CALIFORNIA "DRYING UP"

LA GRANDE WOMAN SO DE-CLARES AFTER SURVEY.

Lula Lorenz Weeks Writes Interestingly From the South.

Mrs. F. M. Weeks, nee Miss Lula R. Lorenz, former correspondent for northwest papers, who lived in La Grande and Pendleton for some years and who is now traveling with a first class theatrical company, writes as follows from California where the company has been since spring:
 "I left Portland the first of the year after spending a year in Cove, Union county, after the death of my husband and will now take up traveling for a few years no doubt as it affords an opportunity of seeing country that I could never get over otherwise, perhaps, but I always speak with pride of my eastern Oregon home. It is Oregon for me. Leaving Portland we came over the southern Oregon country, which has been greatly developed since my last trip through three years ago. Leaving Ashland we came over the famous Siskiyou mountains from the summit of which one can see Oregon to the north dotted with her glorious pines and orchards and to the south lies California, snow capped Mt. Shasta being the first thing of beauty to greet the eye.
 "California suffered a great loss to fruit this year from frosts, the grape crop being the most seriously injured. The principal harvest being reaped here at this time, however, is the "harvest of booze," so to speak, especially since Oregon and some other states have gone dry. The border towns have established large liquor houses and there is a flow of people in the state who gamble and fleece the drunkard.
 "Strong measures are now being taken to make California dry in 1920, and it is more than likely that it will carry. In fact, there seems to be no doubt in the minds of the people here that it will. It seems that liquor is being abused here to such an extent that in the past few years most of the state including many of the drinking people are in favor of a dry California. It is setting the higher minded people to thinking, and while there is a cry against it from some sources on account of the wine industry here and the slump it might cause for a short time, it is the general opinion that California will be the next dry state.
 "I think from here we go to Nevada and Utah. I see much of interest and enjoy meeting new people in my travels. It gives one an insight to human nature.
 "There is a cry of hard times here on account of the war, and conditions generally as is the case in most parts of the country especially in the west.
 "Washington, Oregon and Idaho are by far the better states for the man of moderate means to locate. California is practically developed. It will always be a great place for the tourist and the man of means, but for the poor man opportunities are rare. It is a beautiful country in many ways but much of its beauty is artificial and to my way of thinking Oregon is the most beautiful.

THOSE SUDDEN TWINGES.
 Bring Suffering to Many a La Grande Reader.

Pain is nature's signal of distress. A warning not to be ignored. Those sharp twinges in the back— Those sudden, stab-like pains when stooping. Are frequent signs of kidney trouble; Signs that must not be neglected. To remove kidney pains, you must assist the kidneys. Use a tested and proven kidney remedy. None more highly endorsed than Doan's Kidney Pills. J. D. Morrow, rancher and butcher, 517 Marie St., Pendleton, Ore., says: "I had pain in the small of my back for about three months. One box of Doan's Kidney Pills removed all these troubles." Price 50c at all dealers. Don't simply ask for a kidney remedy—get Doan's Kidney Pills—the same that Mr. Morrow had. ARCADE

STORY OF COMPELLING INTEREST.

"The Beckoning Flame," the Triangle offering at the Arcade Wednesday and Thursday is a powerful and picturesque story of old India. It is the kind of vehicle Ince likes to make because it presents such opportunities for scenic beauty and superb photography. The ancient custom of suttee described by Kipling—the immolation of a bride on the funeral pyre of her dead husband—is the hinge on which the plot hangs. Henry Woodruff as an attractive young Englishman is in the leading role ably supported by a talented Japanese actress, Tsuru Aoki. She is the young widow rescued from a horrible death in the fire only to yield to the beckoning flames when the English sweetheart of her rescuer comes to India and he is threatened of exposure and disgrace. The desert scenes and the burning of the lungalow in which the girl perishes are pictorially perfect. It has been compared in its dramatic force to "Madam Butterfly."

"Usual Funny Keystone," which will be at the Arcade Wednesday and Thursday introduces Joe Jackson, the popular Broadway tramp comedian and his bicycle. The bicycle is used with laughable effect and also to make a rescue when a child is floating away on a disabled motorboat. A hut blows up and there are numerous other situations in which the Triangle disregard for property and expense is shown whenever a legitimate effect is desired.

ents will move there from La Grande this week, and Miss Snider will visit some resort on the Oregon coast.
