A most delightful two-party series at which Mrs. Grace Molitor and Mrs. W. D. McMillan were hostesses, opened the week's social events. Monday, guests were seated at 12 tables, including in bridge, and on Tuesday 500 was played by 36 guests. White and pink predominated in most delightful house decoration at Mrs. Molitor's home, No. 1616 Fourth. Great quantities of Portland roses of white and pink hues, were used artistically each day and as the guests arrived, they were presented with a rose favor, the hue corresponding to the score card of each. Anna Jane McMillan presided at the program distribution and, gowned with much taste, she made a striking child picture as she performed her function at the event.

Thomas. On the day of the second party Miss Runa Bacon, Miss Mariam Smith and Miss Bessie Allinson officiated as assistants.

WEDDINGS OF THE WEEK.

Two well known La Grande people were quietly married this week, in a unique way bringing to a happy marriage pleasant school-day friendship which began in the La Grande schools. Marie Bolton, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. S. N. Bolton, 501 Fourth was married Wednesday morning at 7:45 to Marjole Franklin Green, an employee of the La Grande National bank. Rev. Chas. A. Edwards of the Methodist church in which organization both are active as musicians and otherwise, performed the impressive ring ceremony with only the relatives of the participants present. Neither the groom's father, F. H. Green, of Minneapolis, nor Mr. Bolton who is in Riverside, could attend the wedding, but Mrs. Green was here. The bride wore a beautiful gown of taffeta with silk lace and carried roses. She was unattended.

About 8 o'clock the wedding party sat down to a delicious breakfast and then the bridal couple left by auto for upper Catherine creek where they will spend 10 days camping at the home of friends. On their return they will be at home in the Bolton home while Mrs. Bolton is in Portland for an extended stay.

Both are graduates of La Grande high, and while in school and since then, have been prominent in musical circles, the bride being a skilled pianist and pipe organist and the groom one of the city's foremost violinists.

On Wednesday afternoon a beautiful wedding took place at the Methodist parsonage, when Robert Stanley Shaw and Miss Ethel Grace Tally, both of North Powder were made husband and wife. The bride was robed in a creation of beauty, white satin and wore a bridal veil. A few friends witnessed the ceremony. Rev. Edwards used the ring service of the Methodist Episcopal church. The groom is a brother of Mrs. Eaton of Union, while the bride has made North Powder her home for years. They will move to the farm recently owned by Mr. Dillstrom where they will make their future home.

The Queen Esther Circle, a home missionary society of young women of the Methodist church met with Miss Avis Vinacke Friday evening. After a devotional service and brief business session election of officers for the ensuing year took place. The following officers were elected: President, Violet Rush, vice president Dorothy Haworth; recording secretary, Avis Vinacke; corresponding secretary, Marguerite Winters; treasurer, Eva Ruby; Mite Box secretary; Gladys Taylor; secretary of supplies, Irene Castle. Mrs. Winters is the director. The next meeting will be at the home of Mildred Oliver, 1802 First street, next Tuesday.

With Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd Scriber entertaining, the Pinochle club rang down the curtain on 1915-1916 sessions last evening. With guests for six tables playing the evening was spent in an enjoyable way. Mrs. Fred Ward, who with her daughter Madelyn, of Albany, are visitors at the Scriber home, being an honor guest. At pinochle Mrs. Herman Siegrist won high honors. Delicious refreshments were served and when the club adjourned it adjourned sine die.

The Priscilla club was most charmingly entertained by Mrs. Howard Davis and Mrs. G. T. Darland at Mrs. Darland's home on Depot street Thursday afternoon, June 15. Besides the club members there were four guests present. The hostesses served a lovely lunch which was very refreshing on that extremely warm afternoon.

A day or two ago a group of friends of Mrs. Fred Wright surprised her with much good cheer at her home on Cove avenue. Mrs. Wright soon precedes her husband to Seattle where they will make their home.

