The ladies of the Catholic church contributed to the midsummer social gaities of the city in a most delightful manner last Wednesday afternoon when about one hundred and forty ladies were entertained at bridge whist and five hundred on the lawn of the Julius Roesch home on Fourth street. The lawn, with the hedge enclosure and spreading shade trees which lent to the scene an air of home like privacy, furnished a charming setting for what was pronounced to be one of the season's most pleasing social affairs.

Following the games in which favors for bridge went to Mesdames L. M. Hoyt and Robert Pattison, and for five hundred to Mesdames E. C. Tuckey and W. H. Talbot, a tasteful lunch was served on the lawn and thoroughly enjoyed by all.

August 24th about 30 of the friends and relatives of Mrs. Sarah J. Lash gave her a pleasant surprise party in honor of her 88th birthday, at the home of her daughter, Mrs. E. Guthridge at 1702 Cove avenue. The party engaged in the usual pleasures of such occasions, repeating of poetry, and parts of scripture, music and each lady repeating a verse, Mrs. Lash more familiarly known as “Grandma” Lash repeated from her remarkably good memory the following:

“Love is the sweetest bud that blows, its beauties never dies, On earth it grows and ripens in the skies. Pure glowing red and spotless white, its perfect colors are in Jesus, All its sweetness glows, and looks Divinely fair.”

And also quoted from the Psalms: “Thus far the Lord has brought me, thus far my days prolong.”

To add to the pleasures of the day, a post-card “shower” and also numerous letters from her many friends in Illinois, and Elgin, Oregon, were received and read later in the evening.

A photographer being present a portrait of Grandma and her fourth generation, including her daughter, Mrs. Guthridge, grand daughter, Mrs. J. W. Fleshman, and little great-granddaughter Miss Hazel Fleshman, four years old. She received some very pretty and useful presents.

The enjoyment of the occasion was completed by refreshments served in the decorated dining room.

The party consisted mostly of old ladies, Grandma being the oldest. Mrs. Lash was born in Indiana, moved to Illinois in her twenties, later to Missouri, and to Oregon 16 years ago and has been a resident of La Grande ever since.

She has very good health and strength, and a remarkably good memory, and it is hoped and wished by all that she may live to enjoy many more of these pleasant occasions.

Miss Margaret Corbett and Miss Mary Jane Penington were charming hostesses Tuesday afternoon when they entertained at the C. C. Penington home at a handkerchief shower for Miss Cecile Lilly, the fiancée of Hill W. Templeton. Needlework occupied much of the attention of the afternoon, after which a dainty two-course luncheon was served. The dining room was artistically decorated in pink cupids suspended from the ceiling and a huge bell hung over the bride-elect's chair. At the proper time this bell showered the young lady with many beautiful handkerchiefs. The table was beautifully decorated in delicate shades of pink sweet peas which conformed with the decorations used throughout the rooms. Those whom the young ladies entertained were: Miss Lilly, Miss Helen Currey, Miss Mary Alice Hill, Miss Leona Newlin, Miss Bessie Allison, Miss Madeline Bollons, Miss Lorraine Staley, Miss Ruth Gaskill, Miss May Neill, Miss Irene Murphy, Miss Henrietta Foley, Miss Lillian McDonald, Mrs. Roscoe Neal, Mrs. Clarence Charboneau.

The first annual picnic of the O. N. S. Get-Together club was held at Wallowa lake, August 12th and 13th. This club is composed of students and graduates of the Oregon Normal school from Wallowa and Union counties. The picnicers were so ably entertained by the friends of the normal in and near Joseph. The committee in charge is especially indebted to Mr. and Mrs. C. O. Ragsdale and Mrs. Edna Tooley for their kindness. A splendid spirit so characteristic of this normal was shown on every hand as each member present enthusiastically held up the high standards of the Crimson and Gray.

The president, Miss Mary Wells, of Aieel, is very enthusiastic and has many interesting plans for this club. Next year the picnic will be held near La Grande where Union county will be the hostess for Wallowa county. A big gathering is expected.

