LET 'EM COME.

Monday evening the hotelmen of Union and Wallowa counties will meet in La Grande at the Foley hotel, have dinner and talk business.

Let 'em come, for they are alive all over. The Wallowa landlords want tourist travel and they want it so badly they are coming out to wake La Grande up to the true situation.

Give the men and women who run the hotels a hearty welcome, for they are an important part of the two counties and they are going to make their presence felt with a rousing campaign this summer.

ENGLAND'S NAVAL LOSS.

Throughout this terrible war everyone has said, "but England controls the sea; on the sea she is invincible." It would seem that even the Kaiser felt much the same way, but not so strong as did other people.

The first naval battle has been fought, the story of which was told in last night's Observer, and England is the heavy loser. Germany demonstrated her wonderful fighting ability on water, as she has on land. And while her fleets do not compare with Britain's in size, she has given a remarkably good account of herself in the first naval fight.

It means that England must await en to the true situation on the sea she was compelled to awaken on land. She is not playing polo nor parlor croquet and long lines of battleships and musty tradition will win nothing against a foe so able as the Germans have proven themselves to be.

ALL ARE NEEDED—BUT?

When a young man takes a job and soon begins to think he is indispensable we recall a quotation from Ed Thomas of the O.-W. shops that preaches a business sermon in a very few words.

On an occasion when it became necessary to make a change or two Ed did it with much regret for he deeply appreciated the ability of the men let out. In speaking of the incident he said: "The world needs us all; there is plenty of work for every mother's son of us to do; but the world can get along without any particular individual no matter what heights in his line of work he has mounted."

No more need ever be said, Ed Thomas spoke the whole thing in the commercial world when he uttered the foregoing remark.

The Methodist preachers are returning from the big event at Saratoga, New York. While everything may not have pleased them the proceedings in general were surely very gratifying from the happy look on the faces of the La Grande delegation.

The Knights made a night of it.

Did you know this is summer—summer—summer.

It would look like good business to have the buildings of the Oregon penitentiary insured. Why should the state carry its own insurance?

Only a few more days until the Union Stock show holds forth in all its glory and merit. Be sure and attend.

At last reports Cove had plenty of cherries and will hold her Cherry fair as usual.

New Coos River Boat Launched Coquille, Or., June 2.—The Relief, a product of Coquille's shipyard was successfully launched here yesterday. The boat is of 75 tons capacity and is owned by Captain David Perkins, who will use it on a regular schedule between here and Myrtle Point.

NEW MUSICIAN LOCATES

A. Bergerson, Skilled Musician Who Locates in City

La Grande is to have another violin school.

A. Bergerson, well known musician, has established a studio in Rex Hall, Room 2, and will immediately begin a class in violin instruction and be ready for any orchestra engagements. He will be associated in orchestra work with A. S. Quiter, well known cornetist.

The new instructor in violin will gladly play any composition submitted to him, and though he is somewhat of a stranger to most La Grande people, his reputation comes ahead of him. He is personally known to Alvin Snapp and other musicians of the city.

Mr. Bergeron has established an enviable reputation in Boston as a violin instructor and soloist and is a former member of the Boston Symphony Orchestra. He has studied under some of our most noted teachers of both America and Europe, and having a very extensive repertoire is considered one of the greatest violinists of the west. The methods used in teaching by Mr. Bergeron include:

- O. Seviak, Ch. De Beriot, Henry Siharadick, N. Paganini, 24 caprices, P. Rode, 24 caprices, F. Fiorillo, 36 caprices, R. Kreutzer, 42 studies.
