Disturbed Grange Meeting.

Baker, Ore., Jan. 6.—For the first time in the history of the county, the state law against disorderly conduct in places of public resort outside of incorporated towns, was brought into play late yesterday afternoon when Logan and Orin Hutton, brothers living in the Lower Powder section, were arrested by Constable Claude Bowman, on information furnished by Henry McKinney brought into justice court and fined $5 each, with costs amounting to $10 each, by Justice of the Peace Hubbard. The amounts were promptly paid.

The brothers were charged with using indecent and profane language at the Keating Grange hall, on the evening of December 30.

A Fall Trans-Continental.

One of the last of the motor car trans-continentalists of the year was John D. Palling of Port Richmond, N. Y., who made the trip to his home from Los Angeles in 22 days, driving a Maxwell. Shortly after Mr. Palling's car passed, heavy snow fell along the continental divide, blocking further travel.

LA GRANDE DRUGGIST PLEASES CUSTOMERS

C. D. Putman reports customers greatly pleased with the quick action of simple buckthorn bark, glycerine, etc., as mixed in Adler-i-ka. This simple remedy drains the old foul matter from the bowels so thorough that one spoonful relieves almost any case of constipation, sour or gassy stomach. It is so powerful that it is used successfully in appendicitis. Adler-i-ka never gripes and the instant action is surprising.—Adv.

JEWELRY IN ALBANY.

Hill Drug Store Goods Found by Police on Suspect.

Chief of Police Ardrey has been notified that Albany, Ore., police, while searching a suspect in that city, found considerable jewelry, of not very much value however, on the person of the suspect. The chief here was advised to take the matter up with local drug stores. He conferred with C. D. Putman, present owner of what was formerly Hill's drug store, to learn if any jewelry had been stolen in recent weeks.

Fads in Pillows.

BY MARGARET MASON.

Here is a riddle I ask you to read: (What is no cheaper, but dearer indeed when it's marked down? If you give up, perforce, This is the answer—a Pillow, of course.)
New York, Jan. 7.—Call it pillow or cushion, as you will; by any name it costs as much. Such a work of art, however, has it become that it almost seems worth it. A cushion is indeed comfy to have around one and a round one is the pink of perfection, especially when it is made of rose pink taffeta shirred on cords and caught together in the center with a cluster of French ribbon roses. A robin egg blue one with a bunch of gold fruit in the middle is also alluring, but not a round robin. A heart of gold is a heart shaped, yellow velour cushion with an edging of narrow brown fur banding and then, four fluffy chiffon ruffles, jaunty and jounded. An oblong pillow of sealskin, with deep ruffles of ecru laces at each end, caught with garlands of tiny French ribbon flowers, is something nifty for a well rounded patrician elbow to rest upon, but it's not for a red rasped crazy-bone of the hoi polloi. An oblong of black velvet with a wide, plain banding of silver gauze, four cornered, with silver tassels, makes a striking background for a goldenhead. Sort of a transfusion of metals. Wonderful and bewilderingly exotic and Oriental are the bolster cushions made of bands of galloon, Chinese embroidery, velvet, fur and beadwork. Because of their shape they are aptly dubbed Sausage Rolls. So divers and piquant are the many materials used to make up their perfect wholes that yet another sausage similarity is accomplished. These sausage roll cushions are finished, usually, with silk covered buttons at either end, or tassels of gay hued silk or gold. Lingerie pillows still are the cutups of pillowdom, with their alternate squares and stripes of filet, eyelet embroidery and art work over pale tinted satin. One distinct novelty in the lingerie class is the pillow shaped like a half moon, with a frill of real lace and a cunning little monogrammed pocket for lady's hanky, set in the riot of its lace and embroidery. The dearest pillows of all, both affectionately and intrinsically, are the oblongs and circles of dull blues, purples and blacks, with vivid baskets and clusters of hectic fruits done in yarn in their midst, and edgings of narrow and vivid yarn fringe.

If you've got the Cush you can get the Cushion.

"THEIR QUIET HONEYMOON"

Harsh Measures.—The wounded highlander in hospital was very depressed, and seemed to make no headway toward recovery. He was for ever talking about his "bonnie Scotland," and the idea occurred to the doctor that a Scotch piper might rouse his spirits.

After some hunting around a piper was found, and it was arranged that he should present himself outside the hospital that night, and pour forth all the gems of Scottish music the pipes were capable of interpreting. This he did.

When the astute doctor turned up the next morning the eagerly asked the matron:

"Did the piper turn up?"
"He did," replied the matron.
"And how's our Scotch patient?"
"Oh, he's fine; I haver saw such a change," said the matron.
"That's grand. It was a fine idea of mine to get that piper," said the delighted doctor.
"Yes," said the matron, sadly; "but the other thirty patients have all had a serious relapse."—Tit-Bits.

Considerate.—"Would you like some views of the hotel to send to your friends?"

"Sir," said the disgruntled guest, "I presume it will be better for me to keep my views to myself."—Louisville Courier-Journal.

Col. Roosevelt will remain in the limelight as long as he can come across with words that nobody ever heard of before.
