CARLYLE AND HIS WIFE.

A Glimpse of the Ill Assorted Couple and Their Home Life.

It is certain that the Carlyles were an ill assorted couple. She considered from the beginning that to marry him was an act of condescension on her part. The daughter of a country doctor of Haddington had descended from the skies, like Diana to Endymion, to marry the son of a stonemason. . . . But he loved her and was happy in his love.

Not so she. Jealous of him as she was—furious jealousy—not as a lover, for there she knew she was safe. But she could not bear to think that if she were famous it was as his wife, whereas she, knowing herself to be brilliant, would fain have had him to be known as the husband of that wonderful Mrs. Carlyle. It was his success, social and literary, that she resented. It irked her to be in the second place, and she could not forgive it. . . .

There was something else of which the lady was jealous, and that was the agony of concentration which her husband's work meant for him. At moments her "saeva indignatio" against "that Carlyle," as she would contemptuously call him, passed all bounds.

One day my aunt went to call upon her and found her in one of her tantrums. "What was the matter?" she asked. "Oh, my dear, it's just that Carlyle! Would you believe it, I have had a headache for three days, and he's only just found it out. 'I'm afraid you're not quite well, my dear,' he said, and all the time he has been working, working! I just threw a teacup at his head."—Lord Redesdale's Recollections.

Real Bigness.

A Yankee clinched his argument with an Englishman as to the relative size of the Thames and the Mississippi rivers by saying:

"Why, look here, mister, there ain't enough water in the whole of the Thames to make a gargle for the mouth of the Mississippi!"—Exchange.

Ring up the Curtain.

Fashions in plays change as well as the fashions in the time of ring up the curtain. At the time of the restoration in England the curtain rose at 4 o'clock in the afternoon, and Garrick in 1741 rang up his curtain at 4. By 1824 the hour had become 6 and twelve years later 7 o'clock.

Landed on Her Feet.

Wife (during the spat)—I must have been a fool when I married you. Hub.—Undoubtedly. But the old adage stood by you—"A fool for luck."—Boston Transcript.

Rev. James Withycomb Brouger, who is quite well known in La Grande, has received a call from Los Angeles to the pastorate of the First Baptist church of Chicago.

GOOD NEWS.

Many La Grande Readers Have Heard It and Profited Thereby.

"Good news travels fast," and the many bad back sufferers in La Grande are glad to learn where relief may be found. Many a lame, weak and aching back is bad no more, thanks to Doan's Kidney Pills. Our citizens are telling the good news of their experience with this tested remedy. Here is an example worth reading: Mrs. M. Pike, 101 Greenwood St., La Grande, says: "One of our family had weak kidneys and the result was backache. The patient found it very hard to straighten after stooping, and on doing so, sharp twinges darted through the back. After using Doan's Kidney Pills a short time, the patient was greatly relieved." Over a year later, Mrs. Pike said: "We are still enthusiastic in praise of Doan's Kidney Pills. We still use them with good results." Price 50c, at all dealers. Don't simply ask for kidney remedy—get Doan's Kidney Pills—the same that Mrs. Pike has twice publicly recommended. Foster-Milburn Co., Props., Buffalo, N. Y.