One of the greatest social events of the season was the luncheon given by Mrs. Dan Sommer at her home in Elgin Friday morning. The Sommer home was a bower of pink in which carnations formed the basis and many guests were entertained. In the afternoon the diversion consisted of auction bridge and five hundred. In addition to the home guests there were many from other localities present to enjoy the splendid hospitality of the hostess. From La Grande the guest list included Mesdames Wm. Bollons, L. A. McAlister, C. H. Finn, H. M. Bouvy, J. F. O'Connell, G. H. Rush, H. E. Collidge, G. S. Levy and Wm. Ash. Special guests from other localities were Mrs. Rosa Rosenthal and daughter, Carolyn of Spokane; Misses Mary and Fanny Sommer of San Francisco; Mrs. Belle Castle of Portland; Mrs. Wm. Lightner, of Baker; and Mrs. Bruce Cox of Wallowa. The guests are all of one opinion as to the reception accorded them and that is in effect that it was one of the social triumphs of the season.

Another happy chapter in the life of Jane Wilson aged 81 years, who has been an invalid for the past three years, occurred Thursday afternoon at the home of her daughter Mrs. W. A. Wade, No. 1511 Adams, when a group of ladies surprised the aged lady on the event of her 81st birthday anniversary. Mrs. Wade had in as guests for the afternoon to meet her mother, Miss Mary Warnick, Mrs. Denning, Mrs. Charles Miller, Mrs. Christ Miller, Mrs. Walker, Mrs. C. W. Noyes and Mrs. Whiteside, who is Mrs. Wilson's nurse. The day was spent in a delightful way felicitating Mrs. Wilson and showering her with good wishes and good cheer. Though suffering from rheumatism, Mrs. Wilson's disposition is always cheery and pleasant and the surprise party for her will help her to keep smiling.

Mrs. Gert M. Swaney, for a long time a resident of La Grande, was married in the Swedish Lutheran church parsonage at Seattle, August 23, to Karl Joseph Edenhelm, a co-maker at the Toggery, who met Mrs. Swaney at Seattle after her return from an extended tour of Alaska. The wedding was performed by the Reverend R. Rasmussen. They will return to La Grande about September 1st, where they will make their home. The wedding was quiet. It came, however, as a surprise to the principals' many friends in La Grande. The wedding was the happy climax of a splendid trip into Alaska. Attorney and Mrs. F. S. Ivanhoe and Mrs. Swaney of La Grande and Laura B. Nash of Pendleton composed the party. They

ADDITIONAL PERSONALS.

Attorney John S. Hodgins went up to North Powder today on legal matters.

John Reeves, a Grand Army veteran of Union, is visiting relatives and friends in La Grande.

J. A. Horan, who recently became the proprietor of a meat market establishment in Joseph, is in La Grande on business matters and expects to return to the terminal town tomorrow. Mr. Horan has already become an enthusiast over everything pertaining to Wallowa county.

Back From Colorado.

Wm. Wigglesworth returned last week from a trip to Colorado, where he went looking up a good range for cattle. He not only visited various Colorado points, but stopped in Idaho and made some investigations. He did not find what he was looking for, and returns to the Grande Ronde satisfied that this beautiful and productive valley is the best he ever saw.—Union Republican.

Moore-Jolly Wedding. About two weeks ago Oliver Moore and Miss Reva Jolly of Union slipped away to Dayton, Wash., where they were quietly united in marriage. Oliver returned to this city after being absent only a few days but his bride did not return till last Saturday. The newly weds will make their home on a ranch west of town. Oliver is one of the best known and highly respected of our young men and Miss Jolly was one of the most prominent young ladies of our sister city and each have a host of friends who wish them all joys possible.—North Powder News.

Fred H. Mink, signal keeper at Telocaset, was married by Justice of the Peace Williams Aug. 22nd to Etha Griffith of Telocaset.

We notice Silverthorn's Family Drug Store is much torn up during the remodeling of the building, which is practically a real new building from cellar to garret. It is quite a task to reconstruct a drug store where such a large and widely assorted stock is carried and yet we notice they seem to be very busy and enjoy a large patronage during this remodeling. Their new fixtures are all white enamel and very plain and modern as the best in any part of the country east or west. The new arrangement
