caused the Department of Agriculture at Washington to wonder.

When Malheur, the biggest county in the state, showed an increase of 2,000 miles of highway in two years, the department demanded an explanation from State Engineer Lewis.

Today Lewis made this explanation to Washington: The 1914 road report from Lincoln county was made when the tide was out. When the 1916 report was made the tide was in, and 320 miles of coast highways were under water and couldn't be counted.

New York leads all the other states of the Union in lumber consumption, with a total annual bill for timber of all kinds of over $100,000,000.