Mrs. Fred Kiddle of Island City entertained the Eastern Star social club this week at her suburban home, honors at cards going to Mrs. L. D. Howland. There will be no further meetings of this club until after Chautauqua.

Mrs. H. Stewart and daughter Daphne, of Pendleton, who were guests with Mr. and Mrs. W. J. Church this week, were honor guests at an informal dancing party given at Riverside park Wednesday evening. Miss Stewart remains but Mrs. Stewart returned to her home this morning.

Mrs. C. H. Upton entertained at her home, No. 1613 Fifth, Thursday afternoon an informal handiwork for the 11 girls who attended the Boys' and Girls' conference in Pendleton recently. Refreshments closed the afternoon.

A delightful party for a group of college students who have returned for the summer, was given Tuesday by the Misses Leona and Mary Newlin, recently returned from an extended trip to Spokane.

Miss Caroline Palmer entertained at the Vincent Palmer home Wednesday evening for a group of boys and girls. The evening was spent with games and refreshments.

Mrs. J. H. Nichols, wife of a prominent Baker attorney, has been a guest this week with Mrs. Harry Zarbrick, at No. 504 Main street.

FASHION NOTES.

Cause furriners in furrin parts. Wear furs in summer time. Our summer girls still keep it up. Sans reason and sans rhyme.

New York, June 16.—If you have a little mole on your shoulders then this summer you will be quite the thing.

Also ermine or kolinsky shoulders are more to be desired than bare shoulders, even if the bare shoulders be bear shoulders.

In plain words the summer girl prefers furs on her shoulders even to wings.

Like the snows of yesterday the snowy white foxes of last summer have vanished to give place to flat capes of unspotted ermine combined with moleskin, entire cape collars of kolinsky, all mole ones or all ermine ones.

They are very quaint, old-fashioned and bewitching so what matter if they be a bit uncomfortable when the thermometer, which is no respecter of furry fashions, begins to climb.

One lovely model of moleskin, shaped like a little triangular shawl, is edged with fringe of chenille and in fact all these little fur shoulder capes put more things on edge than teeth. A wide, straight piece of kolinsky that folds stiffly around the shoulders as if it were made of card board, fastens in front with two gorgeously enameled buttons and is edged in a fold of chiffon.

Yet another of mole cut like a semi-circle is finished with a tiny quilling of taupe satin and another of unspotted ermine is edged in lovely white scallops of itself. A stunning semi-circular cape of moleskin has a wide collar of ermine scalloped on the edge and a taupe ribbon ties in front that end in cunning ball pompons of the mole.

PICNIC ENJOYED

Perry Children and Parents Have an Outing

Perry, Ore., June 16.—Sunday, the 11th, the Perry Union Sunday school children, together with their parents enjoyed the annual picnic which the local organization gives each year in June. One hundred thirty sat down at noon in the shade of the cottonwood trees in Postmaster Lewis' grove, a half mile from Hilgard, and ate the splendid lunch, which everybody had contributed. The affair had been carefully planned by the superintendent and officers of the school, and after lunch all the children had an opportunity to race and play in various contests. The children and parents were taken to and from the picnic grounds, a distance of eight miles, in autos, Messrs. David Geddes, Peter Rogenson, Fred Borneman, W. W. Holden, and E. B. Donovan, very kindly donated their machines for the use of the school. All the cars made two trips, and some three, to and from the grounds. The children enjoyed this special feature immensely, although as many as eighteen small children were crowded into some of the cars. Swings were put up in the grove, and after nearly everyone on the grounds competing in the games played, the crowd was returned to Perry, everyone claiming they had a great time, and one to be remembered. On invitation, Miss Ada Roush, the La Grande photographer, accompanied the crowd, and "snapped" several pictures, in typical picnic fashion. Some of the children are now inquiring when the next picnic will be held, another year. It was an eventful day for the Perry people, and especially the children.
