Society News

Tuesday, March 28th at 2:00 p. m. the regular bi-monthly meeting of the Neighborhood club was held in the club room. During the business period one new member was added to the club which makes a total of six new members for the month of March.

The opening number of the afternoon program was the American national hymn by the club. Leader Mrs. O. E. Silverthorn. The other numbers were: The Reduction of the Ore; Exploitation of the Immigrant—Mrs. R. W. Logan.

Mrs. Logan gave, in a very pleasing manner, a definite account of certain traits of character that are to be found among the different nationalities that compose such a large percent of the population of America today and there remains many problems to be solved before the finished product of "The Melting Pot" will be the ideal American citizen.

Reading—"I am an immigrant"—Mrs. H. J. Ritter.

The statistics showing how many immigrants are employed in different industries of America were made very forcible by Mrs. Ritter and that America should certainly be very willing to assist the foreigner in every possible way in return for their labor.

The Re-Agents' Transferring Influences—Mrs. French.

Among the transforming influences, the free school is a great agent and the mission work carried on by different churches at home and abroad is very helpful along many lines of transformation.

The Scotch Ballads:

(a) Jean.

(b) The lass with the delicate air.

Lena Moss.

These beautiful ballads were presented charmingly by Mrs. J. P. Graham.

The beautiful afternoon brought a large attendance of members but several visitors were present.

Among the numbers was Mrs. J. T. Richardson of Pendleton who is always sure of a warm reception at the Neighborhood club.

Ninety people were present yesterday afternoon when the Central school Parent-Teacher association met for its regular session.

The program was an interesting one centering about several numbers. The first was a lullaby "Rock the Baby" and "When Grandpa was a Boy" by Lyle Stillwell.

Other numbers were:

The Wild Ash Deer—Several boys.

"Don't"—Phyllis-Walnum.

Solo—Miss Ira Bateman.

Piano solo—Helen Ahlquist.

Epimenondas and His

Evelyn Emahiser, Jack Den

Malcom Byrkit.

Sing Robin Sing—Katheryn Peterson.

Influence of picture shows on school children—Superintendent John Girdler.

Reports—Mrs. J. D. Lynch, who spoke of the recent visit by Mrs. McMath.

Refreshments were served at the conclusion of the interesting program.

The chief point in Mr. Girdler's remarks pointed out that the chief harm of the movies was to keep children up nights during school days, but that this was the fault of the parents.

On Wednesday afternoon Mrs. McDowell was hostess to the Women of Woodcraft, who gave a miscellaneous shower for Miss Edith Robb, who will soon be the bride of Fred Arnett. The shower was in the form of a negro mammy whom the bride-elect was asked to disrobe; surprise and merriment were intermingled when it was found that the anatomy of this Woman of Woodcraft was composed of a broom, clothes hanger and sieve and dressed in many useful and beautiful articles for the future use of the bride. The McDowell home was beautifully decorated in pink and white, cupids playing on important part. Delicious refreshments were served by the hostess.

The engagement of Earl Stoddard, son of Mr. and Mrs. George Stoddard of this city, and a popular athlete, to Elthira Thomas of Salt Lake. The wedding, say announcements friends have received, will be solemnized in Salt Lake City, April 12. The groom-elect has been employed for a time in the offices of the Stoddard Lumber company of Baker and last winter attended college at Logan, being entered in the forestry department during the winter. Mr. Stoddard expects to take his bride to Baker where they will make their home.

Miss Felice Lyne, former La Grande girl and member of the Boston Opera company, was with the opera company's special which passed through La Grande en route east at an early hour this morning. A number of La Grande friends of the noted songstress were at the train to meet Miss Lyne and were not disappointed as that young lady had forsaken the draperies of the sleeper to be ready for the greeting which was received with the most appreciative enjoyment.

The special train carrying this big opera organization consists of fourteen coaches—eight sleepers, five baggage cars and a diner.

Mrs. Henry Nibley of La Grande has been an honor guest at functions for her in Baker. Relates the Herald:

"Mrs. William J. Wale entertained this afternoon at her home on Second street with an informal reception in honor of Mrs. Henry Nibley of La Grande. Some 25 ladies spent the afternoon with needlework and a course luncheon was served.

