

Take Lithia Tablets

The most convenient way to take lithia is in the soluble form. Dissolve a tablet in a tumbler of water and instantly you have a sparkling, effervescent drink. It is very palatable. It tones up the stomach and will overcome conditions of the system which cause rheumatism and gout.

For minor kidney and bladder ills there is nothing better.

TWO FACTIONS HUNT MATERIAL

is very much to Oregon's liking. The Wets' investigators on the other hand come here to find facts to prove that Oregon is going to the bow-wows since she mounted the water wagon.

An organized protest was made here against a circular distributed by the California Grape Protective association. This circular said that since prohibition became effective, "Portland, the largest city in the state, has entered the worst financial and industrial period of its history."

But in refuting these charges, Northwest businessmen are extremely cautious. They want to be neutral. They aren't sure they are through with liquor yet. The prohibition measure goes on the ballots again this fall, and the voters again will decide whether the water wagon shall survive.

So, when the California investigators say that Pacific Northwest cities are on the road to ruin, the businessmen who want to refute these statements must grind their teeth in neutral rage and pass out as many figures as possible to show the correct condition of affairs. The bankers won't say a word. But they present these figures:

Portland—Bank clearings January 1 to June 1, 1916 increased $10,405,667 over the same period of 1915. An increase in deposits of $7,865,709 for Portland and $12,693,421 for the entire state is shown between January 1 and May 1. Loans and discounts increased $4,905,120; of 332 saloon buildings vacated Jan. 1 all but 21 have been occupied.

Seattle—Clearings for the first six months of 1916 were $350,349,975 as against $296,497,097 for the same period in 1915.

Spokane—Deposits in 13 Spokane banks in June, 1916 were $37,702,459 as against $30,997,558 in June, 1915. Clearings for the same period "showed substantial increases over the same period in 1915," according to R. L. Rutter, president of a Spokane bank, who refused to comment on the effect of prohibition in the financial world.

Determined to be neutral, bankers would rather have California people believe sun-spots are responsible for prosperity, or poverty, whichever the versatile investigators happen to find, than to have them attribute these things to prohibition.
