PERSONALS.

F. L. Lilly is a business visitor in Portland for a few days.

Miss Cecile Lilly, who has been attending the O. A. C. returned home yesterday to spend the summer.

Jay Brooks, former La Grande merchant, now in Berkeley, has been in the city a few days visiting friends and transacting business matters.

Homer Leffel and Henry Proctor students at Oregon university, returned home today for their summer vacation.

Will Peare, vice president of the Oregon Association of Optometrists returned today from Portland where a meeting was held, and at which he presided.

Esteem for Landers. Pendleton, June 10.—Having filed their petitions asking for the school board to reconsider the action in accepting the resignation of Supt. J. S. Landers, nine ladies of the W. C. T. U. waited upon the board last evening to supplement the petitions with personal appeal. There was some discussion between the delegation and the board though no attempt was made to give a complete airing of the reasons for the action of the board or a full explanation of the understanding which had led to the circulation of the petitions.

The board asked for several days in which to consider the petitions and expressed a desire to have the ladies name a committee of not less than five to meet with the board, saying they wished a full and frank discussion of the situation to be had and a mutual understanding be reached.

It is probable that such a conference will be held either during the latter part of this week or early next week.

A rather dramatic incident of the meeting last evening was the appearance of Supt. Landers in the room while the discussion was going on. Within a few moments he was addressing himself to the board in vehement language, objecting to statements which members of the board had made. It was evident that he was very indignant, but a stormy scene was prevented when members of the board denied any intention of deliberately misrepresenting facts.

The delegation of ladies was composed of Mrs. G. W. Rugg, Mrs. C. S. Wheeler, Mrs. A. F. May, Mrs. W. S. Badley, Mrs. L. B. Ramsdell, Mrs. J. C. Woodworth, Mrs. E. C. Anibal, Mrs. Si Reetz and Mrs. A. Byrd. While they were officers and members of the W. C. T. U., and that organization had originally taken up the matter of the petitions, the ladies expressed themselves as feeling that they represented the citizens of Pendleton. "We have circulated these petitions in order to express our appreciation and show our esteem of Supt. Landers," Mrs. G. W. Rugg explained in her opening remarks.

Get O. A. C. Diplomas. Commencement at Corvallis this week was of unusual interest in Enterprise because seven O. A. C. graduates went to the college from this city. One of them, C. E. Oakes, no longer lives here, his home now being given as Corvallis, relates the Enterprise Chieftain. He was one of a dozen honor students among the 246 graduates, his course being electrical engineering. The other students from Enterprise included in the college's list of graduates follows: Asa P. Craig, agriculture; India Ault, Julia Marvin and Nellie Stubblefield, home economics; Irl L. Olmstead, electrical engineering; Chester A. Riley, commerce.
