Lieut. Bryan, U. S. N. stated before the Am. Soc. of Naval Engineers: "Oils made from the asphalt-base crudes have shown themselves to be much better adapted to motor cylinders, as far as their carbon-forming proclivities are concerned, than are paraffine-base Pennsylvania oils."

TRAPSHOOT SUNDAY SETS GOOD MARK

Jackrabbit Shoot At Foley Traps Next Sunday Afternoon

La Grande blue-rock sharks haven't lost their cunning during the winter. Last Sunday a number of them went out for practice and several squads performed over short, middle and long distance contests. On the whole the scores were very good.

Next Sunday a big shoot will be held on the Foley pasture traps over which a contest will be held on Jackrabbit system. All shooters are invited to be present and participate on that occasion.

Some of the scores made yesterday include:

Van Arman	13	12

Last evening the Cove Aumement club, an athletic institution, sent Envoys Motley and Galloway to La Grande to consider an interclub wrestling tournament. While there is considerable detail undecided, April 14 was tentatively adopted as the date for the big affair, if finally arranged. Within a couple of days final arrangements will be completed, if the program is held at all.

The Cove baseball fans, backing practically the same team that won games and distinction for the cherry pickers last year, meet tonight at Cove to draft their business policy, and immediately thereafter they will commence to boost for a league of some sort. R. Alexander and Motley, members of the strong 1915 team, came over from Cove last evening with the chess expedition and they were both confident of Cove holding her own with any club that might be created in this vicinity this year.

LOGICAL FINISH OF A PROGRESSIVE MANIAC

By George Ade

The Haynes Pioneer
Once there was a staid and well-behaved Citizen who took home a dab of Steak wrapped in Brown paper, nearly every evening, and found his excitement by working on the Puzzle Column in the Church Paper.

I order to run out to this Farm and save the Expense of keeping a horse, he purchased a kind of Highway Beetle, known as a Runabout. It was a One Linger with a Wheel Base of nearly 28 inches and two Coal Oil Lamps.

When standing still it panted like Newfoundland Dog and breathed Blue Smoke through the Gills.

It steered with a Rudder, the same as a Canal Boat, and every time it started up a four per cent Grade it became Black in the Face and wanted to lie down.

When he had recovered from the first Frenzy of Joy over his successful effort to exceed the Speed Limit of twelve miles an Hour, he began to notice that all the large brutal-looking Cars with the swollen wheels came along and tried to Ditch him and showed the same courteous consideration which would be showed to a colored Republican Orator in Tusca loosa, Ala.

When he pulled up alongside the road to adjust the Buzzer and Jingle the Feed and clean the Plug, the idle Spectators would stand around and remark that the Mixture was wrong. Ignition was Punk and the Transmission was a Fliv. So he knew he was in Wrong.

He traded for a dashing Two-Cylinder Affair painted Red with a Tonneau as wide and roomy as a telephone booth, and approached from the extreme rear by a small Door, as in the case of a Blind Pig. When he turned in the Runabout he was allowed one Outer Casing and a Jack, in Exchange. He was Some Motorist for about Three Weeks after the delivery of Juggernaut Number Two. He wore Leather Clothes, the same as Barney Oldfield. In the absence of a Speedometer he told what the Car could do and got away with it.

But when he bumped up against the Owners of the Big Touring Cars he was just as much at home as a one-armed man at a Busking Hee.

He began to discover that in the Gasoline Set, a Man is rated by the number of Cylinders he carries.

At the beginning of the Third Season we find him steering a long, low, rakish Chariot of Fire, with a clock, a Trunk Rack, and Emergency Ice Box and all the other Comforts of Home. He had learned to smell a Constable a Mile off, and whenever he ran up behind a Pewee Coffee Grinder he went into the High and made the Cheap Machine look like a Fish.

Whenever the Bobbler pointed to anything short of sixty he felt that he was just the same as standing still. He loved to throw out the Muffle and hit the High Spots, never stopping until the wheels became clogged up with Live Stock and Poultry.

One day while he was breezing along the Pike at the easy Clip, usually marking the Schedule of the Twentieth Century Limited, he heard behind him a low sullen Roar, as of the Wind playing through 1,000 Pine Trees, and something Gray and about as long-waisted as a Torpedo Boat shot past him and went over the Hill. He fell forward on the Wheel and began to Weep. He had been Shown Up.

He knew that he could never look his Fellowmen in the Eye. Unlil he traded in and got a Six with enough power to jump small streams and climb trees.

At last he appeared on the road with the Real Thing. It had Armor Plate all over it and a 10 foot Cow Catcher on the front of it, and the Driver had to sit on the small of his back and wear a helmet.

The morning he ran it out of the Garage, a Prominent Insurance Company foreclosed on the Farm, but he was in a cheery mood for he knew he could cut Rings around any other balloon in the County.

One morning he went around a Curve on two Wheels and tried to dislodge a New Bridge turned out by the Steel Trust and imbedded in Solid Concrete.

A Neighbor went to the Widow and said: "I have Sad News for you. Your Husband has gone to his Reward."

"When did he start?" asked the bereaved woman.

"At ten-thirty-eight," was the reply.

"What time is it now?"

"It lacks four minutes of being eleven o'clock."

"Well," she remarked in a relieved tone, "He must be there by this time, unless he has had a puncture."

TAKE SALTS TO FLUSH KIDNEYS

Eat less meat if you feel Backachy or Bladder troubles you—Salts is fine for Kidneys.

Meat forms uric acid which excites and overworks the kidneys in their efforts to filter it from the system. Regular eaters of meat must flush the kidneys occasionally. You must relieve them like you relieve your bowels; removing all the acids, waste and poison, else you feel a dull misery in the kidney region, sharp pains in the back or sick headache, dizziness, your stomach sours, tongue is coated and when the weather is bad you have rheumatic twinges. The urine is cloudy, full of sediment; the channels often get irritated, obliging you to get up two or three times during the night.

To neutralize these irritating acids and flush off the body's urinous waste get about four ounces of Jad Salts from any pharmacy; take a tablespoonful in a glass of water before breakfast for a few days and your kidneys will then act fine and bladder disorders disappear. This famous salts is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia, and has been used for generations to clean and stimulate sluggish kidneys and stop bladder irritation. Jad Salts is inexpensive; harmless and makes a delightful effervescent lithia-water drink which millions of men and women take now and then, thus avoiding serious kidney and bladder diseases.

A Family Man

"Notice—I understand there are a few long tongued tattling women telling that I have deserted my family and run off with another woman. I want to say that that is a lie and the people that are talking this are more apt to do that than I am. I have not deserted my family or never will. You can find me at the Jefferies and Jones livery-barn at all times.

H. P. Jefferies."
