FILM APPEAL STIRS SOUL

MARVELOUS PRODUCTION AT ARCADE HYPNOTIZES.

Story of Shocking Defenselessness Driven Home on Screen.

If you are weak in your patriotism; if you have no thrills of joy when Old Glory waves; if you feel a murky security because of America's isolation; if your valor will not stir at the sight of nation's defenders, of home defenders, of wife and daughter defenders, it will be little use for you to see the Battle Cry of Peace at the Arcade Theatre.

But if you have red blood in your veins; if you believe the United States of America is the greatest and best country in all the world; if you hold dear the liberty purchased by the blood of our forefathers; if you feel the changing dollars is a secondary matter in protecting the home and loved ones, then go and see this most marvelous production.

Only thirty minutes before time for the beginning of the picture the Arcade was crowded with eager people. A tense feeling pervaded every part of the theatre as the preliminary features of the plot and play were portrayed.

And then all settled down to witness the story of truth—the story of unpreparedness which everyone admits, but so many turn their faces to the wall when they admit it. Showing how easily it would be for a modern navy to attack our leading port—New York, and from there take charge of our arsenals, our navy yards and our munition plants—the picture carried the audience into the dense horror of actual warfare. The plot of the play accompanying it may or may not have been a little far-fetched. That is not important, for the fact remains that every gruesome act, and there were some that almost made one's heart cease beating, has been and is being enacted in Europe at the present time.

Fervent appeals from the picture's author were thrown on the screen at intervals. They were not boasts for ammunition houses, as the skeptical might charge, no, not at all; they rang with a truthness that seemed to say, "Americans, for the love of home and fireside, awaken to your true condition."

The row in the peace convention was the only bit of mirth in the whole picture. However, there is no misanthropic feeling in an American audience after the first reel of the Battle Cry of Peace has been seen. It is a sermon, a lecture, a lesson that none can forget, that none can play with. It calls for serious, earnest, honest consideration and the large crowd that left the theatre last evening went home with a different idea of American conditions than when they entered. Fathers clasped their children closer and mothers, who were inclined to sing "I Didn't Raise My Boy to be a Soldier," began to see that instead of meekness and submission among the women, even in this day it would be better to take on the spirit of the old mothers of revolutionary days or the days of the civil war in order that the spirit of patriotism may be revived and America prepared for defense so that she can care for her own.

EMPLOYERS CONCERNED.

General Opposition in State Develops at Proposed 48-Hour Law.

La Grande employers of female help are waiting anxiously for the final order of the Industrial welfare commission concerning the order proposed for promulgation in which 48 hours per week shall be the limit for girls and women. Yesterday protests were heard in Portland including expressions from La Grande. Today the commission meets again to reach a final conclusion and 60 days thereafter the order, if issued, will go into effect. A Portland newspaper this morning said in this connection: "Employers of Oregon want no further regulation by the Industrial Welfare Commission.

"They expressed themselves, with emphatic voice, on this subject yesterday. At the assembly room of the Chamber of Commerce to the outer walls they adopted a series of resolutions appealing to the commission not to place in effect the new wage and time schedule suggested by a conference committee recently appointed by the commission.

"The principal changes that the sub-committee suggests provide a maximum of 48 hours a week for women workers of the state, instead of 54 hours as at present, and a minimum wage of $8.64 a week instead of $8.25 a week, as at present, in the industrial occupations.

"The opposition centered against the time regulation rather than against the wage regulation.

"A special delegation of employers will appear before the commission when it meets in its rooms at the Courthouse today to present this viewpoint.

"The meeting yesterday afternoon heard almost every shade of opinion on the industrial welfare question—from the ultra-radical employer who wanted to repeal all such legislation, to the ultra-radical agitator, who wanted to confiscate all private property.

Y. M. C. A. BUSY THIS WEEK.

Many Functions Set Down to Occur During Seven-day Period.

