Miss Lottie Wall, for several years a teacher in La Grande schools but more recently located at Baker, has been married since last May but the fact has just come to general light. E. E. Bragg and family and other close friends of the bride have been officially notified of the wedding this week.

In complete details the Baker Democrat spoke out Thursday morning as follows of this happy event: "Coming as a great surprise, but nevertheless a pleasant one to their many friends, was the announcement made yesterday of the marriage at Hillsboro, Ore., on May 22 last, of Frye Herbert and Miss Lottie Wall, the former, son of Deputy Sheriff and Mrs. George Herbert and the latter a popular young lady who has held a position as teacher in the local schools for several years. Their romantic marriage took place a few days after the close of the last school term, Miss Wall meeting Mr. Herbert in Portland and going from there to Hillsboro with several close friends, who were the only ones present at the ceremony, which was performed by Rev. R. E. Meyer, pastor of the Methodist church.

"Mr. Herbert, after attending the U. S. Military academy at West Point, returned to Oregon over a year ago to accept a position at Fort Klamath, where he has been located since. He is a graduate of the Baker high school and one of the best all-around athletes ever turned out by that institution. After the marriage he returned to Fort Klamath and his bride went on to her home in the east. Mrs. Herbert has resumed her position in the schools here and will teach the coming term, according to their present plans. Mr. Herbert is expected here soon.

"Their many friends will unite in offering congratulations and best wishes."

Two important events of a state nature this fall are looking to La Grande for music. Mrs. Jay Van Buren will be soprano soloist at the state fair in Salem which opens within a few days, and she will be heard on numerous occasions over a four-day period. Mrs. Van Buren was secured for this honored distinction at Salem when several thousand people are usually present. She will devote a few days to visiting friends in Portland and shaping her voice for the heavy part it must play at Salem. The honor bestowed upon Mrs. Van Buren is indeed a small matter. Usually it goes to Portland and Salem musicians.

Now comes another invitation to a La Grande musician. At Seaside this fall music is to be an important part of the program before the State Federation of Women's clubs. On the afternoon that music is the special theme, October 4, Mrs. A. L. Richardson of La Grande has been asked to sing a group of songs. John Clare Monteth, well known Portland musician, will also sing on that afternoon. Mrs. Herman A. Heppner, chairman of the music department of the Federated clubs, has written a letter to Mrs. Richardson asking her to participate, and Mrs. Richardson naturally enough appreciates the compliment extended her.

While members of the Wing, Fin & Fleetfoot club were indulging in the annual fish feed Tuesday night, eight wives of the club members were partaking of an enjoyable progressive dinner. The group of eight assembled first at the home of Mrs. A. V. Andrews, 1516 Adams, where cocktails were served. Mrs. E. T. Andrews, 1502 1/2 Sixth, was the next hostess, she serving the soup. Mrs. P. S. Robinson, 1603 Washington, next entertained the party with salads, and from there the guests went to the Dr. H. M. Bouvy home, Second and Main, for the dinner. Mrs. C. D. Putman assisted Mrs. Bouvy at the serving. Deserts were in order at the home of Mrs. R. L. Pouch 505 Adams, and mints and coffee were served by Mrs. John Thiesen, 1406 O Street. The final meeting place was at the home of Mrs. R. W. Logan, where bridge was indulged in. Mrs. Elam Andrews scored highest and won the prize.

At each home handsome decorations prevailed. Various seasonable flowers were brought into service and at each home there was a characteristic scheme of things. The dinner table at the Bouvy home was touched off with red and white, tiny baskets being used for favors. Novel place cards, of different types, were used by the various hostesses. None attended other than those who took part in the service. The trout feed where the men were may have been a delightful event, but fell short of the progressive dinner.

Edna May Hawley, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ed. Hawley, was certainly a charming hostess Wednesday when she entertained a group of girl friends most of them from this city, at the Hawley ranch home in commemoration of her seventh birthday anniversary. The little folks were gathered up in autos and unloaded at the Hawley place at 10 and remained until 4 p. m. Pink and white was the color scheme and the hostess with the aid of her mother had very assiduously followed out the plan. A large parsonal, with ribbon runners of fitting colors to place cards, decorated the dining room. Sweet Pans of pink and white tints were profusely used. The birthday cake had seven white candles in pink rosette holders. Music games and entertainment occupied the afternoon until it was time to go home, and happy indeed had the day been.

