NEW DIRECTORY SOON
Home Independent Co. To Issue New Book

Did you ever stop to think that the Telephone directory is the business and social map of the city. If your name is not in it you are practically isolated from your friends and fellow citizens.

We are about to issue a New Directory and wish to request all our Subscribers to notify us at once of any change they may wish to make in their names or addresses. To non-subscribers we would like to point out a few of the many reasons why they should at once have a telephone installed. It puts you in immediate and close touch with all your friends, it places at your disposal the best service of all the leading business men in town; in sickness it may save a dear ones life, and it is a protection against loss from fire and burglars, and all this can be had for the trifling sum of 5c per day. If you have a phone you know what a comfort and help it has been to you in the last few days, if you haven't one you have our sincere sympathies. Come and see us regarding the installing of a phone and get your name in the New Directory.

ACTION, SAYS STAR, IS LIFE OF PICTURES

BY HELEN HOLMES.
The motto of today is action. To one in the vortex of a thrill-filled motion picture career this fact comes with compelling force. Mediocre plots and aimless stories have given way to virile stories carrying heart-stirring "punches." These latter require somewhat of mental mechanics on the part of the scenario writer, great skill on the part of the producer and limitless energy and daring on the part of the actor.
There is a certain witchery about doing daring things, that become part of one's being and urge one onward to new endeavors, new stunts and new risks in the exciting race for thrills. However thrills must not be put into pictures merely because they are thrills. Rather there should be a definite, and logical reason, the actual dare-devil stunts being woven together with a tense dramatic story.
In "The Girl and the Game" (appearing at the Arcade theatre), there is the most gripping succession of thrills I have ever seen in motion pictures, and that is stying much, for many daring things have been accomplished.
This new screen novel in chapters, is, to my mind, "the thrill continuous." And, too, the dramatic situations are threaded with an unusual tenseness, revealed in the story's unfolding in a manner both orderly and logical, and it is because there is a reason for them, that they mean so much and stir one's heart to the full.
For instance, in the first chapter of "The Girl and the Game," I am compelled to jump my horse "Rocket" into a river from a bridge that has just been opened. I do not know that any other leading woman has ever attempted such a feat.
It is something in which the element of personal risk is very great, but this is one of the demands upon a leading woman that must be met, and met without losing sympathy or that air of femininity of which we are all so proud.
But by that I do not mean the frail side of woman. I mean the heroic side—deeds of valor based upon the highest ideals. Mr. Frank Hamilton Spearman, author of "The Girl and the Game," certainly is the possessor of a wondrously inventive imagination, proved not only by this story, but by his previous writing.
In the past I have found it inconvenient to have an author's imagination tempered by the fear of possible injury to me. And in making this statement I do not believe I am any braver or more courageous than some other women on the screen, only I realize keenly how insistent the public is for thrills and especially thrills in which a woman is the pivotal figure.
It is because of this realization that in framing the scenario from Mr. Spearman's story that I have made the thrills cascade throughout the chapters with a disregard to personal risk that is predicated neither on bravado or a great courage, but to meet the public demand that the heroine "live" the part and be all that the scenario makes her.
