PERSONAL MENTION

Miss Ruby Theisen has returned from a visit in Spokane.

C. O. Ramsey has returned from a business trip in eastern Washington.

Mrs. J. D. Lynch and two children left this morning for Wichita, Kans., to visit relatives.

Lee Drake, of the East Oregonian, is among the Pendleton advance guard and is registered at the Foley.

Mrs. G. E. Ahlquist, who has been in the hospital the past three weeks, was able to return to her home today.

Mrs. Alice Smith, who has been visiting her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Ed Ayers, returned today to her home in Elgin.

Hon. R. N. Stanfield, representative for Umatilla and Morrow counties, is a Speed 'Em Up visitor from Stanfield.

Attorney Frederick Steiwer is among the arrivals from Pendleton. Mr. Steiwer is a cousin of Julius Roesch of this city.

Wm. M. McMurray, general passenger agent of the O.-W. R. & N., arrived from Portland this morning and will remain for the day.

Mrs. Mary Hendricks, wife of Street Superintendent Hendricks, and two children left this morning for Blackfoot, Idaho, where she goes to visit a daughter.

Mrs. Grover Good returned this morning from Salt Lake where she has been on a visit of a month with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Chas. Baker.

A Beautiful Figure and Absolute Summer Comfort Assured to the Woman Who Wears

Warner's Rustproof Corsets

Perfection in corsets has been reached in these new models. They are fashionably correct, giving a proper foundation for the costume; thus distinctively emphasizing all the new style lines. Being constructed along health giving lines, they give the proper support to the figure and not only may be worn in comfort, but actually give rest and ease to the body.

Don Sargent, representative of the Western Loan and Building association with headquarters at Baker, is in La Grande to remain over Sunday.

Mrs. Fred W. Weatherford and daughter Evelyn who have been visiting Mrs. Weatherford's parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Holman, returned to their home in Olex this morning.

W. S. Wines, who has been in Baker the past five months left this morning, after a short visit with his family in La Grande, for Portland where he will be connected with a saddlery establishment.

Mrs. Ray Logan, Dr. Dora Underwood and Mrs. R. E. Menefee, of Portland, formed an automobile party which left La Grande this morning to spend the week-end at Wallowa lake. They will return Monday.

F. J. Alex. Mayer came from Portland today for the purpose of representing the insurance companies' interests in the adjustment of the loss entailed in the fire in Mrs. James' house on Monroe avenue Thursday.

Rev. T. H. Wood and family and Rev. Wood's mother, Mrs. O. C. Wood, are here from Burton, Wash., visiting with Mrs. C. R. Simpkins. Rev. Wood will speak tomorrow evening at the Lane Memorial chapel on the North side.

Chief Dispatcher J. F. Corbett returned this morning from Portland and was accompanied by Mrs. Corbett who has been under hospital treatment for several weeks. While considerably weakened by the long siege of illness Mrs. Corbett is perceptibly on the mend and complete recovery appears now assured.

Frank Floyd has returned from The Dalles where the remains of his father, the late A. Floyd, were taken for interment. The funeral at The Dalles was very largely attended by old friends of the deceased. General Superintendent M. J. Buckley, F. Coykendall, Johnny Mattheson, and others prominent in railroad circles, were among the attendants.

Jas. H. Gwinn, who some years ago claimed La Grande as his home at which time he was in the mercantile trade, came over from Pendleton this morning as a sort of an advance guard of the delegation which is to arrive from the Round-Up city tomorrow. Mr. Gwinn says there will be a large number come on the special train and still others will make the trip over the mountain in machines. A good many from Pendleton are here already.

W. F. Koontz, a locomotive engineer who lived in La Grande a good many years ago, is here from his home in Marshalltown, Iowa, on a visit of a couple of weeks. In 1897 he left La Grande for the east on a leave of absence, and this proved to be his farewell to the engine cab as he never returned to railroad work from that day to this. He ran a big farm a couple of years but finally disposed of his farming interest and lately has just been traveling around. This is his first return trip in nearly 20 years.

NEW YORK MOOSE PEEVED.

Fusion with Democrats not Impossible Rumors States.

Syracuse, N. Y., July 22.—The New York Progressive State committee may bolt the "Perkins Program" to endorse Hughes for President and Charles S. Whitman for governor and make plans to fuse with the Democrats on state and national tickets this fall, at its meeting here today. There have been many indications among the Progressive clubs in New York City and in the organization throughout the state that George W. Perkins' so-called "delivery" of the Progressives to the Republicans at Chicago and the proposed "delivery" of them to Whitman here today may not be countenanced. The Democratic conference, or sort of unofficial state convention which will be held at Saratoga early in August is expected to number many prominent New York Progressives among its visitors, if not among its members. and Bainbridge Colby of New York County Chairman James J. O'Connell City are here to lead today's fight against the endorsement of Hughes and Whitman. The fight in favor of endorsing the pair will be led today by George W. Perkins, William H. Hotchkiss, William Hamlin Childs, and Horace S. Wilkinson. The meeting is expected to be one of the liveliest political fights New York has seen in many a day. Should the Moose fuse with the Democrats on a state ticket this fall, it is not considered unlikely that they will have as a candidate for governor Judge Samuel Seabury of the Court of Appeals. This is problematical and purely speculative at this early date, however, of course.
