LADD CANYON FARMERS ARE PLEASED, ON THE WHOLE, AT YIELD—HOLD GRAIN.

Lone Tree Mill Being Operated With a Big Crew—School Attendance is Good This Fall

Ladd Canyon, Sept. 26.—(Special) Almost every one has their grain threshed and were highly pleased with yield. A number have disposed of it to Albers Bros. Milling Co., through Mr. Otto John, while many of the farmers are still holding their grain. They will deliver their grain to the new warehouse at Hot Lake.

Mrs. Mary I. Counsell is having a splendid new bungalow constructed, consisting of nine rooms. Her brother-in-law, Albert Kinney, of Joseph, has the contract, and with a couple of extra helpers he expects to have the lathing and plastering completed within 60 days.

Ladd Canyon citizens are pleased to admit that six of the young ladies of the neighborhood are in attendance at High School in La Grande this fall. They are: Misses Maude and Etta Banton, Misses Murriel and Sybil Mulholland, Miss Amy Miller and Miss Lilah Mallory.

Owing to the extremely busy season, only Mr. and Mrs. Neil McClure and Mr. and Mrs. Dick Peebler, Harvey Stansberry and Adolph Peebler found time to attend the big Round-Up, at Pendleton. They were as highly entertained as ever.

Friends were pleased to hear of the arrival of a little son at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Harry M. Hansen, who reside at Perry. It will be remembered that Mrs. Hansen was formerly Miss Kate Braden, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Braden, who was born and reared to her womanhood in this neighborhood.

Miss Louise Counsell reports a daily attendance of thirty-five pupils in the school here, and all are doing fine.

Mr. Robinson has had the planing mill at Lone Pine under operation the past three weeks and the large force of men who are hauling lumber from the Robinson mill will soon have it all down.

The members of the Get-together Club entertained in honor of Mrs. W. J. Townley, and her friends Mrs. Edward Cline and Mrs. G. M. McMillan of Union, at Lineburger's Park Sept. 6th. Although everything was picnic fashion, the long table was as white and beautiful, laden with silver ware and flowers as if it had been set indoors. The park was pretty and comfortable, the edibles were toothsome, consisting of sandwiches, pickles, salads, cakes, ice cream and coffee, and everyone had a very enjoyable time. The entertainers were: Mesdames Joseph Linebarger, Dick Peebler, William Banton, Mary Counsell, Frank Engel, Frank McClure, Henry Peebler, L. W. Drumsmith, Charles Grandy, Adolph Peebler, James Sterzer, J. S. Butner and L. R. Heryford. Many of the members were unable to be present. The club has disbanded for an indefinite period.

WANT LIGHTS BACK.

Harris French, French & Scranton—I don't believe in being extreme. The absence of the light gives the streets an appearance of cheapness.

N. K. West, West's store—I am a firm believer in lighted alleys, but the commissioners haven't fulfilled their promise when they took the clusters down. Lights in the alleys have saved our store from burglaries. On the other hand I would as soon favor taking all the lights down as two-thirds of them. I believe in a well lighted town.

Jay Van Buren, Van Buren cigar store—I was disappointed when the clusters were taken down. Lack of them gives the appearance of a country town. I would favor their return.

Ralph Fowler, Fowler & Co., grocers—La Grande is not as well lighted as Pendleton. I favor their return even if it does cost more.

F. L. Meyers, La Grande National bank—Personally I much favor the return of the clusters.

W. A. Parker, Hill's Department store—I haven't been in La Grande long enough to speak intelligently about the city's finances, but I would prefer the lights being returned.

Frank Harris, Harris Art store—Island City has us beat a block for lights, since the clusters were taken down. Maybe Summerville has too. People don't walk in the alleys at night for any good reason. It is the main streets we want lighted.

"Human Slat" Killed.

Vancouver, B. C., Sept. 28.—Private Chamberlain, known as the "Human Slat" in boxing circles on the coast has been killed in action.

de's heart, the Bowery took Harry von Tilzer in hand and tutored him with the intention of having him amuse and entertain the public with his melodies. On Tilzer was born in Indiana, and his musical education consisted of one piano lesson. But the Bowery was after a creator not a player. Von Tilzer gleaned his conception of popular music and harmony from the malodorous concert halls filled with clouds of sailors, and painted, whirling faces. At the inception of his career he wrote long and often, but no one displayed any interest in his work and he had a desperate time of it keeping mind and body intact.

"In those days it was easier for me to write a dozen songs than make connections for a square meal." Harry smiles, whenever he falls into reminiscent mood. "And I was ready to sell a song for 50 cents up. I never did get started until Sterling and I wrote the ballad, "My Old New Hampshire Home." After making the rounds with it we took it to a new publisher on Twentyeighth Street. He listened to it and then puckered up his lips. Finally he agreed to take it home and have his little daughter play it, saying that if she should like it he would give us fifteen dollars for it. For the first time in many moons Sterling and I said a prayer, and the next day we got a check for fifteen dollars."

"The Lord only knows," he smiled. "Every fellow seems to get going in a different way—some by accident, some by design, and some by patience and plodding. I know several that owe their start to Sophie Tucker, one of the greatest popular song exploiters in vaudeville. In fact, she is looked upon and billed in all the big time vaudeville houses as the Mary Garden of popular songs."
