ALL GUARNANTEED

Theatricals have been one of the foremost attractions of the past week, though there have been innumerable card parties and several dances to fill in the week. It has indeed been a strenuous seven days for people who "go places." Thursday evening the Y. M. C. A. Minstrels was the attraction and quite an attraction it was. A majority of the performers were new to the public, but the numbers went off smoothly, with a snap that reflected hard drilling. Puns and jokes were distinctly new. Rev. G. L. Clark was interlocutor, and Ray Williams, Don Sargent, V. H. Papst and E. Ellis were end men, doing their parts with true Dixie style. The soloists were extremely well received especially after the impressive introductions given each one. Mrs. George Huntington Currey, familiar to home theatricals and musical circles, sang under the name de plume of the Melba of Deal Canyon; Miss Nell Garrick was classified as the Patti of Catherine creek; Miss Ruth Gaskill, the Jennie Lind of Old Town; C. P. Ferrin was in reality Caruso Panhandle Ferrin of Pumpkin Ridge; L. D. Howland, answered to the name of Lazarus Dogwood; Bobbie Pattison to call of "The man with the coyote voice."

The chorus consisted of Misses Sarah Smith, Nora Arbuckle, Etha Thomas, Etta Woodell, Lucile Jorris, Lucree Wood, Messrs. Richardson, Christiansen, Happersett, Robertson, Huffman, Winters, Selders, Clarke.

The olio numbers were principally music and in that act, a cabaret act—which was first put on in Union when a local troupe put on a production there recently—the following were heard either in instrumental or vocal numbers: M. F. Green, Miss Ruth Gaskill, Miss Lucree Wood, Miss Sarah Smith, Bobbie Pattison, C. P. Ferrin, V. H. Papst, Ellsworth Ellis, Professor David Haines, Mrs. A. L. Richardson.

The second home theatrical attraction of the week came last evening when dramatic efforts were attempted, and with marked success. Of late years few efforts toward dramatic productions have been staged, and the drama last evening was a success from the start. The plot of "The Bishop's Carriage," is not a bloody one, but holds the interest with a smooth, keen thread of romance. The actors were familiar in home theatricals, and at no one point could a flaw be picked. It is not to the disparagement of the others to say that if one character was to be selected as the most popular, Adna Rogers would probably be that one, but every line spoken and every gesture of the evening was heartily received. A noticeable warmth in the audience instilled the actors to their greatest talent, and from leading man and woman to the most minor part the roles were well taken. The Arcade was well filled for the occasion. H. E. Coolidge, as a barrister; Mr. Devere, who managed the affair; H. E. Dixon, C. R. Harding, William Pearce, W. A. Rhoades, T. H. Williamson, F. M. Bay and his Ford, Pauline Lederle, Vera Joel, Mrs. C. P. Ferrin, and Maynon Steward Devere were the principal actors, each winning much applause. C. P. Ferrin provided special numbers between acts.

When, on Monday evening, the Knights of Columbus as a lodge gave their annual Eastern Monday ball, the Lenten season opened brilliantly. Rex hall was not crowded, but the attendance was satisfactory and a three-hour period of dancing followed, much to the satisfaction of all the guests. The Knights proved themselves ample providers of amusement. Libations were served, and informal good fellowship bubbled over. Patronesses for the even were Mrs. F. L. Meyers, Mrs. W. H. Casey and Mrs. J. F. Corbett. The evening was in charge of the following committee: Will Pearce, Harry Lavey and Ben Bassett. The reception committee consisted of Ray Sullivan, Dan Callahan and Lee Bellinger.

Island City, April 10.—Since Easter has come and gone, those who enjoy social affairs have had their fill. The post-Easter season in a social aspect began with the presentation of "Pandora's Box" by the Fifth grade of the school at the close of last week. In this delightful story, Epimetheus lives in the land of childhood. All of the other boys in the country have girl companions so Quicksilver brings Epimetheus a strange looking box and tells Epimetheus that no one is to open the box or in anyway tamper with it. Pandora's curiosity gets the best of her and she finally yields to the temptation and opens the box. Out of the box comes all kinds of trouble Sorrow, Evil Passion, Naughtiness and Pain. They succeed in making Pandora and Epimetheus very miserable, then leave for their journey about the world. After the troubles have gone Hoysse is found still in the box. After comforting Epimetheus and Pandora, Hoysse goes out into the world to make amends for the ugly troubles which had been let loose. Epimetheus and Pandora decide to follow Hoysse ever after.

