PERSONAL MENTION

John H. Rudd, Interstate Y. M. C. A. Boys' Secretary, arrived last night and will spend a few days here before going on to the Sunday School Boys' Conference at Pendleton. "I have gained a few days on my schedule," said Mr. Rudd today, "and thought I might best spend it in this city helping Mr. King, your new Secretary, get acquainted with the many fine people that I know live here."

R. J. Clark, former Y. M. C. A. secretary, left last night for Portland where he spends a week and then goes to Astoria to make his future home.

Miss Clara Herrmann has returned from the east where she has been in school and also taking a special course in music. After a vacation for the summer with her parents Mr. and Mrs. A. G. Herrmann, the young lady will resume her educational work in the east.

Dr. E. D. McKinney is among the Union visitors in La Grande today.

Andrew Lutz, the North Powder ice king, is a visitor in La Grande today.

Pat Foley was a visitor in Baker yesterday.

Engineer Blood, in charge of one of the La Grande yard engines, and Mrs. Blood are on a visit in Baker.

Mr. Oliver Out Again.

Though far from fully healed, Ray Oliver was able to leave the hospital for a turn down this morning. He has been bedfast for weeks at the hospital after sustaining a very serious fracture of the left leg above the ankle when a horse fell on him near Hot Lake. The bones are still in cast and he is far from complete recovery, but galled at prolonged idleness he determined this morning that a taxi ride would do him good.

"Hank" Davis a Gasoline Fan.

For some time the county court has felt the need of a trusty automobile that could be used as a truck and a passenger car as well. "Hank" Davis, the road man and bridge erector, is frequently called out several miles to do some work on the roads and he loses time by using horses. A few days ago the county court was offered a bargain in a semi-truck and immediately bought it. Now "Hank" is a gasoline fan proper and he drives with considerable caution and fair speed, always remembering that the state laws prescribe only 25 miles per hour on the dirt roads.

SOLDIER ON HIKE.

Endurance Test Across Continent Kept Up to Schedule.

Shortly afternoon today a regular army private who is on an endurance hike from Washington to Portland, reached La Grande from Hot Lake where he breakfasted. He is under orders to make 3700 miles in 105 days and is now up to schedule as he nears Portland.

He left Hot Lake this morning at 11:30 and walked into the city in three for lunch. He wears a uniform and declares that now, accustomed to the work, he hasn't the least fear of not making his destination on this herring sudden illness. The hike has made him roused and tanned, and he seems none the worse for the wear.

Two Declared Drunk.

W. C. Krug and Bill Crawford have each been found guilty of being drunk. The former paid a $10.00 fine and the latter is serving out a $20.00 fine.

Rev. and Mrs. Drahn have received information of the rapid failing of Mrs. Drahn's mother. One of the sisters who have been caring for the mother also has become helpless with inflammatory rheumatism. Unless further information changes her plans Mrs. Drahn will leave for Iowa, where her aged parents are living, on Friday evening. As Mr. Drahn's parents also, and relatives of both families are living in the same community the stay will be extended according to present plans, until shortly before the opening of the schools in the fall.

assailed the administration's Mexican policy and particularly the stripping of coast artillery fortifications to obtain infantrymen for the invading forces.

Roosevelt said he believed in "international duty" and he explained international duty as making a nation a member of a commonwealth, with the duty not only to refrain from wronging the weak but according to our capacity and as opportunity offers stand up for the weak when the weak are wronged by the strong.

This principle, the colonel said, ought to have brought America to raise her voice when Belgium was overrun.

"When this war is over, it is possible that some one of the combatants, being fully armed, will assail us because we offer ourselves as a rich and helpless prize. On the other hand, it is also possible that there will be temporary exhaustion among the combatants and a willingness, even with the present most brutal and ruthless, to go through the form of saying that they are peaceful and harmless. In such events there will be real danger lest our people be influenced by the foolish apostles of unpreparedness to neglect this condition as permanent and once more to shirk our duty of getting ready."

The former president pointed to the Mexican "war" as an example of unpreparedness, and bitterly assailed the stripping of coast artillery man from fortifications to press them into service as infantrymen in Mexico. He turned next to the administration's attitude in the world war.

"The failure to prepare," he said, "the failure to stand up for the rights of ourselves and of others, yielding to wrongdoing, resulted both in deferring the day when it was possible for this nation to act as peacemaker, and in bringing us immeasurably nearer to the danger of ourselves being involved in the conflict. Weakness invites contempt. Weakness combined with bluster invites both contempt and aggression. Self-respecting strength that respects the rights of others is the only quality that secures respect from others."

The former president said the transportation of troops from Russia to France; from Australia to Gallipoli, illustrated the fallacy of the claim that the ocean was preparedness insurance for the United States. He urged universal training as a means, not only of national preparedness, but of democratizing.

Referring to business regulations, the colonel said:

"The aim of government should not be to destroy the great industrial units, but, while encouraging them to regulate them in the interests of the people as a whole."

Abolition of child labor, he said, was necessary because "in addition to treating our brother man and sister woman as we would wish them to treat us, we must also endeavor, so far as we are able, to secure them just treatment by others."

"The end we have in view," the colonel concluded, "is a high and fine national life, based on an industrial efficiency which shall be accompanied by social and economic justice. Military preparedness against war is merely a means to this end. But it is an indispensable means. We are not fit to be free men unless we show the forethought and will power necessary to insure that we ourselves shall have the right to decide our own destinies and not be forced helplessly to submit to have them decided by alien conquerors."

Geared Up---

The proper balance of physical and mental powers for efficient endeavor are directly related to certain mineral elements—phosphate of potash, etc., in one's daily food.

These vital properties—often lacking in the usual dietary—are supplied in splendid proportion in the famous pure food

Grape-Nuts

Made of whole wheat and malted barley, this delicious food is long baked, hence easy and quick of digestion, yielding a wonderful return of mental and physical energy.

Grape-Nuts comes in the form of crisp granules of nut-like flavour, ready to serve directly the package is opened. With cream or good milk, Grape-Nuts is a splendidly balanced food and makes for efficiency.
