"Woman's Party" at Convention.

Chicago, May 24.—All is in readiness for the thousands of women who will attend the Woman's Party convention here, June 5, 6 and 7, in answer to the call of the Congressional Union. Suffragists from all enfranchised states will determine how they can throw their votes in the next election in order to best serve the cause of a nation-wide suffrage for women. The last day of this convention will be the first day of the Republican convalescence. The Union has just completed an invasion of the west undertaken to consolidate the Congressional Union branches in the already enfranchised states. The work of organizing the convention is being pushed in every district in Chicago through the women's clubs, societies and industrial organizations. Miss Alice Paul, national chairman, and a notable group of militant scouts are in charge. The activities are directed from "field" headquarters on Michigan Boulevard. Miss Mabel Vernon of Delaware, who organized nearly half the enfranchised states in support of the federal amendment will arrive soon to direct a campaign of street meetings. Miss Doris Stevens, head of the national organization department, is here in charge of the open air demonstrations and mass meetings that will punctuate the suffrage calendar between now and convention time. Miss Elizabeth Elder of Philadelphia has taken charge of the information bureau and will later enroll all delegates. The work of directing the out of door publicity is in the hands of Miss S. Ada Flatman of London, England, one of Mrs. Pankhurst's lieutenants in the early days of the militant movement. The program will be mainly in the hands of the voting women. Among the speakers will be Miss Maude Younger, member of the National Advisory Council of the Union, Mrs. Sara Bard Field, envoy from the Woman Voters convention in San Francisco and Mrs. William Kent, member of the National Executive committee, all of California; Miss Anne Martin of Nevada, member of the national legislative committee and Mrs. Dora Phelps Buell, state factory inspector of Colorado and member of the National Advisory Council of the Union. A hospitality committee headed by Mrs. Clifford Wells, a prominent society woman, is in charge of the work of securing accommodations for the hosts who will begin to arrive in a few days. Unable to secure rooms in the fashionable hotels, the committee has leased a number of small suburban hotels. Contrary to reports that the Union is a partisan organization, Miss Alice Paul, the national chairman declared today that the organization is strictly non-partisan and is working solely for nationwide enfranchisement of all women. A review of the suffrage situation in the House shows, suffragists say, that the Democrats have blocked the amendment. Miss Paul is explicit in giving reasons for the formation of the new party. "If women who are Republicans simply help the Republican party, and women who are Democrats simply help the Democratic party," she said, "women's votes won't count
