TUESDAY QUIET IN BIG YARD

MEATS OF ALL KINDS SHOW LITTLE ACTION.

Slight Advance Made Monday in Pork but Otherwise Little Change.

Portland, Jan. 19.—Yesterday's livestock market was a dull affair. There was nothing doing until shortly before noon, and then only two sales of hogs were made. These were lacking in quality, and did not command top prices. The market was reported as steady throughout.

Late Monday afternoon hogs scored a further advance of 5 cents, making the jump for the day 35 cents and placing the top at $7.25. The market was the third highest in the United States. St. Louis led, with Chicago second and Portland third. Kansas City and Omaha were tied for fourth, and Denver was at the bottom of the list with 7 cents as top. Seattle, which has been proclaiming a higher market daily than Portland, failed to get in the swim on its direct bought stuff yesterday, and with a top of $7.25 here their quotation was $7.15.

Are Boy Babies Increasing?

London, Jan. 12.—(By Mail) Is war responsible for a greater and increasing proportion of boy babies? This question is engaging the attention of British medical authorities following the registrar-General's report that all records for boy babies born in 36 large towns in England and Wales have been broken during the last nine months.

As against 1000 female births, 1,032 boys were born in January and March; 1,043 in April and June and 1,055 in July and August and September. Advance records indicate that the ratio will be even greater from October to January, 1916. A theory that some natural law, yet undiscovered, lends to the birth of more boys than girls during a nation's war stress is partially borne out by reports from Austria, where male births have exceeded female births during the war, to an even greater extent than in England.

Professor W. D. Halliburton, Dean of Medicine at King's college, London, discussing the subject, declared today that there is no scientific theory to justify the belief.
"The fact is there," he stated. "We must look upon it as a wise dispensation of Providence. One popular explanation is that the anxiety or privation of the mother during the pre-natal period has some influence on determining the sex of her child. But no scientific explanation warrants such an idea." Professor Arthur Dendy of the Zoological and Animal Biological faculty, King's College declared that prevailing birth conditions could not be attributed to mere coincidence. He was unable to explain further.

Official reports made public by the Registrar-General also said that the marriage rate for England and Wales during the last three months was the highest in history—21.8 persons per 1,000.
