HAVE DARK HAIR AND LOOK YOUNG

Nobody can Tell when you Darken Gray, Faded Hair with Sage Tea.
Grandmother kept her hair beautifully darkened, glossy and attractive with a brew of Sage Tea and Sulphur. Whenever her hair took on that dull, faded or straggled appearance, this simple mixture was applied with wonderful effect. By asking at any drug store for "Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound," you will get a large bottle of this old-time recipe, improved by the addition of other ingredients, all ready to use, for about 50 cents.
This simple mixture can be depended upon to restore natural color and beauty to the hair.
A well-known downtown druggist says everybody uses Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound now because it darkens so naturally and evenly that nobody can tell it has been applied—it's so easy to use, too. You simply dampen a comb or soft brush and draw it through your hair, taking one strand at a time. By morning the gray hair disappears; after another application or two, it is restored to its natural color and looks glossy, soft and beautiful. This preparation is a delicious toilet requisite. It is not intended for the cure, mitigation or prevention of disease.

SPRING FRIER TIME AT HAND

WITHIN SIX DAYS LIBERAL RUN EXPECTED.
Possible That Some Will Come Forward Tomorrow.

Within the month, it is expected—not later than a week from tomorrow at the latest—spring friers are booked to be on sale in the La Grande meat dealing centers. There is considerable call for them already but while a few scattering offerings may come forward tomorrow, it is not thought that there will be any consistency in the market for at least a week. The real substantial sales will not loosen up until well into the middle of June, but for those who want to pay the price, there will be spring friers available before that. Just what the price will be on the first lot to come in, dealers themselves do not know, this depending much on the quality of the first offerings.

Strawberries Held Up.
Bad weather for maturing strawberries keeps the price up. While one can buy three boxes for 50 cents, the single-box price is still 20 cents. Gooseberries are quite plentiful now days, selling at two boxes for 25 cents.

Avoid Spring Colds.
Sudden changes, high winds, shifting seasons cause colds and grippe, and these spring colds are annoying and dangerous and are likely to turn into a chronic summer cough. In such cases take a treatment of Dr. King's New Discovery, a pleasant Laxative Tar Syrup. It soothes the cough, checks the cold and helps break up an attack of grippe. Its already prepared, no mixing or fussing. Just ask your druggist for a bottle of Dr.
King's New Discovery. Tested and tried for over 40 years.

Doctors Look Out for Health of 20,000 New York, May 25.—Any one of the 20,000 clubwomen attending the biennial convention of the General Federation of Women's Clubs here today have a somnolent headache or an allopathic indigestion with impunity. One hundred women doctors and as many more nurses are on the emergency staff, under the direction of Dr. Rosalia S. Morton, and they daily minister to all the ill a club-woman is heir to. Two stations, each under two doctors and a trained nurse, are open at all hours in the Seventh Regiment armory, where the Federation is meeting, and stations are maintained continually at the Hotel Astor, the official headquarters, and other hotels, hospital rooms, and the armory and at the hotels are part of the equipment.

OUR VANISHING DEER.

The Most Graceful and Most Hunted of All Our Animals.
No animal on the North American continent has been hunted so relentlessly as the deer. That's why he is getting scarcer every year, and you'll have to look in a park or go into the mountains to find one today.
For convenience in distinguishing this animal from other members of the family scattered over the earth, we call him the "common American deer." He is also referred to at times as the roebeek, the jumping deer and the long tailed deer. He is small, compared with others of his family, like the moose and elk, and his color is brown in summer and gray-brown in winter.
He weighs between 100 and 200 pounds.
The male deer carries a pair of horns, which he sheds each year after the breeding season. Then he grows a new pair, their size increasing as the deer grows older. The female deer, called the doe, has no horns.
They are vegetarians and live most of the year on shrubs, grass and the buds of trees. Sometimes they become wilder and visit a farmer's corn or wheat field. They also like berries.
The American deer is one of the most graceful animals on the continent, speeds over the open ground or through the forest with equal ease. It harms no one, yet it is the most hunted of animals. The reason is that the animal's flesh is most delicious. If you have ever tasted venison you'll see why men hunt the deer so relentlessly.—Philadelphia North American.

