

Secure Relief From Grippe and Cold

This is the time of the year when cold and la grippe are very prevalent. A cold contracted now, and neglected, is very liable to "hang on" and by weakening the system lead to the development of a serious illness.

wedding breakfast was served to only the relatives of the participating couple.

It was not until evening, however, that the wedding day took a truly public nature, for at the home of the groom's parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Foley, esteemed pioneers, the latch string was turned out and scores of intimate friends and acquaintances called to voice greetings and best wishes. The informal affair continued until the midnight hour when by a clever ruse Mr. and Mrs. Foley boarded a diner waiting in the yards to be picked up by No. 19, and got out for Portland without the proverbial showers of rice from the crowd of several dozen which waited patiently at the depot for the couple to make their appearance.

The Foley home was extremely attractive and inviting. Once more green carnations and smilax predominated in the way of decorations. An orchestra played, and for several hours neighbors, friends and acquaintances filed in informally to be received by the bride party.

At the reception the bride wore a stunning creation of Nile green pussy willow taffeta, trimmed in silver lace and at this function the bridesmaid was handsomely gowned in flame taffeta.

The wedding trip which the young folks have already commenced will be a pretentious one. They go first to California points, then to Salt Lake, Chicago, Scranton—the bride's former home where they will spend some little time—then to New York, and finally south to Jacksonville, Florida, thence westward and home again by the Southern route. Fully six weeks, it is expected, will be required for the trip. Mr. Foley, will of course, continue as manager of the Foley hotel, which business he has been engaged in for a number of years.

The wedding keeps in La Grande a charming young lady who has knitted to herself a circle of many friends during her short stay in the west. Accomplished musician as she is, cultured and refined, she becomes one of La Grande's favorite mesdames.

Today is installation day for G. A. R. officers. Beginning before noon the two patriotic orders kept themselves busy all day enjoying dinner and going through the ritualistic part. The distinction of having a past national president install the W. R. C. was enjoyed when Mrs. Cora M. Days of Union took charge of that work. Chas. Gore installed the G. R. R. members. At the proper time a program was carried out today. This included, as originally planned, a piano solo by Abbie Green; recitation by Gertrude Breiling; vocal solo by Mary Fitzgerald; recitation by Clara Gore; vocal solo by Mrs. Helena Williamson; reading by Mrs. Nell Harvey; piano solo by Mrs. W. A. Winters; song, "America"; presentation of flowers and souvenirs to Mrs. Davis by Mrs. Morgan in behalf of the corps; response and good of the order, Mrs. Davis and Comrade Faulk. Assisting Mrs. Davis was conductor Nell Harvey and Mrs. Helena Williamson as musician.

The list of the officers installed in the chairs for the G. A. R. were:

Fashionable church weddings are rather rare in La Grande, hence a great deal of interest was attached to the wedding of Mercedes Horan, daughter of Mrs. Ellen Horan, now of this city but until a year or so ago a resident of Scranton, Pa., to P. A. (Pat) Foley in Our Lady of the Valley church last Wednesday morning. The ceremony was performed by Rev. Father J. P. Driscoll, who was assisted by Rev. Father Brady, of Juntura. During the bridal mass—a solemn ceremony of the Catholic church—the bride was given away at the foot of the altar by her brother, John A. Horan. Miss Horan was accompanied by Miss Etta Foley, sister of the groom, as bridesmaid, while Jerome Foley of Walla Walla stood up with his brother.

For the wedding, the bride wore a rich and beautiful traveling suit of brown broadcloth and she wore an attractive white velvet toque. Her bridesmaid was dressed in gray broadcloth and wore a black picture hat with yellow plumes.

Our Lady of the Valley church thus saw its first matrimonial ceremony. For the occasion the beautiful new edifice was very prettily adorned with beautiful flowers, especially the altar which was well banked with green carnations and smilax. Preliminary to the saying of the bridal mass, the wedding music was rendered by Mrs. Metzler at the organ and Prof. Haines, violin. The church ceremonial ended, a

Mrs. Mossman and Mrs. Honeyman are meeting with great success in their lectures on art in other cities. The La Grande ladies were freely praised at Baker, when the Herald had this to say of the lecturers:

Several hundred Baker school children gathered yesterday afternoon at the public library to hear an address by Mrs. E. F. Mossman on the subject of "Humanity and Art." The speaker illustrated her lecture with colored slides, it being a very instructive and beneficial afternoon for the children. Of that address a competent Baker critic said:

"Splendid meeting we had yesterday afternoon at the children's art lecture. It was so very helpful and entertaining and so unusual I feel that most of those present will always remember the pictures and talk. Mrs. Mossman was most happy in her way of dealing with the children and we are all deeply appreciative of her kindness in giving the lecture. What an uplift there is in the study of pictures, as some one so aptly says: 'The best pictures are almost always a safe guide-board pointing the way to a Palace Beautiful whose windows look out towards the delectable mountains.' I wish you both continued success."
