For a novel entertainment and one that tested the training of a Domestic Science class of the La Grande high school, Mrs. Fred Schilke deserves especial credit. Sixteen invited guests attended a noon day luncheon in the High School dining room Tuesday at Mrs. Schilke's invitation. The Domestic Science girls were in charge and seated the guests at a daintily decorated table fitted with fancy place cards and menu. A three course dinner was served as follows.

Roast Pork	Brown Gravy
Potatoes Peas	Asparagus Tips
Hot Rolls	Relish
Lemon Cream and Cake	Coffee

Not only was the cooking far beyond criticism but the service was perfect. After the last course had been served Mrs. Schilke asked all present to guess on the cost of the luncheon per plate. While this question at first seemed annoying, as custom prevents "looking a gift horse in the mouth" as one Corvallis lady suggested, yet this was insisted upon as a part of the entertainment. The object of the request was plain, for the luncheon was a lesson for the Domestic Science girls as a demonstration to the guests that the public money spent for such training in the schools is well spent. There was a wide range of guesses, only two members of the party hitting the correct amount which was 35 cents per plate.

The guests present were: Miss Anna Turley, professor of domestic science of extension course O. A. C.; Mrs. Alice Dolman, assistant professor of Domestic Science at the Corvallis college O. A. C.; Mrs. Brooks, professor of domestic art O. A. C.; Mrs. Lowe of Ontario; vice president of mothers Congress of southeastern Oregon; Superintendent Girdler; Mrs. E. Polack, chairman domestic science of Neighborhood Club; Mrs. George Gilbert, president Neighborhood club; Mrs. George Cochran, Chairman of College Extension committee of Neighborhood club; Mrs. A. E. Ivanhoe, county school superintendent; Mrs. A. L. Richardson, chairman Eugenics committee of the extension work; George Cochran; Prof. and Mrs. Olson and Mr. and Mrs. Bruce Dennis.

The Domestic Science class that had complete supervision of the occasion, permitting not even Mrs. Schilke to know the menu or the table decorations before the luncheon was served, includes Misses Stella Bodmer, Marguerite Winters, May Day, Helen Poston, Violet Rust, Anna May Warren, Eunice Bolton, Phyllis Mayers, Grace Thompson, Miss Belle Edwards, teacher of Domestic Science in the La Grande Schools, directed the class in the undertaking, but did not partake in the work of cooking or table decorations.

The class was asked to furnish a good luncheon with a fifty cent per plate limit and the result was an excellent noon day meal for thirty five cents per plate.

It is interesting to know that eighty-five pupils from the 7th and 8th grades and forty pupils from the high school are taking the Domestic science course.

Invitations are out for the annual charity ball to be given next Wednesday evening at Rex hall by the Wednesday Bridge club. This event had been previously announced for an earlier date, but was postponed until the coming week. Plans are laid for a formal party. Tickets will be $2.50 each and the proceeds are to be given to associated charities of La Grande. It is intimated that there will be no sales conducted at the party as there was last year. Those who stand sponsors for the function, which promises to be the most formal and elaborate of any in the year, include: Dr. and Mrs. M. K. Hall, Mr. and Mrs. T. J. Scroggin, Mr. and Mrs. George T. Cochran, Mr. and Mrs. J. J. Carr, Mr. and Mrs. E. E. Bragg, Mr. and Mrs. W. Logan, Mr. and Mrs. A. V. Andrews, Mr. and Mrs. G. L. Harrison, Mr. and Mrs. E. E. Kirtley, Mr. and Mrs. F. L. Lilly, Mr. and Mrs. A. Wenzel and Mr. and Mrs. Jay Van Buren.

Although the program was cut short, and several numbers that promised to be unusually fine were not heard, on that account, the music end of the Farmers' and Homemakers' conference the week past was a tribute and a credit not only to the performers but to the city's musical talent. Visiting conference workers spoke highly of the talent displayed during the time the program was under way. In this connection Mrs. A. L. Richardson, chairman of the music committee for the week, has issued a statement "Thanking all those who participated so cheerfully and willingly to the musical program for Farmers' and Homemakers' week."

