MAXWELL CAR ATTAINS RENOWN

The 1916 Maxwell similar to the car undergoing a remarkable test in California.

A triumph in non-stop runs has just been noted by the Maxwell people that highly pleases Bob Leighton. The test is being conducted in Los Angeles and is attracting a great deal of attention both there and elsewhere in automobile life. The details of the test are set out in a telegram to the Maxwell people at Detroit, a copy of which Mr. Leighton takes considerable pride in displaying. The message goes on to say:

Los Angeles, Calif., Dec. 28, 1915. Maxwell Motor Sales Corp., Detroit, Mich.—Beyond possibility of even a technical doubt, the Maxwell motor car is today world's endurance champion. Sanctioned and carrying A. A. A. observers day and night over Southern California roads, a stock Maxwell touring car has, since Nov. 22, earned a motor non-stop certificate of 18,325 miles and is still running. Old record, 12,404.9 miles, had stood since 1912. Conditions prohibited stop of motor for any purpose, even while car was standing still, taking on supplies. During run car also established new speed records all distances over 3,000 miles. Net gasoline average, 23 miles per gallon. Adv. Lord Motor Car Co.

Using the Expression "I Think."

A man was referred to as one who in his conversation never says "I think" so and so. The "think" is a mere euphemism. A positive, clear headed man says what he thinks without saying he thinks. Besides, when a person premises with an "I think" it weakens his assertion because thinking is by no means an assurance of truth. If one should say "I think it will rain tomorrow" the very expression carries a doubt because mere opinion is a lame matter, and the world is chock full of opinions. If, however, he should say "It will rain tomorrow" it carries some assurance even if it is, after all, an opinion. So the man referred to in the first place doesn't say "I think," for it is entirely superfluous, and he adds force and dignity to what he says in omitting it entirely. And then when one looks at the situation calmly he will conclude that "think" is much under a cloud since very few people think exactly alike. There are ten thousand instances of this character.—Ohio State Journal.

Beauty in the Mexican's Voice.

Next to the love of dress, I was most struck with the fineness of the voice and the beauty of intonations of both sexes of the Mexicans. It is a pleasure simply to listen to the sound of the language before I could attach any meaning to it. They have a good deal of the creole drawl, but it is varied, with an occasional extreme rapidity of utterance, in which they seem to skip from consonant to consonant until, lighting upon a broad open vowel, they rest upon that to restore the balance of sound. A common bullock driver delivering a message seemed to speak like an ambassador at an audience. In fact, they sometimes appeared to me to be a people on whom a curse had fallen and stripped them of every thing but their pride, their manner and their voices.—"Three Years Before the Mast," by R. H. Dana.

Curious Golf Shot.

The late lord chief justice, Lord Alverstone, being one of the judges at the Birmingham assizes, in the intervals of business had several rounds of golf on the Edgbaston links. On one of these occasions he was playing with the local professional and got rather badly bunkered at the second hole.

It was necessary, in order to get the ball out, to make it rise almost perpendicularly into the air, and for this purpose Lord Alverstone, or Sir Richard Webster, as he then was, took his niblick and made a mighty stroke. No conjurer on earth could have done a trick more neatly. The ball not only leaped into the air, but dropped as clean as a whistle into the judge's baggy right hand pocket!—London Mail.

Asphalt Paving.

Asphalt as paving is the commonest commercial use of the mineral today, and yet its successful employment in the field of road making is of comparatively recent date. The first compressed rock asphalt roadway was laid in Paris in 1854, while it was 1876 before the first similar type of road making was used on Pennsylvania avenue, in Washington.

The Luxury of Disdain.

"What is your dog's pedigree?" "He hasn't any," replied Mr. Growcher. "That's why I keep him around. I'm shy on distinguished ancestry myself, and I enjoy having a creature at hand whom I can contemplate with supercilious superiority."—Washington Star.

Reversing the Usual Order.

"Do you know, Jones does some uncommonly queer things—anything to be different from other people."

"Like what, for instance?" "Why, he's just put a mortgage on his limousine to have repairs made on his house."—Baltimore American.

Shapes.

"I purchased a lovely round oak dining table this morning," said Mrs. Hasber.

"That being the case," rejoined the star boarder, "I suppose we need expect no more square meals."—Indianapolis Star.

Thaws and Cold.

It is colder in a thaw than in a frost because when water freezes it parts with its heat to the air, which thus feels warmer. In a thaw heat is absorbed from the air.

Accommodating.

Diner—I'll have an order of chicken. Waiter—Very sorry, sir, but the chicken is out. Diner—Well, I'll wait till it returns. I'm in no hurry.—Boston Transcript.