Mr. and Mrs. L. M. Hoyt entertained the Leap Year Five Hundred club yesterday evening at their home on Main avenue. Guests for three tables were present to enjoy cards, and at the conclusion of play Mrs. Hoyt served delicious refreshments. F. E. Oxner won high score at cards. Mr. and Mrs. Oxner will be the next entertainers.

The Lucky Thirteen club was delightfully entertained Thursday by Mrs. A. L. Richardson. Cards were played and Mrs. McAllister won first honors. Mrs. Richardson adopted a color scheme of yellow and white which she carried out very prettily. A few special guests were at hand to enjoy the afternoon. Mrs. William Ash is the next hostess of this club.

Mrs. E. Polack was hostess, Thursday, to members of the Thursday Bridge club, and a few invited guests. Covers were laid for 12 when it came time to serve. Daffodils and violets were tastily used in the arrangement of the centerpiece. Mrs. M. B. Donohue scored highest at bridge.

Mr. and Mrs. Gus. Levy made a brief trip to Union yesterday to look after the removal of their furniture preparatory to the occupancy of the Sherwood William house in West La Grande. They expect to be established in their home within the coming week.

The Kaffee Klatch, afternoon division, was charmingly entertained by Mrs. Grace Molitor yesterday afternoon. A few special guests were present, and the afternoon was spent in a social way to the enjoyment of all.

The P. E. O. journeyed to Island City yesterday afternoon to hold a business session at the home of Mrs. Ed. Kiddle, who was the hostess for the day.

Dr. and Mrs. Harry M. Bouvey will be the hosts to the Monday Bridge club, which meets next Monday.

Mt. Glen, April 1.—(Special)—A pleasant surprise was given Friday evening at the home of Mary M. Gainer in honor of Miss Bean the school teacher, and George Chadwick. Games and singing comprised the evening's entertainment and at 11 o'clock refreshments were served. The party ended at midnight, all participants having had an enjoyable evening.

FASHION HINTS

By MARGARET MASON (Written for the United Press)

A tendril of Camilla's hair

Caressed her neck in manner rare,

I begged of her the shining strand

And stroked it with a tender hand,

Then when perverse she said me nay

I snipped that golden curl away.

But when Camilla saw it there

The lovely curl she used to wear

Her pouting lips began to twitch

"There now," she sobbed, "you've spoiled my switch."

New York, March 31.—Little, alluring, wholly feminine, fascinatingly frivolous curls are coming in again.

To bob their wee fat sausage lengths in front of a pair of pink ears, to top in a bewildering cluster of tiny cockscrews the crown of a dainty young head, or to nestle in one sinuous tendril in that delectable hollow between a dimpled shoulder and a rounded throat.

Yes, they are coming in, but it is safe to predict that the most of them will easily come out again. Curls such as these are easier pinned in than grown in at the whimsies of the mode.

They are sure to be hailed by all the purveyors of human hair who have suffered two lean years from the penchant for pealed coiffures au naturel, with no false hair allowed.

To be sure hair is still to be worn pealed and slicked back from the feminine brow, but the softening influence of an occasional stray curl or two is a concession to the frills and ruffles and hoops and bonnets of the present old-fashioned fashions.

Particularly are the bonnets responsible for the recurrence of curls and the Shepherdess spoke of Watteau shape is mother to the Niche coiffure which consists simply in drawing the hair back smoothly from the face into a cluster of soft puffs at the crown of the head with a few clustering ringlets escaping at the nape of the neck.

Just to make it even more piquant a narrow black velvet ribbon is tied around the cluster of puffs on the head's pinnacle.

Another popular high head dress a la 1830 has the hair waved and pinned in front with three short curls over each ear and a soft fan life puff for a top knot.

A low head dress with two fat sausage curls to bob over either ear has the rest of the hair drawn smoothly back into a tiny bun.

Flowers in the hair is to be another revived clinging vine fashion. And the roses of June will be born to blush for first an equally rosy ear while garlands of the smaller flowers will crown the Lilies, Pansys and Myrtles of the human family.

The bands that bind will still continue on the job and the brow in the form of picot edged ribbon or black velvet with a little love knot behind.

Truly this mad preference for love knots and love locks augurs a certain variety and piquancy for the breach of promise cases of the near future.

To lighten the monotony of the eternal love letters with a love knot of rose ribbon or a tendril of burnished hair surely ought to influence all Jaded jurors for the new hair modes as well as the hair merchants and ribbon clerks.
