NORTH POWDER CONTRACT IS LET.

News of Interest From North Powder Territory.

North Powder, May 25, 1916.—Miss Naomi Spangle and Ludgate had a lawsuit in the justice court on Saturday and Monday. Spangle suing Ludgate for wages alleged to be due her for work which he is said to have refused to pay and he filing a cross bill for money which he alleged was due him from her. Miss Spangle was represented by Hess & Hess and Ludgate by a La Grande attorney, Miss Spangle won and was given a verdict for fifty dollars.

The primary election was a very quiet affair in North Powder and quite a number had not registered. The road bonds were defeated by a good majority. Everyone we have heard express themselves on this subject were opposed to them and the sentiment of this section is to remember the men who tried to get the county to assume this indebtedness.

Howard Rusk got the contract for the new schoolhouse and the work is already beginning and will have to be rushed to get the building in time for the next term. The amount of money available to put into the building will give the town a fine building if handled properly.

Born on May 23rd to Mr. and Mrs. Russell a son. Mrs. Russell is in Baker at the hospital and getting along nicely.

Haines sent down a delegation of 35 autos the other night advertising their Stampede which is scheduled for May 26th and 27th. They were met at North Powder by 50 autos from the town and surrounding country and the Haines band treated the crowd to a concert while several stunts were pulled off and everyone had a good time. A large number expect to attend the Stampede from this section.

Lee James left for Seattle on May 24th. His family accompanied him and they expect to locate somewhere in Washington.

Mr. Moody bought several head of range cows from Moore Bros.

Al Graham purchased a fine Jersey bull from Cy Tibbetts recently. Mr. Graham has several fine Jersey cows and is building up a herd of fine milkers.

Some ranchers suffered a loss in the recent frost and freeze. Mr. Burns lost sixty acres of barley which will have to be replanted and others have some ground that will have to be replanted.

Tom Butler who has been very sick at the Oregon Rooming House is reported to be some better.

A number of horsetraders were in this vicinity recently and made some trades which were costly to those who traded with them. The country is better off without such visitors as they are invariably on the "heat."

The Gaelic A B C.

Every letter in the Gaelic alphabet is represented by a tree. The alphabet of today consists of eighteen letters—in ancient Gaelic seventeen—and now, as of old, all the letters with the exception of g, t and u, which stand for ivy, furze and heather, are called after trees.

The Gaelic A B C of today runs: Allm, beite, coll, dur, eagh, fearn, gath, bunth, loch, iuis, mada, nua, oiv, peith, ruis, suil, teine, ur, which is equivalent to saying elm, birch, hazel, oak, aspen, alder, ivy, whitethorn, lew, rowan or quince, vine, ash, spindle tree, pine, elder, willow, furze, heath.

In the ancient Gaelic alphabet the letter h (the heath or whitethorn) does not exist. The alphabet is called the beth-luis-nua, because b, l, n and not a b c are its first three letters.

New Setting For an Old House.

Many an old house has been allowed to pass into a state of disrepair and finally has been torn down to make place for a more modern building merely because the owner has not been able to see in the old building a possibility for the attainment of attractiveness and charm by means of a new setting. The rarest gem in a battered setting can hardly show its value. Put it in platinum and gold, modern in cut, and the same gem is a glory to its owner. Provide the old house with nature's setting in the form of judicious planting, together with tasteful garden arrangement and a pergola, and straightway it is given a new lease of beauty.—L. G. Hoyt in Countryside Magazine.
