ONE KILLED; ONE INJURED

TOURIST MEETS DEATH IN BAKER COUNTY.

Train Hits Machine Near Weatherly Station—Was Idaho Machine.

Frank Wiegandt was almost instantly killed and his companion was seriously injured last night when O. W. R. & N. train No. 129 with Conductor Tom King and Engineer Wallnum, hit an automobile at the railroad crossing east of Weatherly.

The machine was completely demolished for the engine hit it squarely. Both men were taken aboard and hastened to Huntington where Wiegandt died and his injured companion was hurried to the hospital at Weiser. A coronor's jury pronounced the accident unavoidable and absolved the company and trainmen from blame. It was apparent that the men were strangers as they were in an Idaho machine, and the presumption is that they had been in Washington state probably to register at the Spokane land drawing.

FOREST RANGES ARE FINE

Great Year for Stockmen Is Reported by Supervisor

The forest ranges this year are stockmen's paradise, judging from conditions as described by W. W. Cryder, supervisor of the Umatilla forest, who has just returned from a three weeks trip over the area under his control. There is lots of water, lots of grass and no coyotes, he says. The absence of coyotes was marked. The herders and rangers have found many dead bodies on the range, making it evident that rabies itself has been the cause of their demise. The hard winter was too much for the diseased animals in their weakened condition. During the entire time he was out he saw one young coyote and heard two others bark. Those were the only signs that the animals were still in existence. He spent some time on the headwaters of Ellis and Taylor creeks where, in past years, there have been innumerable coyotes. There was a complaint from one herder that his sheep had been attacked by a bear, but that was the only instance of the depredations of that animal, he said. He was not inclined to believe that Bruin would cause much trouble this year, even considering the fact that the berry crop, because of the heavy late frosts, would not be large and would force the animals to seek other feed.

Fire danger is at a minimum this year. There is still much time for timber to be destroyed, however, for the danger season is from the fifth to the fifteenth of August. During the past month there has been a great deal of cool weather in the forest, accompanied with heavy frosts and the small ones, in many cases probably will die out of themselves. Notwithstanding the feeling that this will be a good year for the timber, the rangers are not relaxing their vigilance in keeping the forest safe from fire.

Mr. Cryder found the game plentiful in the forest. He saw several deer. The birds are still on the rims, however, and will not come down for some weeks yet, but he believes will be plentiful later in the year.

"Two years ago I suffered from frequent attacks of stomach trouble and biliousness," writes Miss Emma Verbyrke, Lima, Ohio.
