PALMER VALLEY NEWS.

Warm Rain and Melting Snow Raises the Streams

Palmer Valley, March 13.—(Special.)—Messrs Harold, Dozier and Fahr were visitors to the Junction this week.

The fore part of the week we had a blizzard and a snow storm which continued a day and a night with a snow fall of about six inches.

Mr. Hahn was down to the Junction this week after supplies.

Mr. Yack was a business visitor to the Junction this week.

Mrs. Steers made a trip to Elgin this week.

Mr. Birchett is up and around again after a short illness, but Mrs. Burchett is still unable to be out.

V. B. Oslay, of the east side of the Looking Glass, came through the valley this week on his way to Mormon Basin where he will look after mining interests.

Messrs. Exstine, Steers and Thomas were all visitors to the Junction the latter part of the week.

A fine rain a few days ago has settled the snow about a foot and streams are running everywhere with some damage resulting to the roads.

What Did The Curate Get

A bishop of the Church of England had invited the clergymen of his see to a week-end party at the Episcopal residence. The guest of honor was a bishop from an adjoining diocese.

The first morning at breakfast as the visiting bishop was about to crack the shell of his egg he suddenly stopt, and, turning to the butler who was standing at the back of the Bishop's chair, he said, all the while holding his fingers tightly to his nose:

"Oh! my man! take this egg away; the odor of it is atrocious. Take it away, please; take it away."

The butler, taking the egg in his hand and eyeing it closely, said with great deference:

"My lord, a most regrettable mistake has been made. The stupid servant has given your lordship a curat's egg."—Binghamton Republican-Herald.

Dangerous

"Here, here, gents!" admonished the landlord of the Petunia tavern, addressing the prominent citizens assembled around the stove. "You'll have to cut that out! I don't mind a little war-talk occasionally, but I draw a line at peace-discussions—they break up the furniture so."—Judge.

Packard and other prominent automobile engineers favor motor oils from Western crude. Exposition juries at San Francisco and San Diego gave highest competitive awards to Zerolene—an oil from Western crude. Zerolene is the best oil for your motor because scientifically refined from selected California crude—asphalt-base. Government experts tell us that oils correctly refined from asphalt-base crude "distill without decomposition" [do not break up and lose their lubricating value under cylinder heat] and are "much better adapted to motor cylinders, as far as their carbon-forming proclivities are concerned, than are paraffine-base Pennsylvania oils." When you empty the crank-case refill with Zerolene. Dealers everywhere and at service stations and agencies of the Standard Oil Company.
