ARCADE

Fairies and Grim Tragedy Combined in Triangle Play.

The story of "The Children in the House," a new Triangle-Fine Arts release featuring Norma Talmadge to be shown at the Arcade theatre Sunday only covers a varied action with thrills, laughter, tears and poetic fancy much interwoven. Arthur Vincent, a real estate dealer, neglects his wife, and two children while in the toils of Jane Courtenay, an empty-headed cabaret dancer. Cora, the wife, frequently visits her sister Alice who lives next door. Alice is the wife of Fred Brown, a detective, and has three children. With the family lives Fred's bachelor brother, Charles, who is a former lover of Cora, and cannot bear to see her neglected by her husband.

It is during one of Cora's visits to the house, when Charles goes off and sits by the fire alone to try and still his heart-ache, that the children of the house and her children, come to beg him for a "good-night" story. While he is deliberating, one of the children asks him why he has no wife and children of his own; and in this he finds his inspiration. Unknown to him, Cora is listening behind the curtain.

He tells them the story of how he once lived in the Enchanted Forest of Dreams, loving a beautiful fairy called Sweetheart, and how she, in answer to his prayers to True Love, Queen of all the fairies, was made a mortal and hit by Cupid's dart to make her heart tender toward him. They were very happy, continues Charles, until Selfish, son of the Ogre who lived in the forest, desired her. Selfish sent two dwarfs, Lies and Jealousy to cast a spell over Sweetheart; and the spell cast, Sweetheart went off with Selfish. When Charles saw this, he fell down dead; but the fairies brought him back to life by replacing his heart with a cold stone.

Later, Cora and Charles are thrown together, and she admits that her heart has been made a cold stone too. And the old love blazes up fiercely.

In the meantime, Arthur is in danger of losing his cabaret girl because his money is giving out. So he plans to rob the bank. His plan is ingenious; and when the bank is robbed, suspicion is cast upon Charles, the cashier. Charles is unable to declare his alibi, that he was with Cora, for fear of bringing scandal upon her and her children.

But the children at play have found the hiding place of the real thieves. And the police fight that follows, brings happiness to Charles, to Cora, and to the children in the house.

SHERRY'S

Emily Stevens Seen in Novel Photoplay.

Emily Stevens, America's foremost emotional actress, who has been starred for two seasons in "The Unchastened Woman," one of the most successful recent plays on Broadway, will be seen on the screen here in "The

SCENE FROM "THE WHEEL OF THE LAW"

Wheel of the Law," a sensational five-part Metro wonder-play, at the Sherry theatre on Sunday and Monday. This promises to be one of the highest class features of the season and Miss Stevens is supported by a notable cast headed by Frank Mills, the well known dramatic actor, who has been starred on other programs.

The story of "The Wheel of the Law" is a powerful document of human life, written by Katherine Kacanaugh. It deals with the fallibility of circumstantial evidence and the danger of depending upon it solely in obtaining a conviction. There is a touch of politics, the life behind the scenes of a Broadway star, together with her home life.

Retirement Fund Advocated.

Union county school teachers have a double interest in study and investigation now going on preliminary to a teachers' retirement fund law. The prime reason of interest is because all teachers are pre-eminently interested in such a measure, and secondly, because a La Grande woman is a member of the committee—namely Mrs. A. E. Ivanhoe, county school superintendent. Mrs. Ivanhoe attended the last session of the committee in Portland, this week.

President Foster, of Reed College, as chairman of the committee, has been principally active in collecting data for the plan, and the mechanism of the fund is largely of his design. The operation of the scheme is similar to that of teachers' retirement funds which have been successfully administered in Eastern states.

Plan To Be Submitted
Miss Viola Ortschild, president of the Portland Grade Teachers' Association, will lay the plan before the Portland organization for adoption, while the committee will act in presenting the plan to members of the state organization.

The main features of the proposed plan of retirement allowances, as now discussed by the committee, for Oregon teachers are as follows:

First—Membership compulsory for all public school teachers beginning service in Oregon after July 1, 1917; optional for teachers in service previous to July 1, 1919.

