Cambridge, Mass., Sept. 7.—With Eddie Mahan lost to the team by graduation, and with such stars as Don Wallace, Ernie Soucy, Don Watson, Ken Parson, Dick King and Ross Cowan also gone by the same route, Harvard's 1916 football squad trotted onto the field today for its first fall workout. Two, perhaps three of the men started in the game last fall in which the Crimson ran wild against Yale, will be in the lineup this fall. Captain Hal Dadmun, guard, and Dick Harte, end, were on the field today and Billy Boles, who withdrew last winter from college, has sent word that he will be back. Field Coach Leo H. Leary will be in charge of the squad along with Capt. Dadmun until Percy Haughton, who is president of the Boston National League Baseball club, can leave his duties in Boston and get into action. Morning and afternoon sessions will be the lot of the candidates for the first two weeks. Capt. Dadmun will be in charge in the morning sessions and Coach Leary in the afternoon. Raggie Brown, Harvard's "scout coach," who watches the big teams in action and then reports back to Harvard, will assist Leary early in the session. Brown's work is one of the most important parts of Harvard's coaching system. He does out the plays of rival eleveners for the scrub teams and then sends them against the varsity in those formations. The varsity squad maps out a defense against these plays in order to become accustomed to them. His work is expected to prove a valuable part of the training for this year's "unbeaten" team. Parker and Don Wallace will help the linemen learn the intricacies of Haughton's style of play, Dick Wig-lesworth will have charge of the quarterbacks, and Gil Browne will coach the ends. Five "H" men besides Capt. Dadmun and Harte will be available. They are Coolidge, end; Morse Taylor, guard; Horween and Robinson, backs; and Harris, a clever center. Robinson is the man on whom Harvard Football fans are pinning their hopes. He has showed marked proficiency in field goal kicking, and with proper coaching he is expected to develop into a kicker fit to fill the shoes of Charles Brickley, the man who sent Harvard victories sailing over goal posts when the backs were unable to plunge their way through the field. Coly college will be the opening attraction for Cambridge. Harvard will meet this eleven Sept. 23.

Chief Johnson, the Indiana pitcher, who was with Cincinnati and then hopped to the Feds, thereby becoming the bones of contention between the Feds and organized baseball, again is in the limelight. He has strayed from the narrow path and Manager Hamilton Patterson of the Vernon Pacific Coast League club has threatened him with suspension. Johnson's career has been of the proverbial creaked kind, but he still has it in him to become a great pitcher if he will stick to training.

Tub Spencer is the greatest example in baseball of what perseverance will do. Once a big leaguer and renowned as a great catcher, he was stricken with illness and a fondness for the bright lights. He completely disappeared from the game and then one day popped up in the Pacific coast league. He steadily developed, kept away from the night life and now is with Detroit, catching some great games. He is one of the few to come back and make a good job of it.

Suffragists Gather in Atlantic City.

Atlantic City, Sept. 6.—Hundreds of the nation's most prominent suffragists came here today to decide what attitude to take toward the Republicans and Democrats in the presidential campaign. The National American Woman Suffrage association called this emergency convention and invited both Hughes and Wilson to address it. There is some indication that, even though the convention may not declare positively in favor of Mr. Hughes, the bulk of the membership's influence may be swung to him because he has declared in favor of the passage of the Susan B. Anthony federal amendment granting national suffrage, while Mr. Wilson has not. The convention will last four days. Today will be given over to a three-cornered debate in which each suffrage leader will give her view of the situation in a ten minute talk. They will discuss whether the members should stop working for a federal amendment and seek state legislation, or stop state work and concentrate on the federal amendment, or work for both, as they have done. These arguments will be led by Miss Laura Clay of Kentucky, Miss Kate Gordon of Louisiana, Mrs. Ida Husted Harper, Mrs. Glendower Evans of Massachusetts, Mrs. Paymond Brown of New York, Miss Florence Allen of Ohio. Tonight there will be a reception to the delegates by the local association and the Woman Suffrage association of New Jersey.
