An entertaining pupil's recital of an informal nature, was enjoyed at the home of Mrs. J. P. Graham May 15 when her vocal pupils rendered a program of much merit. In addition to Mrs. Graham's pupils being in attendance there were several friends of the pupils who were present to listen to the numbers on the program. Light refreshments were served at the conclusion of the recital, and the event was, all in all, a delightful afternoon, each number showing careful preparation and teaching. The numbers and those rendering them follow: Some Day When My Dreams Come True Dallas Green

The Labadie reading Tuesday evening at the L. D. S. tabernacle was thoroughly enjoyed by all who attended. The reading was of a most pleasing and vivid; showing a thorough mastery of the subjects portrayed. The audience though small was appreciative to their ardent emotions delineated. Many acknowledged he is the best that has ever been in La Grande. The state M. I. A. thank all who helped to make it a success and will always endeavor to give the people the best obtainable in whatever line of entertainment they may put before the people, in the future as they have always done in the past.

Wednesday night La Grande people were richly entertained from a musical standpoint; no one dares hereafter say La Grande's talent is incapable. The occasion was the closing number of the high school Lyceum course, and it was wholly local. The high school musicians played a pleasing part in the program, and a new musical club made its debut on that occasion with a great deal of success. One of the guests, Elmer I. Stoddard, was unable to be present but those who sang were Joseph P. Price, Joseph N.

Spiker, J. H. Traynor, Nellie Garlick, Lena Swalberg, Janet Stoddard and Gladys Black. The club is known as the M. I. A. double quartet. Piano numbers were handled by two of the city's popular artists, Miss Evans and Prof. Armstrong. Vocal selections were in the hands of such favorites as Mrs. A. L. Richardson, Mrs. J. F. Corbett, C. P. Ferrin and Mrs. T. J. Scroggin. Difficult classics were handled exceptionally well and words of praise have been freely spoken not only for those who arranged the program but for the participants in it.

The program was:
1.—Chorus, Bridal Chorus from "The Rose Maiden" Cowen
Girls' and Boys' Glee Club.
2.—Friend Mr. C. P. Ferrin
3.—Quartette, "Lead Kindly Light," Double Quartette.
4.—Piano solo, Allegro from "Carnival Op. 26," Schumann
Mr. G. H. Armstrong.
5.—Solo, (a) Hoffnung, Reichardt

10.—Solo, "Bird of Love Divine," Haydn Wood
Mrs. J. F. Corbett.
11.—Chorus, "Good Night Beloved," Pinsuti
Girls' and Boys' Glee Club.

Chapter I. of P. E. O. met this afternoon with Mrs. G. T. Darland as hostess. After the regular routine of business Mrs. J. T. Richardson, Mrs. J. K. Wright and Mrs. Stanchfield were initiated. The hostess gave prominence to the Chapter colors, yellow and white and the Chapter flower, marguerites, in her refreshments and decorations. Mrs. Darland leaves the early part of the week to represent Chapter I. at Grand Chapter which meets this year in Eugene.

The Lucky Thirteen club held one of their enjoyable club meetings Thursday afternoon with Mrs. C. H. Finn and Mrs. A. L. McAllister hostesses at the Finn home on O avenue. The usual game of the club, Auction Bridge, was played and Mrs. T. J. Scroggin scored high honors. The home was exquisitely decorated, the color scheme being yellow and white. A feature of the decorations that created many delightful compliments was the profusion of beautiful roses which had been sent to Mrs. McAllister by friends in Vancouver, Washington, her former home.

The Pinochle club enjoyed a delightfully strenuous week of it, being entertained Tuesday evening by Mr. and Mrs. Herman Seigrist at their home on Fourth street, and again Thursday evening by Mrs. W. R. Rinehart, Mrs. Rinehart was a hostess at the Seigrist home.

Tuesday evening honors at cards went to Mrs. A. W. Nelson and C. O. Ramsey.

Thursday evening Mrs. Rinelart's guests numbered 12, and at cards, A. C. Bacon scored highest.

held in San Francisco in June; Also that he was given the honorary degree of the Alpha Omega Alpha fraternity.

Mrs. Claude Mackey and son Marvin are visiting Mrs. Mackey's relatives at Newport this week. They expect to be gone several days, calling on acquaintances in other parts of the Willamette valley.

The 1915 Embroidery club was entertained by Mrs. H. E. Roscamp Thursday afternoon. After an informal afternoon of sewing the hostess served delicious refreshments.

