Society News

One of the most delightful social events of the week occurred Monday afternoon at the park pavilion, when Mrs. Rose Coursen-Reed's former pupils, Mrs. A. B. Parker, Mrs. W. J. Church, Mrs. Harry M. Bouvy and Mrs. A. L. Richardson, entertained in honor of Mrs. Reed, immediately after her concert at the Chautauqua. California poppies were used profusely in decoration, little baskets of the flowers being artistically arranged on the mantel and on the table where an elegant centerpiece of white lace, covered yellow attracted much attention. During the afternoon more than a hundred people met Mrs. Reed, who was charming and gracious. Mrs. E. P. Mossman and Mrs. D. M. Clark presided at the punch bowl, and assisting in serving were the Misses Ruth Russell, Nell Grimmett, Zoe Bragg, Ethel Wright, Runa Bacon and Marjorie Silverthorn. Further assisting the hostesses were Mrs. Hal Bohnenkamp, Mrs. C. H. Upton and Miss Hattie Short. Many beautiful flowers were received by Mrs. Reed, one especially pretty basket of pink rosebuds being presented by her pupils in token of their high esteem for her. Her recital was extremely well rendered and equally well received. An embarrassing incident occurred in the middle of part two when, through a misunderstanding, the platform manager led some to believe that the program was concluded, but those who arose to leave discovered the mistake in time to return to their seats. Mrs. Reed is so skilled, and possessed with so melodious a voice, that when one affirms each of her numbers was handled with charm in a way that reflects credit on her talent and training, one has but meagerly told the story, broad as the statement is.

Marguerite Carney, daughter of Conductor Carney of this city, will sing Sunday evening at the Chautauqua, appearing as renderer of a group of two songs. Miss Carney, a girl of tender years, sang a few years ago and made a great impression. But since then she has been studying under first-class teachers and has displayed in private singing since her return to La Grande a few days ago, that her blindness will in no wise retard her career. She sang for Rose Coursen Reed a few days ago and the Portland lady was simply charmed with the voice. She declares that the young lady has had good training and that there is nothing needs be torn down. She is intimately interested in seeing Miss Carney's training carried out under the best tutors. Mrs. A. L. Richardson likewise heard her sing a few days ago, and she too is delighted with the technique the young lady displays. "Aside from having a charming voice, Miss Carney has delightful rhythm, and possesses keen talent in music."

All La Grande will be interested in hearing the talented young lady in her numbers Sunday evening.

Complimenting her cousin, Mrs. Fred Ward, of Albany, Mrs. Loyd Scriber was hostess at a delightful and informal party Saturday afternoon at the C. C. Pennington home. The house was artistically decorated with rosebuds. Mrs. P. A. Foley and Miss Henrietta Foley rendered several beautiful vocal selections. Miss Mary Pennington assisted in serving dainty refreshments. Those who were invited in to meet Miss Ward were, the Mesdames P. A. Foley, Roscoe Neill, Ted Ludlam, Frank Bay, A. A. Siegrist, Claude Mackey, Will Siegrist, Herman Siegrist, Guy Buffington, Robt. Eakin, H. Zurbrick, J. G. Snodgrass, H. M. Bay, Arch Bacon, L. L. Snodgrass, Nate Ardrey A. W. Nelson, Norman Desilet, Misses Horan, Irene Murphy, Henrietta Foley and Mary Pennington.

A simple but impressive wedding ceremony was performed Wednesday evening at the Presbyterian parsonage which united in marriage Miss Minnie A. Ladd and Mr. Harry H. Last, Rev. G. L. Clarke officiating and only immediate relatives of the couple attending. The bride was attended by her sister Mrs. R. Nichols of Wallowa and the groom chose as his best man Mr. Nichols.

Mr. and Mrs. Last left on the evening's train for a trip to Portland and Tacoma and upon their return will be at home to their friends at 2802 N. Ash.