Perry, April 10.—(Special)—In a social way, Perry has been busy during the week. Easter's "demise" was very fittingly commemorated by a program given by the local Union Sunday School. The following numbers were excellently rendered by members of the school:
"Tis Easter Day" Chorus
Prayer
"Have Faith in Him" Chorus
Recitation—"Let Something Good Be Said" Estrid Johanson
Recitation—"Easter Thoughts" Ethel Nelson
Recitation—"One Easter Morning"—

Cornelia Hansen
Address—"Easter—It's Origin, Customs and Message"
Horace J. Nelson
Quintet—"Easter Bells" Celia Stoddard, Nellie Holmes, Evelyn Butler, Herbert Reher, Rulon Davis.
Recitation—"The Easter Light" Hilda Robertson
Duet—"Jesus Wants Me for a Sun-Beam" Lucille and Lennette Reher
Recitation—"Here Again" Sonja Reher
Recitation—"Christ is Risen" Memory Giltner
"If the Lord had Ne'er Descended" Chorus
Benediction.

At the conclusion of the above program, fancy Easter baskets containing candy eggs, rabbits, etc., were distributed to all children present, as well as enrolled members of the school. The Amusement hall was appropriately decorated typifying the Easter thought. The program made up a very pleasant hour for the large attendance of Perry people, who support the local Sunday school loyally.

Fred D. Rinehart and Mrs. Olivia Pidecock were married in La Grande last Wednesday, March 31, and returned to Enterprise a couple of days later. They have rented D. F. Steele house where they are now at home. The ceremony was performed by Rev. Leon Myers of the La Grande Christian church, in the Savoy hotel.

Mrs. Pidecock, who is a sister of Mrs. L. E. Jordan, left Enterprise in the fall and went to Idaho, and later to Mount Pleasant, Utah, for a visit with her mother, who also has spent considerable time here. On Tuesday Mrs. Pidecock arrived back in La Grande, where she met Mr. Rinehart.

The bride and groom are both well known and highly esteemed in Enterprise and the best wishes of many friends are extended to them.

Tuesday evening Mrs. Vincent Palmer, one of the foremost club women of the city, entertained at dinner in compliment to Mrs. Aristine Felts, state president of the State Mothers' Congress & Parent-Teacher association. The dinner followed the address and social functions at the Central school earlier in the day. Those who were guests for the very delightful occasion, were Mrs. Felts, of Portland, Mrs. A. E. Ivanhoe, county school superintendent, Prof. Prince, principal of the Central school, Mrs. Nellie Neal, Dr. H. S. Brownson and Mrs. Brownson, president of the Parent-Teacher association in the Central building.

Mrs. S. Blake Williamson entertained most delightfully last Saturday afternoon in honor of Miss Lucille Ramsdell of La Grande. The color scheme was yellow, crepe paper and daffodils being prettily used in the decorations. Twenty ladies were present. Miss Ramsdell is soon to be the bride of Charles Williamson of La Grande, brother to S. Blake Williamson. Both were guests for the weeks end at the Williamson home.—Enterprise Record-Chief.

City Engineer and Mrs. L. D. Howland were hosts to an informal gathering of a few friends Wednesday evening at cards. High score, in Five Hundred, was won by Chase Bohnenkamp. Refreshments were served and guests for three tables played.

The Christian Endeavor of the Christian church held a very interesting meeting at the home of Mr. and Mrs. John Kline, early in the week. Twenty-one members were present to enjoy the evening. Refreshments were served and the young people had a very delightful time of it.

The joint meeting of the Parent-Teacher associations of the Riveria and Central schools, held at the Central building last Tuesday afternoon, was a pleasant social affair as well as an instructive meeting. One hundred were present and a roll call decided that Miss McHugh's room had won the prize picture for another month, having the largest representation present. A beautiful musical selection was given by Mrs. Corbett and she responded to the heavy encore. The address by Mrs. Aristine Felts followed, and it was replete with helpful suggestions. Her talk was along the line of the origin and growth of the organization, its object and some of the good accomplished by the Portland associations. The idea of training each child for worthy citizenship, according to his own particular needs, was presented from an economic standpoint as well as that of moral obligation. At the close of the address dainty refreshments were served and a social hour enjoyed.

Miss Harriet Young expects to leave Berlin for her home in La Grande soon, and, if all goes well, she and two other Oregon girls who are studying music in Berlin with her, will make the return trip together. Miss Young, who is studying music, has profited by the war in some respects, for her music master was customarily giving concerts in European centers and shortening the number of lessons in winter months, but since the war broke out he has been at his studio continually and the Oregon girl has profited in the number of lessons obtained. In letters to her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Henry Young, Miss Young says that Berlin is eating Kartoffel bread and that war rations prevail everywhere. While not starving, by any means, she feels the effect of the war, nevertheless. Her parents expect her home in July.