Gladys Black entertained the Minute-A-Minute club Tuesday. Refreshments were served at the proper hour.

Mrs. W. H. Bohnenkamp entertained the Thursday Auction Bridge club. At bridge, high score went to Mrs. M. B. Donohue.

May 26 the Moose band gives a benefit dance at the Zuber hall. From 8 until 9 a concert will be rendered, followed by dancing from 9 on. The public is invited to be present.

WEDDINGS OF THE WEEK

With the rapid approach of June the month of weddings—La Grande is going to witness at least a half-dozen prominent weddings. Two or three of the school teaching staff have wedding dates set for the time immediately after school is out: several prominent young ladies of the city have hymenial dates fixed also but have thus far not let the fact be known to anyone outside the family circles. Society folks who say they know have seven weddings of well known people well established.

Christine Wheatley, Who Married Medical Springs Resident

Miss Christine Wheatley, a graduate of the La Grande high school with the class of 1913, who has been teaching school at Medical Springs for the past year and a half, last Wednesday was married to Leslie Duncan, a prominent citizen of that place. Miss Wheatley is a talented young lady who ranks high academically and socially in high school life and her many friends in La Grande will be agreeably surprised, no doubt, to hear of her marriage. She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. L. Wheatley, of this city. Mr. and Mrs. Duncan will live at Medical Springs.

Mr. and Mrs. Hiram W. Austin of Bellingham, Wash., have announced the marriage of their daughter Edith Mabel to Wilfred Robb of La Grande. The ceremony was performed last Sunday at Bellingham, and after their short wedding tour, Mr. and Mrs. Robb will be at home to their friends in this city where the young groom is manager of the Valley creamery and where he has established a large circle of friends during the year or so he has been in La Grande. Bellingham papers declare the bride to be a charming young lady of that city who left her parental roof for that of her own with the best wishes of many intimate friends and acquaintances.

The American Reveille of Bellingham speaks very complimentary of the bride. Relating the details of the wedding, that paper says:

"In the presence of fifty guests, Miss Edith Mabel Austin, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Hiram W. Austin, became the bride of Mr. Wilfred C. Robb, of La Grande, Ore., Sunday afternoon at 3 o'clock at the residence of the bride's parents on D street. Rev. Warren Morse, of the first Congregational church, read the service. Mendelssohn's wedding march was played by Prof. J. S. Carrick to announce the approach of the bridal couple, who stood beneath an arch of pink hawthorne, surmounted by a floral bow and arrow. The bride was charmingly gowned in ivory charmeuse, fashioned with silk lace and pearl trimmings and carried a shower bouquet of white roses. Her long veil was held in place by a dainty wreath of white lilies. The rooms were beautifully decorated with spring flowers, pink hawthorne, roses and peonies being used in delightful effect. Immediately following the ceremony, refreshments were served at small tables on the lawn. Mrs. Austin was assisted by several girl friends of the bride. After a short trip to coast cities, Mr. and Mrs. Robb will reside at La Grande, Ore. The bride's traveling costume was a smart suit of shepherd plaid with which she wore a becoming sand colored sailor hat. The out-of-town guests who attended the wedding were: Mr. and Mrs. Cyrus Edmund Lawrence, of Tacoma; Mrs. Ben Brown Martin, of Seattle; Mr. Carl Robinson, of Vancouver, B. C.; Mr. Charles Reeves and Mr. Joe Harter, of Seattle."

Mr. and Mrs. Robb will reside on First street near Jefferson.

The marriage of James O. Pucher and Jessie Smith of North Powder was one of the weddings that attracted attention in Union county this week. The ceremony was performed by Justice of the Peace Winans, Wednesday afternoon.

HIGH SCHOOL NOTES.

Last night in the high school auditorium the senior class presented its class play "Fanny and the Servant Problem" to an admiring audience. Miss Hershey, teacher of English, directed the production, and the acting not only reflected credit upon the tutor but upon the students who carried the roles. Nell Bradley carried the stellar part, maintaining the part of "Fanny" with fine skill. Other principals were Harold Newton as Martin Bennett, and Merton Westering as Lord Bantock. Each of these displayed good talent and carried their interpretations to a fine point. Although these three were the principals, there was no part of the whole cast ever so small but what met the expectations of the audience, which was exceptionally large. Vociferous applause rewarded the actors for their efforts, and probably no school function this year has been so well received as was the class play. The fruits of studious preparation, careful coaching and good talent were at all times evident. The complete cast of characters follows:
