One of my relatives had used Doan's Kidney Pills and advised me to try them. Two boxes drove away the aches and pains, and I have had no trouble since." (Statement given May 20, 1910.)

Notice to Public.

Portland, Feb. 20.—(To the Editor)—It has come to me from several localities in Eastern Oregon that one man, Charles Pauli, is representing himself as a special agent and speaker for the Farmers Union. I wish to say to the public that this man is in no way connected with the Farmers' Union, and so far as I can learn has never been asked to speak by members or officers of the Farmers' Union, but that he pushes himself upon the public as a speaker for the Farmers' Union.

LAUGHS THICK AND PROLONGED

Lengthy comedy motion pictures have, up to the present time, been largely in the nature of experiments, or they have been failures. As a matter of fact, they have been mostly failures.

It has remained for the Keystone Film company to produce the first successful six-part comedy film; which is not so unexpected when one considers that the Keystone folk have been presenting the cleverest and most entertaining one-reel and two-reel comedies for the film fancier.

The same laugh making methods obtain in their newest product, "Tillie's Punctured Romance," which stars Marie Dressler and features Charlie Chaplin and Mable Normand. The latter two are known for ingenious fun making wherever the film is exhibited and Miss Dressler is generally regarded as the best comedienne of her type on the legitimate stage. In "Tillie's Punctured Romance" she is the most rollicking personage ever seen on land or sea.

To tell the story of "Tillie's Punctured Romance," which will be seen at the Arcade theater Feb. 26-27 proves a ponderous task. There is an intrinsically funny story to the whole thing, but its ramifications defy the chronicler. It is crammed with situations that elaborate the fun of the plot. The skill of the interpreters makes the situations funnier than they are in themselves, for certainly three more capable mirth-makers than Marie Dressler, Charlie Chaplin and Mable Normand have never been brought together in the history of filmdom.

"Tillie's Punctured Romance" tells how Tillie is wooed by Charlie and is given the mitten in favor of Mable. When Charlie reads that through the death of an uncle Tillie is heir to three millions, he encompasses a hasty marriage before Tillie gets the news. Then it develops that the uncle is very much alive. What ensues may be imagined with little effort.

Before the finish of Charlie all sorts of tempestuous things come to pass. An auto plunges into the Pacific, the Keystone "Cops" have the chase of their gay young lives, and Tillie, after several tedious lifts and immersions, is finally landed on the pier. Mable and Tillie "make up" and Charlie is lead away to durance vile.

It would require an expert mathematician to tell just how many laughs

Just a little touch of Grippe

—that's all that is wrong with me, Bill; but it's kept me in the house for four long weeks. That's a long time to be out of work.

Like most of us, Bill, I was big and husky and hadn't put aside anything against just such a siege as this. I'd have been up against it—with the wife and kids—if I hadn't taken out an AETNA ACCUMULATIVE DISABILITY POLICY.

That policy is paying us $50 a week, Bill—and will while I am here in bed. And it costs—well, so little that it don't matter now.

All the worry off my shoulders, Bill, just because I had thought to

Are You Going To Build?

Two great questions to the prospective home-builders are "How much is your home going to cost," and "what will be the cost for repairs in the future." There are two ways to build, the cheap and inexperienced way, and the good and substantial way which means good workmanship and good material.
