GREAT OCTET SUPPORTING BLANCHE SWEET IN AVENGING CONSCIENCE

MAE MARSH PROMINENT FACTOR IN MAKING "AVENGING CONSCIENCE" GREAT SUCCESS.

It is probable that no motion picture has yet been produced with such a roster of stars as "Avenging Conscience," the remarkable D. W. Griffith feature, which opens at the Arcade theater Wednesday and will run for two days.

The entire cast of "The Birth of a Nation" will be found in "Avenging Conscience," with the addition of Blanche Sweet. The octet of most notable stars is:

Blanche Sweet, Mae Marsh, Robert Harron, Josephine Crowell, Henry B. Walthall, Ralph Lewis, George Siegman, Spottiswoode Aitken.

Interest accrues especially to "Avenging Conscience" from the fact that it is the most costly picture ever exhibited in La Grande. Moreover, Mr. Griffith asserts it is a greater picture than his "The Birth of a Nation," and is his supreme achievement.

"Avenging Conscience" delves into the psychology of the mind. It is picturized from some of Poe's works and may be described as the human conscience thrown on to the screen in pictures.

Thus do scenes float from heaven to hell. Weird visions are seen. Even the visualization of a murderer's imagination that he can hear the heart of a dead man still beating is portrayed.

Never has Mr. Walthall done a more notable piece of work. His masterful characterization is set off wonderfully by the sweetness and delicacy of Miss Sweet.

All Portland raved about the picture during its showing at the Hellig theatre for one week and the audiences grew larger daily.

ROLL CALLS ARE POPULAR

ODD FELLOWS LOOK TO BIG TIME.

Letters Already Come From Afar in Way of Greeting.

Odd Fellows of La Grande and surrounding territory anticipate a big celebration next Saturday night. It is the night of their annual roll call, a plan of fraternal interest-kindling that the Odd Fellows were among the first in this vicinity to inaugurate.

La Grande Lodge No. 16, I. O. O. F. has laid its plans well. Members from afar, who cannot possibly attend in person have already sent forward their written greetings, in numbers. They have come from Illinois and other middlewestern states, and from many parts of the Northwest. Others will no doubt send greetings in the meantime.

The roll call spirit has hit most of the lodges in town. The La Grande Elks are the newest to adopt the plan which makes for revival of interest in lodge affairs to a marked degree. The Elks hold their roll call tonight.

The Modern Woodmen meet this eevning for important business. All members of the drill team are especially urged to be present.

OLD RAILROADER DEAD

William C. Schultz Passes at Portland at Advanced Age.

Word has been received in Pendleton of the death of William C. Shultz for the past five years yardmaster at Albina of the O.-W. R. & N. and one of the best known railroad men in the Pacific Northwest who died at St. Vincent's hospital in Portland at noon yesterday after an illness of 17 weeks.

Mr. Schultz was born in St. Johnsville, N. Y., June 17, 1857, and entered the railroad service as fireman on the New York Central at the age of 17. As fireman, brakeman and conductor he proved apt and in 1887 came to Oregon and joined the force of the O.-W. R. & N. Co.

With the exception of two years spent as division superintendent on the western Pacific, Mr. Schultz has been in the service of the O.-W. R. & N. for more than 25 years and in that period has served in either the construction or operating department on every mile of the entire system. His long career in the passenger service brought him a wide acquaintance all over Eastern Oregon, Washington and Idaho and he was equally well and favorably known among the new generation of railroad men and among the old timers.

His ability as a practical railroad man brought him much praise from the officials with whom he served. "No better railroad man ever came into Oregon," said a prominent operating official yesterday. "When it came to handling a train, bossing a big construction or wrecking gang, or bringing order out of chaos in a congested railroad yard, "Bill" Schults had few equals and no superiors."

In 1893 at Pendleton, Ore,. Mr. Schultz married Miss Jessie Nye, daughter of a prominent Oregon pioneer. Besides his widow and a son, Clark, aged 20, Mr. Schultz leaves the following brothers and sisters: Fred K. and Charles of New York; A. C. of Los Angeles, S. Schultz of Galesburg, Ill.; Mrs. F. M. Hicks, of Chicago, and Mrs. R. A. Linton of New York.

