C. graduate and has worked in this store ever since he graduated and has made many friends in a business way that will miss him in the store.

O. F. Stafford of Eugene delivered an interesting lecture to the people of Joseph Wednesday night on the subject of how this old world of ours was created and probably how it will end in the course of many more years, which no one knows exactly. The theory that the lecture was worked out on is very plausible and there is no doubt but what he convinced the audience that way. Mr. Stafford is connected with the extension department of the University of Oregon. This is the second man sent out by that institution that has visited our city during the last nine months.

George Russell of Swamp creek was in town this week on business. Matt Isley and Charley Craven brought in some horses from the Divide to sell to the horse buyers but were disappointed like a good many of our good people were.

Theodore Schuler made a flying visit to Enterprise this week. Elma Hunt has returned from a visit with her sisters. She visited Mrs. Aubrey Smith of Union and Miss Laura Hunt at Haines where she is teaching school this winter.

Tom Wells who was found dead in the Grande Ronde rooming house was well known in Joseph as he had sheared sheep in the country for many years.

Mr. and Mrs. Karl Akins of Imnaha were in town this week buying supplies and farming machinery for their ranch at the Imnaha. The report

University Agent Delivers Address—Social Function Popular.

Wallowa, Ore., Feb. 21.—(Special.)—Prof. O. E. Stafford, head of the department of chemistry at the University of Oregon, delivered a lecture in the gymnasium, Monday evening.

The subject he lectured upon was "Worlds in the making." He illustrated his theories at various times with stereopticon slides. There was quite a large crowd in attendance beside the high school students. The students took notes on the lecture, and then wrote the lecture up, and discussed it during the English class.

These lectures are free, and are directed by the University extension division.

The masquerade ball given by the ladies of the Catholic church, in Morelock's hall, Monday evening, was well attended. The dancing commenced about 9:00 p. m., and continued until about 2:30. A large number and quite a number of characters were represented. Mrs. J. S. White won the prize for the best lady character, which was a silk handbag. She represented a school girl. A. B. Hall, as a negro, won the prize for the best man character. He received a safety razor, and a mirror.

Miss Campbell to Leave Baker.

Baker, Feb. 20.—Miss Irene Campbell, who for several years has been the Latin teacher in the Baker high school, has accepted a position in the Jefferson high school at Portland and will leave the first of the week to take up her new work. She will be succeeded by Miss Kate Baker, who has been one of the teachers in the English department. Mrs. Neil Barbour, formerly Miss Lois Owen, English teacher last year, who is spending some time with her mother, Mrs. A. G. Owen, will finish the term in Miss Baker's position.

The departure of Miss Campbell from Baker will be deeply regretted by her many friends, but her advancement in her profession is a merited one and she will carry the best wishes of Baker people in her new position.

Union Council Transaction.
(Union Republican.)

The city council met in adjourned session at the city hall Saturday evening last. Present—Councilmen Davis, Wright, Wiglesworth and Jones, Recorder Terrall.

The Finance committee reported that the city had arranged to extend time of paying city bonds one year by increasing the interest two per cent, which it was decided to do after paying off two bonds of $1,000 each, leaving about $7,000 yet to pay of this issue of City Hall bonds.

The matter of Treasurer's bond was referred to the Recorder. The matter of charging peddler's license was discussed, applying particularly at this time to the operations of the Grand Union Tea Co.

It was decided to call a mass meeting of the people of the city at the city hall Wednesday evening, February 24, for the purpose of considering the appointment of a committee to oversee the revision of the city charter.

The recorder was instructed to get tags for dog tax.

Send Exhibit Room Plans

Baker, Feb. 20.—The Baker Commercial club has forwarded to the O. W. officials in Portland the blue prints and plans for the proposed exhibit building at the depot for their approval. When the matter was first taken up with the railroad authorities they made tentative agreement for the use of a plot of ground in the depot parking, and it is not believed that they will hold up the project, as those who were asked about the matter seemed greatly in favor of having the building and offered to do all they could to help it along.

Real Estate Deal Made.

Last Saturday there was closed a real estate transfer wherein Hugh E. Rodman sold to J. W. Sherman his 160-acre farm on Catherine Creek and as a part of the consideration Mr. Sherman deeded to Mr. Rodman the residence property on the southeast corner of Beakman and West Second streets. With the addition of the Rodman place Mr. Sherman has a large tract of pasture and hay land on which he will raise cattle. Mr. Rodman will become a resident of the city. The transfer was made through the real estate firm of Stonedahl & Davis—Union Scout.
