FROM NORTH POWDER

Proposition of New $25,000 School House Before Voters

North Powder, March 18.—(Special)—A number of North Powder citizens have suggested the filling of the street that runs past the Lenhart warehouse. It is pointed out that this place has been impassable for autos for a long time and that it is also difficult for travel with teams.

Mr. and Mrs. John Luency, of River-view, are the proud parents of a girl born on March 12, 1916.

Born, to Mr. and Mrs. Albert Olsen, a son.

Great interest is centered in the forthcoming election to vote on the proposal for a $25,000 school house for North Powder. The proposition is favored by all who desire to see North Powder have a school worthy the name of the town.

Ray Comstock has rented a farm in the Riverside section and is moving onto it. Mr. Comstock comes from Cove where he has lived for several years. We are glad to welcome the family in this vicinity and hope they will like the country.

Mrs. Henry Gorham, who has been quite ill, is reported to be much better the past few days.

EGGS BY WEIGHT

Efforts Being Made To Classify Hen Fruit

"Give me two pounds of eggs, please."

That promises soon to be the conventional way of placing an order for cackleberries, according to Walla Walla County Weight Inspector A. J. Storhow, who says that in some of the large cities the poultry houses are endeavoring to maintain a standard by which "pullet" eggs may be classified aside from the regular "hen" eggs.

Where the poultry-fraud is sold by the dozen, it has been pointed out, the purchaser often secures a dozen small eggs, and consequently does not receive as much for his money as the person who secures a dozen of the full-sized ones. While no definite steps have been taken in this state to bring about a classification of eggs of the different sizes, the trend of events is in that direction, according to Mr. Storhow, and he expresses the opinion that such legislation would not be surprising.

There is one difficulty, however, to be met in such a change in the method of selling eggs, and that would be in the establishment of the line of demarcation between "pullet" and "hen" eggs. All of the former brand are not of the same size, nor are the latter, yet it is pointed out by the purchasers of a dozen of the latter receives more value for his money than the person who gets the pullet eggs.

There has been no weight standard fixed for poultry products as yet, but in cities where the movement to classify has been started, there is a difference in the quotations, due to the difference in size of the two grades of eggs.
