WOOL OUTLOOK BRIGHT

Sheep in Fine Condition and Clip Promises to Bring From 25 to 28c

Baker, Ore., April 23.—The best reason for sheepman within memory is expected in all parts of this section, one of the largest sheep-raising districts in the Northwest. Special investigation in Baker and Grant Counties and in parts of Malheur County have brought forth reports showing that sheep are in splendid condition and mutton and wool prices are good. Practically no wool contracts have been made, growers holding for higher prices.

Growers say that the animals wintered in fine shape and are on the range, which is in perfect condition, earlier than in any previous season. Lambing was particularly successful, in some places the hands brought more than 100 per cent of lambs, the best crop ever realized in this district.

In the Burnt River section, it is reported, there is fine class of wool sheep which, coming from the feed yards to the splendid range so early in the season, insures a heavy crop of wool and from 8 to 10 cents more a pound than ever received before.

Medical Springs, home of John G. Hoke, secretary of the Oregon Wool Growers Association reports fine prospects a fine lambing season and prospects for good prices.

North Powder, on the Union County line, reports that good No 1 lambs and ewes are bringing $10 while wool is 28 cents, with growers waiting for still higher prices.

Grant County reports that the wool clip will be about 25 per cent better than last year, with mutton higher than last year, with mutton higher than in 1914. The Malheur forest reserve has issued grazing permits for 130,000 head of sheep. Woolmen are expecting not less than 25 cents and some sheep have sold for $7.

Albany, N. Y., Apr. 26.—The New York constitutional convention, which held an initial organization session Apr. 6, will reconvene tonight prepared to actively begin work upon drafting tentative planks of the new constitution. Former Senator Root, chairman, is expected to announce committee assignments tonight or tomorrow.
