MEAT CAUSE OF KIDNEY TROUBLE

Take a glass of Salts if your Back hurts or Bladder bothers—Meat forms uric acid.

If you must have your meat every day, eat it, but flush your kidneys with salts occasionally, says a noted authority who tells us that meat forms uric acid which almost paralyzes the kidneys in their efforts to expel it from the blood.

HAY HARMED BY LATE RAINS

NORTH POWDER RANCHERS FEEL ILL EFFECTS.

Sunday School Convention Set Down for July 23.

North Powder, July 19.—(Special)—The rain on Monday has spoiled a lot of hay for the ranchers of this vicinity as most of them were in the midst of it. The hay is turning out better than expected at first as the late frosts damaged it a great deal. However the help to the grain will counterbalance the damage to the hay as the grain is a fine crop and gives promise of a heavy yield under favorable conditions.

Ellis Hess was taken to La Grande on Monday by Dr. Irvine for an operation for appendicitis. He was in grave danger it was understood.

A number of young people were entertained at the ranch home of Dr. and Mrs. Law on July 14th, the occasion being the twentieth birthday of their son Chas. J. Law. The young man was surprised, as he knew nothing about the affair until the young people began to arrive. Mr. and Mrs. John Burdette helped in the entertainment as their son Robert Burdette was 22 years old the same day. The young people spent some time in different amusements when they were called to a fine birthday supper to which they did ample justice. They left for home wishing the young men many more birthdays as full of fun as this one had been. Those present were Lewis Bidelier, Mark Phy, Floyd Maxwell, Rita Nodine, Rita Gale, Ethel Bidelier and Dorothy Townley, from Union. Robert Burdette, Chas. Law and Elsie Dalton of North Powder. The young people present assured the young men that they would surprise them again next year.

Oscar Jacobson has purchased a Reo six and Floyd Wiltshire has purchased a Reo four from Forstrom-Pileher. These gentlemen are now learning the outs and ins of motoring and are very apt pupils.

Carl Jacobson has sold out his garage to Forstrom-Pileher and will now follow some other line of business.

A party of young people were joy riding the other night and found when out from town a few miles that they had run out of gas. After a debate lasting some time two of the young men walked a mile to a ranch house and got some distillate and a young man with a car to take them to their machine. This is the second time this happened in two evenings following each other. Someone will have to chaperone this crowd and look out and keep the gas tank full for them.

North Powder is preparing for the Sunday school convention on July 23. It is to be hoped that there will be a large crowd present as everyone is anticipating a good time.

Sunday School Convention. An all day Sunday school convention was held at North Powder Sunday. A lover creek, Jimmie creek and Teleskett also participated. Rev. W. A. Winters was one of the speakers.

Work at Union Junction. The O. W. R. & N. Co. have moved a steam shovel to Union Junction and are doing a small amount of work there.

No Prescriptions for Alcohol. Every physician in Pendleton has signed a resolution, declaring that no prescription for alcohol of any sort would be issued by them.

Fresh Outbreak Feared. A fresh outbreak of rabies in Eastern Oregon is feared by stockmen near Pendleton, who have reported several coyotes attacking stock again.

MARK TWAIN'S HOME.

Its Charm and Hospitality and the Motto it Lived Up To.

Many frequenters have tried to express the charm of Mark Twain's household. Few have succeeded, for it lay not in the house itself nor in its furnishings, beautiful as these things were, but in the personality of its occupants, the daily round of their lives, the atmosphere which they unconsciously created. From its wide entrance hall and tiny jewel-like conservatory below to the billiard room at the top of the house it seemed perfectly appointed, serenely ordered and full of welcome.

The home of one of the most unusual and unaccountable personalities in the world was filled with gentleness and peace. It was Mrs. Clemens who was chiefly responsible. She was no longer the half timid, inexperienced girl he had married. Association, study and travel had brought her knowledge and confidence. When the great ones of the world came to visit America's most picturesque literary figure, she gave welcome to them and filled her place at his side with such sweet grace that those who came to pay their duties to him often returned to pay still greater devotion to his companion.

William Dean Howells, so often a visitor there, once said to the writer: "Words cannot express Mrs. Clemens—her fineness, her delicate, wonderful tact." And again, "She was not only a beautiful soul, but a woman of singular intellectual power."

There were always visitors in the Clemens home. Above the mantel in the library was written, "The ornament of a house is the friends that frequent it" and the Clemens home never lacked of these ornaments, and they were of the world's best. No distinguished person came to America that did not pay a visit to Hartford and Mark Twain. Generally it was not merely a call, but a stay of days. The welcome was always genuine, the entertainment unstinted.—Albert Bigelow Paine in St. Nicholas.

SHAKESPEARE'S WORKS.

The Precious First Edition Quartos Are Now Next to Priceless.

Few literary prophecies have been so strikingly fulfilled as that of the "newer writer" who in the Preface which followed the revised title of the first edition of "Troilus and Cressida" (1609) predicted of Shakespeare that "when he is gone and his commodities out of use you will scramble for them and set up a new Englishquisition."

The number of first editions in quarto of Shakespeare's plays now known to exist is 144, with two fragments, of which, eighty, are in public ownership and sixty-four in private ownership. These volumes are worth not merely their weight in gold, but their weight in banknotes of high denominations. They represent sixteen different plays, two of them having double texts, making an average of eight copies of each, and those which were most popular having already been pirated—"Romeo and Juliet," the first "Hamlet," "Henry V." and the "Merry Wives"—muster only seventeen copies among them.

The authors of "A Census of Shakespeare's Plays in Quarto, 1594-1709" (Yale University Press), Henrietta Bartlett and Alfred Pollard, estimate that most of Shakespeare's plays printed in quarto received editions of 1,200 copies each. The wear and tear of the centuries has thus disposed of many thousands of these priceless books. The total is much larger if we add the quartos which appeared after the first editions, but before the "authorized" folio editions of 1623, issued by Shakespeare's colleagues of the theater. The survivals alone of these intermediate quartos number 301 copies, of which 144 are in public and 157 in private ownership.—New York Post.

The "S O S" Call. The original wireless signal of distress at sea, "C Q D," was adapted from the old "all stations" or general call of line telegraphy. But at the first international wireless congress it was suggested and approved that a better call was "S O S," which, by its arrangement of dots and dashes, is different from any other call.

"S O S" has no special meaning. It is not intended to express "Save our souls" or anything else equally dramatic. This call is an international one and has the same meaning in all languages.

Aeroplane "Loops." The first person ever to "loop the loop" in an aeroplane was M. A. Pezoud, in May, 1913. The first woman to "loop the loop" was Miss Davies, but she was a passenger. The first woman to "loop the loop" alone was Miss Katherine Stinson. Probably the record for "looping the loop"—although unofficial—is that listed as performed by a Russian, who is said to have made forty-six loops continuously.—New York Times.

Mrs. Newlywed's Troubles. Mrs. Newlywed (in tears)—I just don't care! I'm going to give up house-keeping. Her Dearest Friend—What! When you took a special course at college in domestic science! Mrs. Newlywed (sobbing)—I know, but—but I can't find a butcher that did!—Judge.

Beyond Question. Diner—These eggs are strictly fresh? You are quite sure? Waiter—Yes, sir. The chef boiled them for himself and hadn't time to eat them, sir.—New York Globe.

A young man gets, an old man needs.—Italian Proverb.