LAW AND JUSTICE.

The Old Squire Could Strike a Nice Balance Between the Two.
There is an old New England squire whose knowledge of the statute law is limited, but who has decided views as to common justice. Not long ago a certain Zed Smith was brought before him charged with larceny.
It appeared from the evidence that Zed had rented a horse from a farmer to do some hauling and that during the period the animal had remained in his possession he had fed it from the owner's stock of grain, although the agreement was that Zed himself should supply the feed. He was charged by the farmer therefore with the theft of two bushels of oats and corn.
"The statutes made and provided," the old squire announced ponderously, "say that theft is to convert to your own use the property of another. The horse is the servant of the owner, not of Zed, and Zed converted them oats to the horse's use, not his, so I acquit Zed of stealin' them oats. He ain't guilty of larceny." Zed rose, thanked the squire and was about to leave the room when the old man called him back.
"As I said, Zed," he remarked, with a gleam of humor in his eye, "you ain't guilty of larceny, but you shore ain't guilty of something, and I'm goin' to send you to jail for a month for it."

How Tea is Named.
In India and Ceylon teas are named according to the different leaves of the plant. The two small leaves at the tip of the shoot produce, as a rule, the best tea, known as "flowery" and "orange" pekoe. Pekoe without an adjective (literally "white down") is made from the leaf immediately below those of the orange and flowery. Next in the descending scale is the leaf of the somewhat coarser souehong ("little sprouts"), and lower still are larger leaves yielding congon (laborer's tea, or tea on which much labor is required to make it fit for the market) and Bohea.
Blended tea is now often described as "congon." Originally the name Bohea was applied to any kind of black tea. It being assumed that it all came from Wai (pronounced by the Chinese Bai).—London Chronicle.

When Pens Were First Used.
About the year 600 A. D. pens made of quills were introduced. This is shown by the fact that the word penna, a quill, is not found, it is claimed, in any work bearing an earlier date.
Previous to that time the word calamus, signifying a reed, was exclusivly employed as a designation for the vehicle used in transferring the ink to the parchment or other surface selected by the writers of that early age.
Steel pens first came into use in 1803, and about twenty-two years later those composed of gold made their appearance.

Almost a Getaway.
"Where are you going?" asked the proprietor of a rooming house who was roused in the early hours of the morning just in time to catch a lodger creeping stealthily downstairs with his baggage in his hands.
"Oh—er," stammered the lodger, "I was walking in my sleep."
"Umph! It's a lucky thing I wasn't walking in my sleep. I might have dreamed you paid me before you tried to leave."—Birmingham Age-Herald.

A Measure of Economy.
"Ritereus says he is not appreciated in his own community and that hereafter he will send all his humorous stories to publications in distant cities."
"A very good plan too. He wants to make a little wit go a long way."— Richmond Times Dispatch.

Both Boiling.
"If water is stirred with a paddle for five hours it will be boiling."
"So would any cook who was asked to do it."—St. Paul Pioneer Press.
Be brief, for it is with words as with sunbeams—the more they are condensed the deeper they burn.—Soutthey.

Old Folks Saved
From Suffering

Mrs. Mary A. Dean, Taunton, Mass., in her 87th year, says: "I thought I was beyond the reach of medicine, but Foley Kidney Pills have proven most beneficial in my case." Mr. Sam A. Hoover, High Point, N. C., writes: "My kidney trouble was worse at night and I had to get up from five to seven times. Now I do not have to get up at night, and consider myself in a truly normal condition, which I attribute to Foley Kidney Pills, as I have taken nothing else."
Mrs. M. A. Bridges, Robinson, Mass., says: "I suffered from kidney ailments for two years. I commenced taking Foley Kidney Pills ten months ago, and though I am 61 years of age, I feel like a 16-year-old girl."
Foley Kidney Pills give tonic, strengthening and invigorating, and restore normal action to the kidneys and to a disordered and painful bladder. They act quickly and contain no dangerous or harmful drugs.