On Art Day, Monday, Feb. 7th, at 2 p. m. the following program will be given at the Neighborhood club rooms:

Russian, Hungarian and Scandinavian art—Mrs. O. E. Silverthorn, Mrs. E. E. Kiddle and Miss Margaret Anson.

A rare treat has been arranged for the club members at this meeting. A number of slides will be used and the pictures of at least forty noted artists will be shown on the screen during the afternoon. Every member should notice the date and be sure and be present if possible.

A personal letter from W. T. Wright Thursday finds him and Mrs. Wright in San Francisco, says the Republican. They attended the inaugural services of the new president of Stanford University, and Saturday of this week Wright to a Kentucky lady at the Palace hotel. Mr. and Mrs. Wright have not decided between a trip to Honolulu or San Diego.

Wives of ministers who belong to the Ministerial Association, had a delightful gathering this week at the home of one of the members, Mrs. J. H. Lumper in North La Grande. The afternoon was spent in a social way and Mrs. Lumper served refreshments.

The Noisy club, composed of young boys in West La Grande, met last evening with Master Sam Cochran. The usual games, followed by refreshments made up the evening's entertainment.

It is probable that the Eugenics tests planned for this week will be held sometime close to the date of the National Baby week which is set down for March 4th.

February 17 is the anniversary of the founding of the National Congress of Mothers, and Child Welfare day. It is likely the Flag day sales will be conducted here about that time.

CARD CLUB NEWS.

The Friday Night Flinch & Pit club had its turn at the games Saturday night, Jan. 29th instead of the usual Friday night at B. A. Benham's, the change being made to celebrate Mrs. Benham's birthday. There were the usual number of members out—24. All full of fun and ready for good time. There was a lunch served and before the club left presented Mrs. Benham with a cut glass dish and silver gravy ladle to help her remember the occasion.

One of the week's really enjoyable affairs came Wednesday night when in the face of a snow storm and blizzard such as few recall, members of the Wednesday Bridge club were mobilized with bobsleighs at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Ray W. Logan, Mr. and Mrs. A. V. Andrews, assistant hosts. Cards were played and honors went to Mrs. F. L. Lilly and Ellis Kirtley. The guests were returned to their homes the way they were assembled—by the bobsleigh route, with much sport.

Mrs. Lee Bellenger was hostess to the F. A. F. club Friday afternoon at her home on O avenue. Honors at cards went to Mrs. J. F. O'Connell, first, and Mrs. Leland Hanford second. A delicious luncheon was served by the hostess, assisted by two young friends.

The afternoon section of the Sans Souci was entertained this week by Mrs. D. M. Clark in a pleasing manner. At Auction Bridge, Mrs. W. H. Bohnenkamp won high score.

WEDDINGS AND ENGAGEMENTS.

February 4th Howard Metler, a prominent rancher who lives near Elgin, was married by Rev. J. J. Tichner of the Baptist church to Miss Pearl Gray, a sister of Mrs. Bert Gillman of this city. The wedding was a quiet, simple one, and was performed at the parsonage of the Baptist church, in which the bride is a conspicuous worker. She was raised near Elgin. The young couple will go to their future home as sons and transportation facilities are provided. They have the well-wishes of a large circle of friends that extends from Elgin to La Grande.

CONCERT MONDAY NIGHT

It is always refreshing to announce something that one is certain is right and up to the standard claimed for it. Such is the case of the Hallowell Concert Company which company comes to the Elks auditorium Monday evening with a concert. After the concert the Elks will dance until 1 o'clock, the visiting orchestra furnishing the music.

The Hallowell Concert Company, of Chicago, is considered by all who have heard them to be the leading ten-piece concert company in America. The individuals of this company have all appeared with such organizations as the Thomas and Minneapolis Symphony orchestras, Pryor's Sousa's Conway's and Kroy's bands. The singer, who is a student of Oscar Sanger, of New York, also has starred in the Madams Butterfly grand opera company. He sings either in German, Italian or English. He has a rich baritone voice with lots of resonance.

