Dear Friends,

Do you always get good pictures, and have the best results with your Camera? If you do not there is a reason, and a remedy as well. Do you understand the use of the shutter, and do you know how to regulate your light and stop? Do you have trouble with over and under exposures, due to the light conditions in relation to the distance?

There are many reasons why you may not be getting the best out of your Camera or Kodak. Whether you have an Anseo, an Eastman, or any other kind of a Camera we are in a position to give you expert instruction along any line of the picture work.

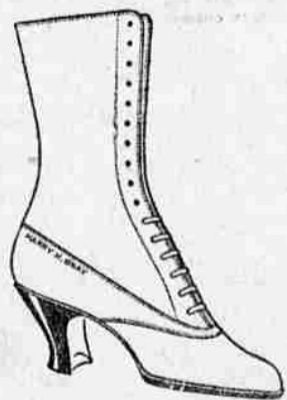

We shall be glad to give you free instruction in all of the following branches of picture work:

1. Uses of the lens. (R. R. Type or Antistigmatic)
2. Uses of the Shutter.
3. Distance and light conditions.
4. Films and plates.
5. Copying and Enlarging.
6. Artistic Photography. (Inside time exposures, Flashlight and Landscape pictures)

Hoping that you will give us the opportunity of helping you along any of the above lines of the work, or any other particulars of camera work, we remain,

Your truly,

The Silverthorn Family Drug Store.

Gus Levy, of La Grande, attended the meeting of the Stock Show directors at Union yesterday evening. The meeting was mostly routine in character, but reports show that the forthcoming live stock show to be held at Union June 14, 15 and 16, will be bigger in every way than heretofore. The management is highly elated over the prospects. Among other things settled at last night's meeting was that of the report of the transportation committee which shows that reduced rates have been secured on all railroads, and a big attendance is expected.

After the show—fresh strawberries and cream at Silverthorn's fountain.—Adv. 4-24-1f.

Roger Deal, caretaker at the intake came down last evening to get supplies. He reports several feet of snow on the hills, and that Beaver, Jordan and other creeks are on the rampage. The dam has filled about 10 feet but the thaw has not been sufficient to materially reduce the drifts. The house used for a commissary last year is still practically buried under snow, but on the level where wind has access the ground is beginning to break through in places. The main portion of the snow on the higher points of the Blue Mountains remains unmelted.

NON-BREAKABLE AUTO
Chauffeur Meets Difficulty in Trying to Wreck Machine

In one of the scenes in "The Fool's Revenge," a William Fox photoplay at Sherry's today, Ruth Findlay, as Ethel Andrews, daughter of a former clown, is kidnapped in an automobile by Joseph Mendell, Warner Oland, a wealthy stock promoter. In the flight the car breaks down and Ethel and Findlay are supposed to be injured.

The driver of the machine was instructed to wreck it at a certain point in the road on which the camera was focused. The scene was attempted, but the machine refused to wreck. The action was repeated; again the machine refused to wreck. The third time, the front axle snapped, according to schedule, and Miss Findlay and Oland were thrown out, receiving no make-believe bruises.

Guess again. It wasn't that make of car.