The Y. M. C. A. continues to hum with activity. Last Sunday afternoon Dr. Underwood spoke to a fair sized audience on the social problem. Next Sunday the Rev. Mr. Ford of the Christian church will give a stereopticon lecture on the Y. M. C. A. on the Life of Christ. This no doubt will prove to be one of the best of the series of lectures now being given at the Y. M. C. A. on each Sunday afternoon. On Sunday March the 19th, Mr. Bruce Dennis will lecture on "Thrift."

On Friday evening the Business Men's Class will enjoy a smokeless smoker immediately following the gymnasium class.

A splendid dinner will be enjoyed followed by a short program and business session. At the close of the evening a matched game of volley ball will be played between two picked teams captained by W. C. Drinn and W. M. Kelley. A splendid time is anticipated.

The regular monthly meeting of the board of directors will take place Wednesday evening. They will be addressed by John Goodell of the International commission of the Y. M. C. A. who will be in the city for that day.

Pastor's Trial Begins.

Oroville, Cal., March 7.—The Rev. Madison Slaughter, Baptist pastor of Chico, was slated for trial here today on the first of five indictments charging him with misconduct with 15 year old Gertrude Lamson, daughter of a member of his congregation. Slaughter insists that he is the victim of trumped up charges on the part of liquor interests who here and elsewhere have sought to "get" him. On the other hand the girl claims her charges are true, though her parents publicly announced that they did not credit her story and have stood firmly by the minister. The girl says the alleged misconduct occurred on Slaughter's ranch and that afterward he and his family threatened trouble for her if she exposed their alleged relations. Since the indictments were returned last month, Slaughter has not been occupying his pulpit, saying he wished first to have his name cleared. The case has aroused keen interest in the community. Slaughter's flock have stood by him valiantly, insisting that the case was baseless in fact. Somewhat of an additional sensation was caused when Slaughter's bondsmen, for the most part church members, failed to qualify on his bail, as they were shown not to be on the tax lists.

Canadian Grain in Storage This Year
Winnipeg, Man. March 7.—Two and a half times as much grain is stored in western Canada elevators today as was tied up one year ago. Railroad congestion is blamed. Sudden releasing of the vast crop stored would revolutionize cash prices, it is admitted.

Estimates today showed 53,685,588 bushels of grain stored in Western Canada now as compared with 25,213,810 bushels a year ago. Of this grain now on hand, 42,808,553 bushels is wheat as compared with 18,263,476 bushels of wheat stored a year ago.

Theodore Roosevelt's administration's move in the states for Canadian reciprocity was considered today to have been finally defeated in the Manitoba legislature.

Sunday Program Pleases.

Baby week was given an enthusiastic boost Sunday in the Presbyterian church. White carnations were given to the mothers by the flower committee as they came in with their little ones.

Special music by the choir was rendered. A sermon on the Divine Rights of the Child was delivered. After which Mrs. A. L. Richardson, accompanied by Mrs. Berry at the organ and Mrs. Carse with her violin, sang "Let the little ones come unto me."

About thirty-five little tots were present.

The evening service was held according to the printed program with the additional number "The Holy City" played by Mrs. Carse by request. The auditorium was packed with appreciative listeners.

Violators of quarantine. Lawmakers who oppose measures for the safeguarding of human lives. Part played by the parents in prevention—

1. Intelligent care by the mother.—Every mother has a right to know the facts which science has made certain as to ways in which it is possible to protect babies from sickness and death.

"Give me intelligent motherhood and good prenatal conditions, and I have no doubt of the future of this or any other nation."—John Burns.

"In the education of the mother in the care of herself and her baby we have the strongest weapon for fighting infant mortality."—New York Milk Committee's Report.

2. Prenatal care of the mother.—The great group of deaths of babies from causes acting before or at birth can only be prevented by intelligent care by the mother of herself before birth; protection of the mother's husband from overwork; skillful care at the time of confinement; health of both parents.
