MORTGAGE ON LAKE CLOSED

AGREEMENT MAY BRING EARLY SALE OF PLACE.

Abrupt End of Trial Over Conflicting Claims Against Property.

In the circuit this afternoon, the bondholders of the Hot Lake properties, represented by F. L. Myers, of this city, got a decree foreclosing the trust deed or mortgage on the institution upon which the bonds were floated, after it had been stipulated that the claims of the Clarke-Woodard Drug Co., of Portland, should be transferred from the lands and properties of the company to the funds represented by the property. Prior to the institution of the suit to foreclose, the Clarke-Woodard Drug Co. got a judgment of some size against the company and then brought a suit to subject certain property to sale upon its judgment. The bondholders claimed that the property, though acquired after the mortgage, was covered by the mortgage, nevertheless, and it was this claim of the drug company and the litigation arising out of this situation, which seemed to cause the agreement by which the foreclosure proceedings may proceed and the other claims disposed of later.

R. G. E. Cornish, of Portland, and Cochran & Eberhard, of this city, represented the holders of the judgment and Crawford & Eakin, of this city, the bond holders. By this arrangement, the property may be sold by the sheriff, and in about five weeks the purchasers at the sale, who doubtless will be the bondholders themselves, may get entire possession of the property. The big bone of contention thus far has been over possession.

War Oddities

London—Sergeant "Izzy" Smith, the Manchester Jewish winner of the Victoria Cross, was arrested as a deserter in London because a taxi driver refused to drive him to a railroad station, causing him to miss his train.

Emerald Beads and Blue Mustaches

New York, April 10.—Do you remember, in "Ten Thousand A Year," how Tittlebat Titmouse's hair turned a brilliant bottle green because he used cheap dye on his clayey locks? Wholesale druggists here today said real hair dye is practically off the market because of the war—so if hair dye don't want emerald thatches, lavender beards and sky-blue mustaches, let them beware. The druggists look for an epidemic of bona-fide blondes and the coming to light of many unsuspected "gray ones."

DEBATE AT IMBLER.

had not been; that he was the unwilling witness of a foreclosure suit upon Hot Lake; that he was like a man who went on a drunk—he was very energetic and bilious while he was partaking of the cup that cheers but that was followed by a headache the morning after, and that now he was suffering from that headache; concluding that we should pay as we went and not depend upon bonds."

Mr. Cochran closed the debate by asserting: "The question is whether we were going to enjoy the good roads ourselves or whether we were going to wait for some future generations to enjoy them; that Mr. Pierce is now worth a quarter of a million dollars; and that when he took the Oro Dell electric plant at $20,000, and the La Grande electric plant for another $20,000, and organized the electric business of Union county, with a capital stock of $100,000 and a bond issue of $150,000, Mr. Pierce made his money by so doing and saddled upon the people of Union county the yoke of paying the electrical tax so long as electric lights were burned by the people of this county." Further Mr. Cochran said:

"It was the same with the Hot Lake proposition. Mr. Pierce asserted that if he had only used $20,000 in erecting Hot Lake, it would have been a success, but when he takes his $20,000 plant and bonds it for the magnificent sum of $250,000, naturally there would have to be a headache the morning after. It can be stated that if Mr. Pierce had not gone into debt but had paid as he went, he would have been worth today not more than $20,000 instead of a quarter million; that the expenditure of money from the issuance of bonds is not to be feared, if a dollar's worth of roads is secured for every dollar that is spent upon them; that good roads cause intensive farming and that there would be more hogs, more cattle and more cream produced; silos would be built; dairies inaugurated; cheese factories started; perhaps some of the farmers would begin to produce vegetables which now the inhabitants of La Grande are shipping in from other places and paying exorbitant prices for in the way of freights and other charges."

Watch Child's Cough

Colds, running of nose, continued irritation of the mucous membrane if neglected may mean Catarrh later. Don't take the chances—do something for your child! Spring

Spring is looked upon by many as the most delightful season of the year, but this cannot be said of the rheumatic. The cold and damp weather brings on rheumatic pains which are anything but pleasant. They can be relieved, however, by applying Chamberlain's Liniment. Obtainable everywhere.

EXPERT EMPLOYED.

Leighton's Garage Gets Man From Splittorf Electric Co. C. Frizzell, who has been working for the Splittorf Electric company's Seattle branch, has been employed by Robert Leighton for work on the electrical end of automobiles. In speaking of Mr. Frizzell Mr. Leighton said today: "I have been after a first class electrical worker for some time realizing this locality needs an expert in this line, but until now I have been unable to get the kind of a man I wanted. There is no doubt about Mr. Frizzell's ability as he comes with the highest credentials. The most intricate electric apparatus is safe in his hands and every automobile owner is now assured of expert workmanship on the electrical end of his car."

Safe Medicine for Children.

"Is it safe?" is the first question to be considered when buying cough medicine for children. Chamberlain's Cough Remedy has long been a favorite with mothers of young children as it contains no opium or other narcotic, and may be given to a child as confidently as to an adult. It is pleasant to take, too, which is of great importance when a medicine must be given to young children. This remedy is most effectual in relieving coughs, colds and croup. Obtainable everywhere.

Difference in Drug Buying

"GOODS WELL BOUGHT ARE HALF SOLD"

We are careful buyers, always insisting upon quality—and when goods are received they are stocked in a way which guards against deterioration.

Where special lines of Imported Goods cannot be secured we replace them with the best American-Made Brands.

You should form the habit of careful drug buying. If all buyers would form such a habit, there would be no further market for impure, impotent drugs.

Only pure, high-grade drugs are to be found in our stock—goods which we can sell under a strict guarantee.

If you are not a judge of drug quality, why not rely upon our judgment.
