Excitement in Barber Shops. Baker, Sept. 14.—Local barber shops were the scenes of excitement last evening and in one case a revolver was displayed, but no use was made of it. One racket occurred when one barber started a quarrel with another over one's failure to close his shop yesterday, so say spectators, and during the mixup which followed the wife of one of them rushed in with the shooting iron. It was all over in a moment, however, before an officer arrived.

In the other instance an altercation between a negro porter and a customer led to blows being struck by both but no serious damage done, according to customers in the shop.