Monday afternoon Mrs. Tom Williamson entertained the F. A. F. club and a few friends at her home. Card honors were won by Mrs. Safford, with Mrs. Hanford second. Consolation went to Mrs. Hughes. Light refreshments were served. This is the last meeting of the club this season. Those present were the Mesdames B. W. Hughes, L. S. Hanford, T. W. King, W. H. Safford, Harley Smith, D. R. Tanner, J. P. Graham, G. L. Biggers, Bleucher, C. Zimmerman, W. J. Spencer, C. Weaver and Miss Loelette King.

Mr. Will H. Vogel, of Union, and Miss Elizabeth Ryan, of Albany, were married in Salem on Tuesday, June 27, 1916. The groom is a well known resident and business man of Union and is also a member of the Levy-Vogel drug company of La Grande. The bride was formerly a teacher in the Union public school and later occupied a similar position at Albany. Announcements received by friends of Mr. and Mrs. Vogel state that they will be "at home" in Union July 10th.

Thursday the G. A. R. and W. R. C. met and proceeded in a body to go to the park, where they listened to the marine band. The Old Soldiers were notably aroused when the band struck up Dixie, and other patriotic airs. After the concert in the afternoon, a picnic dinner was spread in the pavilion, which was thoroughly enjoyed by all.

John W. Hill and Rose Haynes, both of Union, were married in La Grande Tuesday of this week, the Methodist minister officiating. Mr. and Mrs. Hill left at once for a trip to Idaho and will return to Union in about a week.

Mrs. Eva Daley, formerly of this city but now of Portland, is visiting friends here.

Miss Martha Watson of Seattle is here visiting friends for a few days.

Program to be rendered by the Elks' band at Chautauqua Sunday afternoon:

- March, "Universal Peace"—Lampe. Overture, "The Champion," Weiland.

to this world. If any one of you men in this audience kiss them you would die of painter's colic.

Cigaretts and Future

"Neither am I opposed to using tobacco in moderation. I enjoy a cigar after dinner, when I am sitting around a big fireplace in your hotels out here in the west with a number of business men around me and we are talking and smoking. But there is no use for cigarettes. The man who smokes cigarettes don't need to worry about his future—he has none. If all the cigarettes which are smoked in a year were placed end to end they would go 125 times around the world. That is some smoke, is it not?"

Message to Garcia

"In the Spanish war Rowan delivered a message to Garcia. The man who is filled with pep, who does things is always called upon to do big things when the time comes. Rowan did not stop to ask where or how or why. He just took the message and delivered the goods. He saved the lives of thousands of soldiers. He did what thousands of other Garcias are doing today because they have the pep. There are many opportunities today for carrying the message to the needy in this world."

CHAUTAUQUA SIDELIGHTS

Riverside Park, July 1.—When some 400 or 500 people get the same notion into their heads, they are likely to get results. Therefore the individuals who have been destroying and stealing food from iceboxes, both in daylight and in dark, better ease up a bit for it will be a sorry day for the fellows if they are caught. The belief prevails that young boys are doing it, and these said young boys will get a thrashing they will remember if they get caught. The campers are so thoroughly keyed up over the depredations, such as throwing food out of iceboxes and destroying it for the mere fun of the thing, that parentage and will count for little. If the camp hears of some young man undergoing a sound spanking it will be prima facie evidence that the thieves have been run and are being punished as they should be.

The novelty of camping is wearing off and the good people who have braved the elements are settling down to more or less of a hum-drum life. The only difference is that people retire later than usual, or more correctly speaking, at an earlier hour the next day.

The Mawson pictures thrown on the screen last evening were seen by a fairly good crowd. Intensely instructing, the pictures were watched with keen interest. The Mawson expedition was richer in interesting topics than even the Scott journey. As afternoon attractions Labadie and the Elite trio were the numbers. Both were generally received with good applause.

Tomorrow night comes the Kaffir choir and it must not be forgotten that this is generally admitted to be the big entertaining number on the program.
