LAST DAY OF THE ABSENTEE

GREAT EDUCATIONAL AND ENTERTAINING FILM.

Which Has Brought Out Much Discussion and Comment.

Today is the last day for the wonderful five-part Mutual master-picture, "The Absentee," at the Arcade. The story conveyed by this wonderful piece of pictorial interpretation is one that appeals with especial power to the better class of working people.

It is a volume within itself in depicting the conditions which confront the economic world and in that particular respect is of the highest as well as the most clean in character. It is also attracting universal attention in church and society circles. It has been asserted that the originators of the "Absentee" have told a story in the allegorical picture that has the force of a biblical injunction. Remember that the "Absentee" will be presented for the last time today and this evening.—Adv.

BOY WINS PRIZES.

Eugene McGoldrick Takes Honors as Poultryman.

La Grande, Dec. 16.—(To Editor the Observer)—Having noticed that along with other prizes that Union county can boast of in the way of live stock and other exhibits at the various shows, she can be proud to say that she can again boast of having won prizes in poultry.

Eugene McGoldrick, Union county's young poultryman, has had the honor of receiving prizes at the following poultry shows: At San Francisco poultry show he won first and third prizes; at Modesto, California, two firsts, and at Salem he won two firsts, one second and one third. We think that speaks pretty well for a young poultryman.

Eugene has been making the poultry business a special study for a number of years and deserves credit for the honors he has received. He has some very fine fowls of different breeds which shows his ability in that line. Our county should be proud to own such boys. —S.

GREAT SCENE AT SHERRY'S

Presenting Theda Bara in the Intensely Dramatic "Sin"

For Thursday (today) Theda Bara will be presented at Sherry's in "Sin." "Sin" is an unusually powerful and convincing work abounding in strong dramatic climaxes, growing out of the clash of elemental human passions.

Luigi (played by William E. Shay), a woodcutter, is in love with Rosa (Theda Bara), a lovely daughter of the passionate Italian soil.

Comes to the Village Pietro, who has made some money in the United States. Rosa is introduced to the handsome Pietro. She determines to forsake Luigi and, with Pietro as her companion, taste the glories of the new country beyond the sea.

From this point on, "Sin" sweeps straight and sure to a mighty and overwhelming climax.—Adv.

Voters Come Together on One Issue.

Careful ante-election estimates have placed the proportion of voters who will trade at the La Grande Pharmacy after December at about 90 per cent. The reason is logical when it is considered that there they will find every Drug and Chemical absolutely fresh, every ounce of perfume, and all soaps, toilet and face powders, crisp and new,—and where there is not a stale piece of Rubber goods in the house.

The La Grande Pharmacy promises to be the best lighted, the handsomest and most up-to-date drug store in the city,—where one may procure anything desired in the drug or stationery line, and get it quick.

The Public Telephone service installed is in keeping with other accommodations which Mr. Adolph Newlin, the manager, has provided for to insure to customers a feeling of comfort.

Two important things to remember are that the store is located 29 1-2 steps across from Bohnenkamp's, and will remain open one minute after twelve every Saturday night. Parcels may be left for safe-keeping up to that time, ample space having been provided for same. 12-16-1t