Press comments are invariably flattering, concerning these people. Here are some:

The Hallowell Concert Company, which appeared at the Palace Theatre last evening, before a large and appreciative audience, was considered one of the very best musical companies.—Chicago (Ill) Record-Herald.

Capacity house for Civic Club. Hallowell Concert Company, of Chicago affords a fine program and one that is appreciated by all.—Great Falls (Mont.) Leader.

The Hallowell Concert Company gave the music-lovers of Norfolk a rare treat last night, under the auspices of the B. P. O. E. The company is an organization of artists of high class. It was almost unanimously conceded to be the best musical company ever heard here, and the management received many requests to try to secure the company for a return engagement. We heartily recommend them to all.

B. C. GENTLE, Exalted Ruler, Devil's Lake, N. D. Dec. 13.—The Hallowell company pleases the audience. The Hallowell Concert Company, heralded as they were as one of the leading concert companies in America, had a high reputation to sustain last evening, and they did not disappoint the hopes of even the most sanguine.—Journal.

Having heard the Hallowell Concert Company, I feel it due the patrons of good entertainments that they be advised of the quality of work rendered by these artists. Every member of the company is a soloist of the first rank, and the ensemble work is above comparison. No other organization of its size has ever been heard on the American continent that can be mentioned in the same breath.

Yours truly, GAVIN SPENCE, Late of the Scottish entertainers, Edmonton, Canada.

There are 10 pieces in the company, and aside from stringed instruments, which by the way embraces a harp, the troupe features John Wentzel, the famous baritone. The company is stronger than when it was here last time.

ORCHARD CASE SETTLED.

Court Finds for Plaintiff in Monroe-Cleaver Litigation.

Circuit Judge J. W. Knowles has handed down a decision in the case of Mrs. E. B. Monroe against George L. Cleaver. The plaintiff is awarded the decision. The plaintiff claimed that fraud had been used in the sale to her of some orchard land near Imbler, for which about $1500 had been paid and on the balance of which a mortgage was given. The court orders this mortgage cancelled.

LULU GLASER AT ARCADE

Famous Musical Comedy Star Appears at the Arcade

Hundreds of theatre goers who have laughed at charming Lulu Glaser in her many successes on the legitimate stage and who have been delighted with her dainty manners will welcome her to the field of silent drama in the Broadway Universal Feature, "Love's Pilgrimage to America," a five-reel comedy-drama, adapted by M. B. Harvey from the original story by Captain Peacocke.

None of the charm of the greatest comedienne on the stage has been lost on the screen, in fact, she will make a great hit than ever in her new and clever vehicle. The comedy is a charming travesty depicting the trials and tribulations of a loving couple that would not be separated through adversity. The situations are exceedingly funny, giving Miss Glaser full scope to display her talents for refined comedy. The story:

Lulu is the daughter of an English bishop and she loves and is loved by Tom, nephew of the Duke of Bilgewater. Now nothing stands in the way of this pretty and innocent little love affair—save the fact that their respective father and uncle are deadly enemies. The bishop has no use for the arrogant duke, while his grace thinks the bishop's sermons are very poor.

Lulu and Tom, after a long chat one afternoon, decided to go home and tell their folks that they have become engaged. They expect a little opposition, but bravely hope to overcome it and make things right. Now, on this very day the duke and the bishop have met and quarreled, and neither one is in very good humor.

Moving picture fans have a great treat in store for them when they see Lulu Glaser, for no expense has been spared in preparation for her debut in the silent drama. She has been surrounded by an excellent company, which includes Tom Richards, Joe Birard and an ably balanced supporting cast which took weeks to select.

This is what Miss Glaser has to say of her role in "Love's Pilgrimage to America":

"Not in all the happy years that I have spent before the public have I ever enjoyed a role as much as I do Lulu in 'Love's Pilgrimage to America'."

I know just how she felt when her irate father tried to separate her from the man she loved. I suffer every pang she suffered and laugh at all her joys. It is one of the most interesting parts I have ever played." At the Arcade Saturday and Sunday
