AT THE MOVIES

AT ARCADE.

Aquatic Comedy Is Top Notch Keystone.

As the fat boy husband, jocund, round, Roscoe Arbuckle has a laughter provoking role in the Triangle comedy, "Fickle Fatty's Fall," at Arcade theatre tonight and tomorrow.

Fatty's efforts to quell a fight in the kitchen of his menage start the comedy on its hilarious way. The chef and butcher boy are in a mixup over the pretty maid (Ivy Crosthwaite.) Fatty sends the two flying out of the place and makes love to the maid. Wife soon after sees four prints on Fatty's shoulders and fires the maid. Fatty combines the roles of chef and maid and slices potatoes with the electric fan and juggles food on the table. He becomes peevish at a guest, sort of a musical lion, and bespatters his face with a pie. There is a chase in motor chairs. Fatty's wife loses control of her chair and is precipitated off a dock. Fatty rescues her. The mother-in-law and the chef also fall in the ocean. It all ends up with the reconciliation of the married ones and the reunion of the maid and the butcher boy.

Frank Keenan in "The Coward." "The Coward" will be seen in the Triangle program at Arcade tonight and tomorrow, so theater goers of this city will be greatly interested in getting an outline of the story. Here it is:

Colonel Winslow, veteran of the Mexican war, brave and gallant, hopes for a great future for his only son, Frank. At the outbreak of the civil war a recruiting station is opened in the Virginia village where the Winslows live. Frank, obsessed with fear, refuses to enlist. His father's humiliation is great, and in his wrath he drives Frank to the office under threat of death, and the son joins the local company.

The very first night he is assigned to picket duty near the Union front. He is terrified, throws down his rifle and flees. His family's negro mammy gives him refuge in the kitchen and summons his mother. The latter is comforting him when the colonel, puzzled by her absence, comes to look for her and discovers Frank. The colonel then goes to the army and becomes Private Winslow in the company which his cowardly son had deserted.

Meanwhile Frank hides in the attic as a group of Union officers arrive and take possession of the home. As they discuss the weakness of one of their positions he listens, a plan formulates itself in his mind, he throws off his fear and obtains the plans by surprising the officers while they are unarmed. On a horse he rides to the Confederate commander, having made his escape in the blue coat of a northern sentry, whom he has knocked unconscious. As he gallops ahead of his pursuers he starts across a bridge commanded by the fire of his father, who is on duty at the time. Seeing only the blue coat, Private Winslow fires. His aim is true, and the horse and rider topple into the river. Frank, however, though wounded is able to get ashore and deliver the plans to the commander. An attack is ordered, and the northern army routed. Father and son are reunited after the battle and all's well.

AT SHERRY'S TODAY ONLY.

Ann Murdock, one of the gifted young actresses raised to stardom by Charles Frohman, in a comedy drama entitled, "A Royal Family." This play was produced some years ago at the Lyceum Theatre, New York, and it was a tremendous success. The heroine is a young princess of an imaginary country called Aracacia, and the story is right up to date in people and incidents. Moving picture patrons will find this photoplay one of the most interesting that they have ever seen. It will be shown at the Sherry theatre today only. This is not costume play.

Absolute Conscription Urged

London, April 18.—All-round conscription is being more and more strongly urged in England.

It is only partial as yet. Unmarried men up to the age of 41 have been called to the colors, but with numerous exceptions. The call for married men has applied only to those who have declared their willingness to serve.

The element known as the "ginger group" wants to make the compulsory summons all-embracing. It is also urged that men up to 45 be included.

The "gingerite's" contention is that the war is now at its most critical stage and many more men are needed immediately.

"If the enemy is not beaten during the next few months," adds the London Express, "the struggle may go on until Europe is bankrupt and we are forced to agree to an inconclusive peace. The occasion demands strong, swift action."

Of course, all these hyphenates who say Germany is such a great place to live in will hurry back when peace comes and help pay the Kaiser's war-taxes.—Philadelphia North American.

Watch Child's Cough

Colds, running of nose, continued irritation of the mucous membrane if neglected may mean Catarrh later. Don't take the chances—do something for your child! Children will not take every medicine, but they will take Dr. King's New Discovery and without bribing or teasing. It's a sweet pleasant Tar Syrup and so effective. Just laxative enough to eliminate the waste poisons. Almost the first dose helps. Always prepared, no mixing or fussing. Just ask your druggist for Dr. King's New Discovery. It will safe-guard your child against serious ailments resulting from colds.—adv.

BE PRETTY! TURN GRAY HAIR DARK

Try Grandmother's old Favorite Recipe of Sage Tea and Sulphur.

Almost everyone knows that Sage Tea and Sulphur, properly compounded, brings back the natural color and lustre to the hair when faded, streaked or gray. Years ago the only way to get this mixture was to make it at home, which is messy and troublesome. Nowadays, by asking at any drug store for "Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound" you will get a large bottle of this famous old recipe, improved by the addition of other ingredients, for about 30 cents.

Don't stay gray! Try it! No one can possibly tell that you darkened your hair, as it does it so naturally and evenly. You dampen a sponge or soft brush with it and draw this through your hair, taking one small strand at a time; by morning the gray hair disappears, and after another application or two, your hair becomes beautifully dark, glossy and attractive.

Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound as a delightful toilet requisite for those who desire dark hair and a youthful appearance. It is not intended for the cure, mitigation or prevention of disease.

BOOST

Boost for every forward movement.
Boost for every new improvement.
Boost the man for whom you labor,
Boost the stranger and the neighbor;

Cease to be a chronic knocker,
Cease to be a progress blocker,
If you'd make your city better,
Boost it to the final letter.

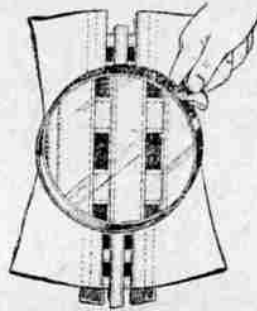

It is as plain as one and one:

To hold the patronage and good will of your customers you must please them, and the surest way to please them is to give service and prompt attention to every detail.

This we endeavor to do to the very best of our ability.

IT'S AN INDIAN BICYCLE That You Will Buy This Year

When you buy an INDIAN BICYCLE you have bought some more than an attractively painted frame. What you have done is made an investment in SERVICE, in CONSTRUCTION, in an assembling of metal of great strength and durability with a painted finish that will stand up and wear as no other BICYCLE will do, and then the price? $27.50, for the INDIAN ROADSTER.

Call and I will show you the BEST in BICYCLES and the terms are so easy that you cannot afford to be without an INDIAN this summer.

Let me re-fire your wheel, with the famous PENNSYLVANIA VACUUM CUP TIRES, the 5000 miles quality tires, cost no more and gives double the service.