LA GRANDE DRUGGIST PLEASES CUSTOMERS

C. D. Putman reports customers greatly pleased with the quick action of simple buckthorn bark, glycerine, ets., as mixed in Adler-i-ka. This simple remedy drains the old foul matter from the bowels so thorough that one spoonful relieves almost any case of constipation, sour or gassy stomach. It is so powerful that it is used successfully in appendicitis. Adler-i-ka never gripes and the instant action is surprising.—Adv.

FARM WEEK DRAWS MANY

CORVALLIS HAS REMARKABLE GATHERINGS.

Women's Congress Among Features of Big Farmers' Week.

Oregon Agricultural College, Corvallis, Jan. 16.—The first of the six big days of Farmers' Week at the Oregon Agricultural College opened early Monday morning with a large number of special students, delegates to conventions, special speakers and other interested persons in attendance. Arrangements have been made by the management to have all trains reaching Corvallis met by committees who provide necessary information on matters of registration, living accommodations, and other things essential to getting quickly and properly located for work. A large number of attendants are back for the second term of Farmers' Week and were already familiar with the purposes of qualifying for admission to the exercises in which they were especially interested.

The first day's work consisted largely of a conference of good roads men called by Professor G. V. Skelton, who is in charge of this department of College Extension work. A number of road officers from counties especially noted for their excellent work in building and maintaining roads, were in attendance and contributed many valuable points. The questions considered dealt with methods of constructing and maintaining roads, with considerable emphasis laid on the question of road patrols. It was pointed out that a great deal of damage is done roads through neglect to repair slight damages before they reach disasterous proportions, and it was shown that the only successful way in which this could be done is to have the road patrolled by someone who has some knowledge of mending roads and will either repair damage himself or report it to the road supervisor in charge.

Another feature of Monday's exercises was the women's congress which convened for the first session of a six day meet. Two of the most noted home economic experts of North America, Miss Alice Ravenhill, of Vancouver Island, B. C., and Miss Anna Barows, of Boston. These experts consider the question not merely from the standpoint of food preparation, clothing and shelter but also from the more comprehensive view of the educational and social relations of the rural communities. This congress is attended by a number of delegates representing different organizations, state and local, that have been formed to deal with problems related to rural betterment. Instruction offered included not only lectures, conferences and discussions, but likewise a number of demonstrations at least one of which will be given each day during the entire week.

The Most Wonderful Endorsement Ever Given Any Product

John Philip Sousa and his famous Band have circled the globe on numerous tours and inspired millions of people in many lands with their soul-stirring, inimitable music.

Mr. Sousa has been a smoker of Tuxedo Tobacco for years. Recently, at the Panama-Pacific Exposition, a newspaper representative made the discovery that every member of Sousa's Band is also a Tuxedo smoker!

Whereupon, the following endorsement of Tuxedo was gladly given and signed by Mr. Sousa and the sixty-six members of his Band. Read it—as sure-fire and convincing as a Sousa March:

"All the vim, energy and enthusiasm we put into the playing of the 'Stars and Stripes Forever' we find in the steady use of TUXEDO." John Philip Sousa

JOHN PHILIP SOUSA
The March King

No other product has ever received such a remarkable endorsement as this.

The incomparable mildness of Tuxedo appeals to men with nerves—the fact that Tuxedo does not affect their throats or nerves. And the reason is the "Tuxedo Process", that makes Tuxedo different from all other tobaccos—positively non-biting, delightfully soothing, restful and refreshing.

Tuxedo will appeal to you for the same reasons. March at a Sousa quick-step to the nearest tobacco dealer and get a tin of Tuxedo today. Smoke pipeful after pipeful all day long, every day, for a week. Then you'll know you've found the one cheer-up-and-speed-up-without-a-let-up smoke for happy, hustling Americans—TUXEDO.

You can buy Tuxedo everywhere. Convenient, glassine wrapped, moisture-proof pouch, 5c. Famous Green Tin with gold lettering, curved to fit pocket, 10c. In Tin Humidors 40c and 80c. In Glass Humidors 50c and 90c.