E. J. Atkinson, proprietor of the Old Town store, was 79 years old Monday and many of his friends and relatives gave him a happy surprise. His wife's birthday occurred this week too, so it was made a double surprise and was greatly enjoyed by the honor guests and those who arranged it. The veteran merchant of South La Grande is unusually spry and pert at his advanced age.

For a week Miss Lucia Haley, of Seattle, has been acquainting herself with the duties before her as librarian of the La Grande library. She succeeded Miss Ivy Head, and took her position a few days ago, having already gotten a firm grip on the routine of the work. Few librarians can muster the strong personal recommendation that Miss Haley brought with her. She has been employed of late as cataloguer for the Oregon State library of which Miss Marvin is head, and Miss Marvin speaks in the highest terms of Miss Haley's qualifications. La Grande library patrons are rapidly becoming acquainted with the librarian and learning first hand of her efficiency.

Fly by nights come and go, locate and relocate, make big noises about buying from One (mostly One) to Five Thousand Pianos at a time, this statement alone should discredit all other statements. Few people fall for offers of something for nothing, and afterwards to awaken to realize that they have been loaded up with worked-over, second-hand stuff shipped from other points, we perhaps can give you some references if you care to investigate. We have no pipe dreams about selling pianos with lessons thrown in, or lessons with pianos thrown in. These so-called big houses taken from short range appear differently, refer to Bradstreets or Dunns commercial ratings. Get prices examine goods, and we will convince the most skeptical buyers that we sell goods with merit, pianos that need no prize packages in order to sell. Here to make good and look you in the eye after goods are tried out.

The Presbyterian church has rehearsed nightly for a week on a pretentious program which it will render in the nature of a sacred concert tomorrow evening at the Presbyterian church. Mrs. A. L. Richardson, director of the choir has made some excellent selections and has drilled the choir to a high state of perfection. Miss Naomi Williamson will assist the choir with a group of readings, appropriate for the occasion. In view of the work of preparation and the talent available to handle the numbers, the concert should be an extremely attractive one. The numbers are:

- Prelude, "The Heavens Are Telling" Hayden
- Hymn 125
- Scripture Lesson
- Anthem, "Sweet Is Thy Mercy" Barnby
- Soprano Solo and Choir
- "Hymn to Mount Blanc" Coleridge
- Miss Naomi Williamson
- Tenor Solo, "The City Divine" Bonheur
- Mrs. C. P. Ferrin
- Offertory
- Consecration Prayer
- Soprano and Tenor Duet, "Art Thou Weary?" Hosmer
- Mrs. A. L. Richardson and Mr. C. P. Ferrin
- Violin Solo
- Prof. J. David Haynes
- Anthem, "Seek Ye The Lord" Roberts
- Tenor Solo and Quartet
- (a) "Ike Walton's Prayer" Riley
- (b) "Mother O'Mine" Kipling
- (c) "Crossing The Bar" Tennyson
- Miss Naomi Williamson
- Soprano Solo, "The Earth Is The Lord's" Lynes
- Mrs. A. L. Richardson
- Contralto Solo
- Miss Leila Deborah Smith
- "Te Deum In C" Dudley Buck
- Choir
- Mrs. A. L. Richardson Director
- Mrs. W. W. Berry Organist

Mr. and Mrs. Hill W. Templeton, who were married quietly at Forest Grove this week will return to La Grande tomorrow noon to make this their home. The wedding took place at Forest Grove last Wednesday at the home of the groom's parents. Immediately after the wedding they went to Portland and have been spending the week end there. Mrs. Templeton was Miss Cecile Lilly, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. F. L. Lilly. Mr. Templeton is cashier at the United Store and since his arrival in La Grande a little more than a year ago, established many warm friends. The bride is a charming lady, educated in La Grande and Portland schools.

The Parkdale club changed their program for the meeting on Wednesday of this week—the first since the summer vacation—and assembled at Riverside park where a picnic gathering with the usual line of refreshments was enjoyed. The next meeting, which will be a week from Wednesday, will be at the home of Mrs. Wm. Anson.

Miss Helen Curry returned to her senior year in University of Oregon last evening.

Misses Thalia and Zela Lyman have gone to Portland to spend a month with friends.

Miss Anna Emmons is now employed at Young's Sweets.
