

Society and Club News

There has been enough this week to satisfy the most ardent society fan. Note for instance the following: Monday evening, the U & I club held forth at the Rex auditorium. Tuesday night the big recital at the L. D. S. tabernacle drew forth large crowds. Thursday night came the Hot Lake function. Friday night the Gaiety club with a membership of some 160 held forth. Sandwiched in between these stellar functions, at which the crowds were, on the whole similar, have been the usual routine of club life and activity. Strenuous? Yes, and the coming week holds no relief. Note for instance the Snodgrass-Bay-Siegrist-Scriber-Snodgrass dancing party Monday evening, the U & I again next Friday, and copious other attractions sprinkled along to keep people going every night. Through it all the wife and daughter are crocheting Christmas presents.

Thursday evening, this week, will long be remembered by 200 people who responded to and were generously entertained as the consequence of invitations to make merry as guests of Dr. and Mrs. G. W. Tape of Hot Lake, Mr. and Mrs. G. W. Sawyer of La Grande, and Mrs. Barker-Carse, of Portland. Novelty marked the function. At 8 o'clock that evening the guests, lacking but a few in being 200 in number, boarded a special train for the scene of festivities. The guests were received into the spacious and handsomely decorated lobbies where they listened to an attractive program, after which dancing was enjoyed with genial Charles E. King, master of the piano, officiating in that capacity. Refreshments were served in the dining room during dancing, and the last light fantastic was stepped but a minute or two before the special again was made use of to carry the people home.

In receiving life were Miss Mamie Zigelman, of Portland, announcer, Dr. and Mrs. Tape, Mr. and Mrs. Sawyer, Mrs. T. R. Yeager of Seattle and Mrs. Carse. Each of the hostesses and the honor guests were handsomely gowned; in fact the party was a display of new fashionable dresses and gowns.

Consummate taste was displayed in the decoration of the main and corridors. Oregon grape, asparagus ferns, red carnations and potted plants constituted the decorative material in the main lobbies and reception rooms, while the dining room was set off with scheme of pink crepe paper and smilax.

Although it was not generally known, the affair was in the nature of a farewell to Dr. and Mrs. Tape.

After the new year breaks these two gracious personages will no longer be first man and lady at the auditorium. They go to Southern California first and expect to travel a year to rest up from the monotonous grind at the Hot Lake establishment.

The musical program preceeding the dance, was a happy blending of talent largely western. However eastern points were represented too, in the person of Ethel Hindman of Du Bois, Pa., who is a guest at the Lake

Her beautiful contralto voice was a musical inspiration. Mrs. Carse of the hostess number, was heard to splendid advantage with her violin, an instrument in which her soul is wrapped. La Grande people took prominent parts. Mrs. T. J. Seroggin, C. P. Ferrin, Mrs. A. L. Richardson, Mrs. Metzler and Mr. Hart, the last named being the well known Hilgard musician, each being heard at his best and there was a high quality of artistic ability, culture and natural gifts in every musical note rendered. The musical program of the evening follows:

Trio, Sounds from Home
Mr. Hart, flute, Mrs. Metzler, piano,
Mrs. Carse, violin.
Soprano solo, When You Come Home
..... Nieslanger
Mrs. T. J. Seroggin
Tenor solo, Song of the Soul, Breil
C. P. Ferrin
Violin solo, Cavatina Raff
Mrs. Carse
Contralto solo, Dry Those Tears ..
..... Teresa Del Riego
Miss Hindman
Soprano solo, Spring's Awakening ..
..... Sanderson
Mrs. A. L. Richardson

Very liberal arrangements have been conceded by Dr. Tape at Hot Lake for the holding of a dance during the holidays for college students who are at home during that period. The affair is in charge of local collegians who have finished school among whom a club organization is under consideration. But the dance at Hot Lake is already arranged with the exception of fixing the date, and this is a matter that will be ready for announcement in a few days.

NEW STAR WATCHED.

La Grande has special interest in a juvenile motion picture performer that is breaking into trade paper print. It is none other than Baby Jean, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Frazer. The mother of the newest star in filmdom was Virginia Wade, daughter of Mrs. Ben Wade now of Portland, but La Grande born and raised. Before her marriage to Mr. Frazer, Miss Wade made her home in La Grande and has a host of friends here still. The Frazers live at Los Angeles and their daughter Baby Jean is doing juvenile acts for the Selig company. Though scarcely over two years of age, the little tot is no

THE AVERAGE MAN KNOWS THAT A GOOD CUP OF COFFEE THIS TIME OF THE YEAR WARMS HIM UP AND MAKES HIM FEEL GOOD. THE SCIENTIST SHOWS THAT THE WARMING UP IS CAUSED BY THE INCREASED NUTRITION OF IMPROVED DIGESTION, AND STRENGTHENED MUSCULAR AND MENTAL POWER IS THE SCIENTIFIC TERM FOR FEELING GOOD.