Second—Rate of assessment upon teachers to be not less than 3 nor more than 5 per cent of salary in any year; provided that no annual assessment shall be more than $100.

Third—Assessments to be deducted from salaries by local authorities and forwarded to the secretary of the retirement board at Salem.

Contribution for Own Use
Fourth—Each teacher's contribution to be reserved solely for his own benefit; interest on contributions to be credited on the last day of each year at the rate of 3 per cent per annum.

Fifth—Teachers allowed to be retired at the age of 60; required to be retired at the age of 70.

Sixth—Retirement allowance to be of two parts:

(a) The annuity, which is a payment for life derived according to regular life insurance tables, from the member's own contributions and accumulated interest.

(b) The pension, of equal amount, paid by the state.

Seventh—An additional pension to be paid by the state to teachers who have served 15 years or more in Oregon prior to July 1, 1917, the amount to be based upon the years of service in Oregon, the minimum in these cases (annuity plus pension) to be $300 a year.

Contribution Limit Set.

Eighth—No teacher required to contribute a larger sum than is necessary to purchase an annuity of $500 at age of 60.

Ninth—Members of the retirement association withdrawing from the teaching service prior to the time when a pension is due to have all contributions refunded with interest at 3 per cent per annum.

Tenth—In case of death of member, contributions, with 2 per cent interest, to be refunded to legal representative.

Eleventh—Management to be vested in board of five members, to serve without pay; the State Treasurer, the State Superintendent of Public Instruction, the State Insurance Commissioner and two members of the retirement association in service to be appointed by the governor for terms of three years.

State Treasurer Custodian
Twelfth—All funds of the retirement system to be in custody and charge of the Treasurer of the state.

Thirteenth—The cost of administration, exclusive of the payment of retirement allowances, to be paid from the expense fund, consisting of appropriations by the legislature, on estimates submitted by the retirement board.

The members of the committee in charge of the plans are: A. E. Ivanhoe, La Grande; O. C. Brown, of Roseburg; J. A. Churchill and E. Carlton, of Salem; Miss Viola Ortschild, of Portland; J. H. Ackerman, president of the Multnomah Normal School; J. G. Insel, of Astoria; Miss H. Clark, of Vale, and Miss Winifred Dennis, of Portland.

Legislative Committee Named

A committee headed by Dr. Foster was authorized to draft a measure providing for the retirement fund, to be presented before the next session of the legislature. Richard W. Montague and State Superintendent of Public Instruction J. A. Churchill will co-operate with Dr. Foster on this committee. Mr. Montague was made a member of the retirement fund committee at yesterday's meeting.

To enlist support for the measure the plan for the fund will be placed before every county teachers' association in the state before finally being submitted.

DOWNWARD COURSE.

Fast Being Realized by La Grande People.

A little backache at first. Daily increasing 'till the back is lame and weak.

Urinary disorders may quickly follow;

Dropsy and often Bright's disease. This frequently is the downward course of kidney ills.

Don't take this course. Follow the advice of a La Grande citizen.

Mrs. C. I. Johnson, 802 Spring St., La Grande, says: "I am subject to kidney disorders at times, causing a dull pain across the small of my back. My head aches and at times I get so dizzy that I can hardly walk across the floor. During this trouble, my kidneys are very irregular in action and I feel miserable all over. After I have taken a box or two of Doan's Kidney Pills, however, I am free from kidney trouble. My back stops aching, my kidneys act regularly and in every way I feel as well as ever."

Price 50c, at all dealers. Don't simply ask for a kidney remedy—get Doan's Kidney Pills—the same that Mrs. Johnson had. Foster-Milburn Co., Props., Buffalo, N. Y.—Adv.

A NEW TRIANGLE PLAYER.

Although Wilhelmina Siegmann is not quite three years old, she is nevertheless playing a leading part with Lillian Gish at the Triangle-Fine Arts studio in "Diane of the Folies," which is shortly to be released.

Baby Siegmann is the youngest child in the pictures to have a speaking part—a part in which words and conversation are necessary to convey the thought to the audience.
