CARRIES MAIL ON HORSEBACK

STARKEY HAS THREE AND A HALF FEET OF SNOW.

Heaviest Fall Known in that Section in Twenty Years.

Starkey, Feb. 4.—(Special)—B. P. Burnett and daughter, Florence, went to La Grande last Tuesday.

Fred Holka and Mrs. K. E. Burnett are also snow bound and cannot get through the snow on the Russel grade. The snow is about three and a half feet on the level. Old timers say there is more snow on the ground now than at any time in twenty years.

A. B. Burnett, our stage driver, was three and a half hours late last Tuesday. He was detained by the heavy snow on the grade between here and Hilgard. He will take the mail tomorrow on horseback.

A. J. Sullivan is on the sick list this week.

Our school is progressing nicely, considering the distance some of our little children have to go through the deep snow and cold.

ENGLAND NEEDS RELIGION

Admiral Declares Revival Will Help in War Cause

Liverpool, England, Jan. 28.—Vice Admiral Sir David Beatty, Commander of the first British cruiser squadron, whose ships defeated the Germans in the North Sea, has made a stirring appeal for a great religious revival in England as a necessary step to victory in the war. In a letter read at the Society for the Propagation of Christian Knowledge he writes:

"Surely Almighty God does not intend this war to be just a hideous fracas or a bloody drunken orgy. There must be a purpose in it; improvement must come of it.

"In what direction? France has already shown us the way and has risen out of her ruined cities with a revival of religion that is wonderful. Russia has been welded into a whole and religion plays a part. England still remains to be taken out of the stupor of self-satisfaction and complacency into which her flourishing condition has steeped her. Until she can be stirred out of this condition, until a religious revival takes place, just so long will the war continue.

"When she can look on the future with humbler eyes and a prayer on her lips, then we can begin to count the days toward the end. Your society is helping to this end and so is helping to bring the war to a successful end."

STORY OF A WEATHER VANE.

Why a Grasshopper Tops the Royal Exchange in London.

If you ever go to London among the places of interest there you will visit the public buildings known as the Royal Exchange. There is a cupola at the top of that building. Rising from that cupola is an iron rod with a huge grasshopper on it for a weather vane. And there is an interesting story connected with that grasshopper. It is this: One day, more than 300 years ago, a mother in England had an infant, a few months old, which she wanted to get rid of. So she wrapped it up in a shawl and laid it down under a bush in a field and left it there to die unless some one should find it and take care of it.

Shortly after a little boy was coming home from school. As he passed by the place he heard a grasshopper chirping in the field. He stopped a moment to listen to it. Then he climbed over the fence to get it. But just as he was about to catch it he caught sight of the baby close by. He let the grasshopper go and, taking the baby in his arms, carried it home to his mother. She took charge of the baby and brought him up. He turned out to be a good, pious boy. He was always decided in doing what he knew was right and in not doing what was wrong.

When a young man he went to London and entered into business there. He was successful in business and became rich. He was not only rich, but great. He was knighted and is well known in English history as Sir Thomas Gresham. The Royal Exchange was built in honor of him. And he had the grasshopper put as a weather vane on the top of it in memory of the wonderful way in which when an infant his life was saved by the good providence of God.—Richard Newton in Bible Models.

THEY PUZZLED HUXLEY.

Terms In Which He Found It Difficult to Define His Belief.

Huxley once wondered whether he was a deist, an atheist, an agnostic, a pantheist, a materialist or a skeptic, an idealist, a Christian, an infidel or a freethinker. And the more he reflected the deeper his problem. What answer will any one make? Dr. James C. Fernald in his work "Synonyms and Antonyms" defines each according to his own belief, as follows:

"The deist admits the existence of God, but denies that the Christian Scriptures are a revelation from Him. The atheist denies that there is a God. The agnostic denies either that we do know or that we can know whether there is a God. The skeptic doubts divine revelation.

"The infidel is an opprobrious term that might once almost have been said to be geographical in its range. The crusaders called all Mohammedans infidels and were so called by them in return. The word is commonly applied to any decided opponent of an accepted religion.

"A freethinker is inclined or addicted to free thinking, especially one who rejects authority or inspiration in religion. A materialist takes interest only in the material or bodily necessities and comforts of life. A pantheist accepts the doctrine of pantheism. An idealist idealizes or seeks an ideal or ideal conditions. A Christian is one whose profession and life conform to the teaching and example of Christ.

"Pantheism is the doctrine that God and the universe are identical. It contrasts with atheism as the positive denial and with agnosticism as the dogmatic doubt of the existence of God. It opposes that form of deism which denies the divine immanence and separates God from the world."

Keeping a Lamp Clean.

Once in two months I separate the wicks from the burners and boil them in soda water. In about ten or fifteen minutes I take them out and clean them with an old toothbrush, rinse and dry. I lay the wicks straight to keep their shape. They will be white and pliable. Then fill the lamps with suds (not too hot) and let stand awhile until all discolorings have vanished. Drain, wipe out and refill with kerosene, adding a teaspoonful of salt to each lamp. Lamps treated this way give a beautiful bright light and there is no fear of an explosion.—Boston Post.

Sing Different Songs.

"Pa, you sing bass in the choir, don't you?" asked Bobby Smithers.
"Yes, my son," replied Smithers.
"And ma sings soprano?"
"That's right."
"Well, there's one thing I don't understand."
"What is it?"
"Mrs. Tompkins says you sing mighty big in public and mighty small at home."—Philadelphia Ledger.

The New Chauffeur Era.

Old Gentleman (engaging new chauffeur)—I suppose I can write to your last employer for your character? Chauffeur—I am sorry to say, sir, each of the last two gentlemen I have been with died in my service.—London Punch.

Good Reason.

"My pillow is awfully hard," remarked the star boarder.

"They're stuffed with feathers from a tailor's goose," explained the confirmed idiot as he helped himself to another prune.—Philadelphia Ledger.

Brown—Back to town again? I thought you were a farmer. Green—You made the same mistake I did.—Judge.

SUCKED RATTLESNAKE WOUND

Keeper of Bronx Zoo is Given "First Aid"

New York, Feb. 4.—A rattlesnake bit John Toomey's right hand when Toomey was cleaning a cage in the reptile house of the Bronx Zoo yesterday. Head Keeper Charles Snyder, nearby, almost immediately sucked Toomey's wound; a very risky proceeding, had Snyder, by chance, even a small cut on his lips or in his mouth. Then a toxin against rattlesnake poison was given to Toomey, the wound was cauterized and he was taken to the German hospital for observation and to receive any further treatment.

Toomey, who lives at One Hundred and Seventy-eight Street and Southern Boulevard, has been employed by the park department fifteen years. Thanks to the prompt "first aid" given him it is expected he will recover quickly.

RICH MAN A BEGGAR

When His Scheme is Discovered He is Sent to Jail

New York, Feb. 4.—It was brought out before Magistrate Reynolds in Adams Street Court, Brooklyn, yesterday that Aleck Azarwick, who was arrested a few nights ago for begging on the streets, was the owner of considerable property in Pennsylvania, had adopted begging as a profession and only came to New York when he wanted to add to his bank account.

His thirteen-year-old son Leo, who was arrested with him and who made he older man's appeals pitiful, said they took in normally $5 to $7 a day and on Saturday from $10 to $15.

The elder Azarwick was sent to a prison, where he will be obliged to do some real work for thirty days. The lad was sent back home.
