high school in honor of the girls entertaining this semester. Sixty young ladies were present and the evening was spent in a most delightful way. It was in the nature of a valentine affair. Refreshments appropriate to the occasion were served.

One of the leading social affairs of the week was a card party at the home of Mr. and Mrs. George Palmer, Thursday evening at which Miss Marjory Claycomb of Broadhead, Wis., was the complimented guest. Guests for 18 tables were present to meet the Badger state citizen, and cards were played. The beautiful home was artistically touched off with red carnation bouquets.

Honors at cards went to Miss Stella Oliver and Mrs. Joseph Ingle, among the ladies present, and, among the high men score, H. E. Dixon and Leo French were leaders. Among the out of town guests aside from Miss Claycomb, were Mrs. Putman of Broadhead and Miss Richardson. The Broadhead family is spending the winter in the city with Mr. and Mrs. Palmer, Mr. and Mrs. G. M. Byrket and Richard Claycomb.

House dances are becoming extremely popular. One of the most delightful of the winter season of that sort was enjoyed last evening when Dr. and Mrs. G. L. Biggers were charming hosts to a dozen or so neighborhood couples at a house dancing party at their spacious home, 1508 First street. Dancing was indulged in on the commodious floor until a late hour. Light refreshments were served, and it was, in every way, a very pleasing event.

After a short visit here and in Wallowa county Mr. Grandy will proceed to College Place, Wash., where the Union Conference of the North Pacific states is to be held February 17-25.

ADDITIONAL LOCAL.

Prof. Ferdinand J. Neubauer, former teacher of science in the La Grande high school, is now connected with the Lick Observatory. The attention of that institution was centered in Prof.

Neubauer by reason of his accurate work in plating the tail of the Taylor comet, which was the object of much scientific interest last year. This led to a permanent place with the institution.

"Grandma" Munra, who is now 85 years old, is reported to be critically ill at Eugene. The cause of her trouble is a fall from a folding chair which collapsed and the venerable lady's head was injured in the fall. "Grandma" Munra is known to practically everybody in the northwest. For a long time she conducted the log cabin eating station at Meacham, and her services in behalf of the traveling public have been recognized in the way of annual passes over all the lines of the Harriman system.

That the Hawaiian company, booked for the Y. M. C. A. Monday evening, will bring a line of music to La Grande which is universally liked, is attested to by compliments showered on the company where ever they have been. The young men of the Y. M. C. A. are boosting for the show as the proceeds go to gymnasium apparatus fund. They will well warrant patronage, that much is sure.

To The Public.

Owing to the provisions of the prohibition law being so complicated and especially with reference to the sale of alcohol by druggists and owing to the fact that any person may come in and sign the affidavit that it is for mechanical use only and then go to a wood shed and drink a cup full of it and thus put the druggist to continual expense and annoyance to show that his intentions were right, we have decided to sell alcohol on physicians' prescriptions, only.
