SPORT PROGRAM PROVES GOOD

GOOD MIXTURE OF BOXING SEEN BY MEMBERS.

Disposition to Work Hard and Please Shown by All Actors.

It was a bloomin' good show—that given by the Motor club last evening for members and visiting riders.
Commencing about 9 o'clock in the evening the fun and amusement continued until the stroke of 12. As a boxing card, it excelled, easily, any purely boxing program in La Grande for a long, long time. Referee Emahiser was introduced before 9 o'clock and until nearly 11 was busy calling up events that kept the interest at white heat. The performances displayed advanced heavy and light weight science and unscientific milling but through it all a good clean sport.
Every actor worked hard.

"Lynx" Larsen and Davy Johnson were the first performers—they milled it every inch of the way and put up a fine exhibition of give and take. Honors were about even with Johnson landing the oftener but not with the power that Larsen did on his more scattered blows.

Bobby Kent, about 140 of Portland, had the best of a stiff argument with Jimmy Dunham who was lighter, and though a fairly good defensive fighter, the more scientific and aggressive foe.
Bobby Lyman and Eddie Ford brought out the best science of the evening when Lyman toyed with his opponent. The bantam ex-champion put on some of the classiest foot, head and arm work seen in a long time hereabouts, and from time to time punched Ford hard to demonstrate he has a punch. Lyman's catlike agility brought out the admiration of the spectators.

Vic Berger, the heavyweight, who fights tonight, then grilled it up with Lyman for several rounds, and this bout furnished good exhibition of scientific boxing—the heavier, surer type of the heavy man, and the lightning passes, dodging and ducking of the lighter.

Berger also took on Pat Foley and George Noble for a couple of rounds each and these events kept the audience on edge with amusement, and, incidentally, they saw some clever boxing too.

In between acts shadow boxing and some clever rope skipping had been exhibited by both Berger and Lyman, the latter especially introducing several intricate skip movements.
At this point the meeting adjourned to the Foley grill.

Over the festive visiting riders and club members were introduced and visited, each of the half score riders present arising and speaking a few words. Race Manager Neal presided at the introduction of riders; Chase Bohnenkamp related briefly the history of the club; the financial end was discussed by Harley Richardson.
After that numerous visitors, club members, boxers and riders were called on and the pleasant evening was brought to a close just about the time Friday was peeping over the clock. The entertainment committee with Secretary E. Vehrs at its head was fittingly showered with compliments on the evening's program.
