for the prosecuting of the Salvation War throughout the United States. The officers, soldiers and friends give and collect fruits, vegetables, groceries, chickens, ducks, geese, rabbits and even live hogs and cattle, which, with the exception of the hogs and cattle, are utilized for decorations of the Army hall for the Festival. At the close of the last service all these articles are sold at auction, which is usually an exciting and interesting operation.

Throughout the United States the Salvation Army has now in operation 946 Corps and outposts, 79 Workmen's hotels, 134 Industrial Homes for Men, 16 slum posts and nurseries, 25 Women's Rescue homes and Maternity hospitals and two Industrial homes and farms for boys and girls, besides numerous Relief departments, Anti-Suicide bureaus, free Medical dispensaries, departments for tracing lost and missing friends, Brighter Day leagues for men behind prison bars and other helpful activities.

"Those participating in this Harvest Festival celebration will materially help carry on this good work."

Twenty friends and neighbors of Mr. and Mrs. B. A. Benham surprised them Monday evening at their home on Second street, it being their 27th wedding anniversary. Games and music were the entertainments of the evening. A two-course luncheon was served. The visitors departed wishing Mr. and Mrs. Benham much happiness and many more anniversaries.

The Ladies' Bible class of the Methodist Sunday school met yesterday at the Methodist parsonage and reorganized for the coming year's work. Mrs. Edwards was re-elected leader and Mrs. Richey was chosen assistant. The officers elected were Mrs. S. C. Smith, president; Mrs. Redhead, vice president; Mrs. Bingleford, treasurer, and Mrs. H. C. Vinacko secretary. Committees were named to handle social and other affairs. Refreshments were served and in every way it was an important afternoon for the women. Twenty-two were present.

The Queen Esther circle was entertained yesterday by Phyllis Major who lives on Fir street. After a business session refreshments were served. Twenty-one were present.

Wednesday night at her home at 503 Spring Mrs. A. J. Van Valkenburg entertained a few of her friends. The evening was very enjoyably spent in sewing and visiting. Mrs. Van Valkenburg served a dainty two-course luncheon to her eleven guests.

Last night Miss Jeanette Stoddard was hostess to a jolly bunch of girls at a "stag" slumber party at the spacious Stoddard home on Fourth street. Games were played by the girls and a gay time and charming hostess was the verdict of all present. Sherbert, wafers and punch made up the refreshments. Those enjoying the party were: Helen and Marjorie Simms, Gladys Black, Marie Love, Blanche and Mabel Herzinger, Ardis Palmer, Helen Ransom, Genevieve and Bessie Stoddard, Mildred Bush, Mary Newlin and Jeanette Stoddard.

With Miss Helen McHugh as guest of honor, a few of her teacher friends entertained for Miss McHugh at a delightful dinner party in the domestic science dining room of the high school Thursday evening. A beautiful four course dinner was served by Miss Kirtley and one of her domestic science classes who helped carry out the color scheme of green. In token of their high esteem for Miss McHugh, who has been a teacher in the Central school for several years and who is to be one of the autumn brides, a set of sterling spoons were presented to her. The guest list included Miss McHugh as guest of honor, Mrs. Carpy, Mrs. Ingle, Mrs. Jackson, the Misses Mahaffey, Deal, Foss, Switzer, Jones, Anderson, Nettie, Elliott, Snider, Leadsforth, Lou Jones, Gormley, Smith, Bork, Morrison, White and Mr. Prince and the special guests: Mrs. Prince, Mrs. A. T. Hill, Mr. and Mrs. E. E. Bragg, Mrs. Kuhn Chick and Mrs. H. E. Dixon. (Additional Society on Page Ten.)

RED HAIR ONLY DISGUISE

Texas Tax Collector Wanted for Embezzlement in Fraud.

Kansas City, Oct. 3.—William I. Watson, of El Paso, Tex., farmer tax collector of El Paso County, was arrested here early today, charged with embezzlement of county funds during his tenure of office. When arrested Watson's hair was dyed red. The detectives who made the arrest said that Watson admitted his identity.

This Man Has a Cheese Factory on His Farm

(Farm and Fireside) Making cheese from the milk of a single dairy has the disadvantage of small output in most cases, but has the advantage of complete control of all operations. Fred Belke, a Wisconsin dairyman, has conducted a farm-size cheese factory for seven years in the following manner. He has a herd of 15 cows which produce from 250 to 300 pounds of milk a day. His building is 20 feet wide by 30 feet long, with a partition dividing it into two rooms, each 15 by 20 feet. One room is used for cheese-making, and the other is his boiler and tool room. His engine is a steam engine of upright pattern.

In the cellar below the cheese-room is his curing-room, and in one corner of this he has a force pump to draw water from a well ten feet from the building. The curing-room also has one important feature essential for making cheese of high quality—namely, a system for curing fresh cold air. This comes through clay pipes connected with the well, and he has a pump for supplying the fresh air according to the amount needed. In the winter time the curing-room is heated to the proper temperature with steam heat. Mr. Belke not only makes excellent cheese but he has been fortunate in having a steady market for his entire product. He never has made enough to satisfy the demand. Brick cheese is one of the varieties he has made to a large extent, and has secured as much as 100 pounds of brick cheese from 100 pounds of milk. The factory is equipped so that butter can also be made if desired.

Candidates' Announcements.

For Assessor. I have been regularly nominated on the Democratic ticket for County Assessor. If I am elected I pledge myself to a fair assessment. I believe the burdens should be fairly divided. I will devote my entire time to the affairs of the office, believing that the salary is sufficient to pay for it. I respectfully solicit the support of the voters at the coming election. Pd. Adv. W. A. MAXWELL.

"A FINE FORM IS BETTER THAN A FINE FACE"

—Ralph Waldo Emerson

After all, the acme of beauty is the expression, the life, the freedom, of a beautiful figure.

Ease and comfort of motion—unconsciousness of any restraint—permit this freedom, this joy and zest which gives true expression to beauty.

It is along these lines—taking health and joy in life as a basis—that are designed—and every wearer stands as fine proof of its success.

MODART Corsets

Society News

Mrs. Henry Young and daughters were hostesses of the Parkdale club Wednesday afternoon. About the usual program was carried through on this occasion with a plentiful supply of refreshments. The next meeting of the club will be at the home of Mrs. M. S. Carroll in May Park and Mrs. Adler will assist Mrs. Carroll in the entertainment. At this meeting the club will take up a discussion of the proposed measures to be voted on at the coming general election.

One of the most delightful and also among the foremost events of the week was the Five Hundred party given Tuesday afternoon, October 3, at the D. R. Tanner home on Second street by Mrs. Tanner, Mrs. W. H. Safford and Mrs. Guy Ellis.

The house was beautifully and artistically decorated in asters and other autumn flowers. Guests for 18 tables—a number considerably greater than the ordinary—enjoyed the hospitality of those charming hostesses for the afternoon.

Mrs. M. B. Donohue won high score with Mrs. Henry T. Hill second and Mrs. G. L. Larrison consolation.

A dainty three-course luncheon was served.

A "Dutch treat" theatrical party of 12 members attended the Hawaiian performance at the Arcade Friday evening, occupying box seats on that occasion. The attendants included Mr. and Mrs. W. R. Jones, Mr. and Mrs. L. A. McAllister, Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Ash, Mrs. O'Conner, Mary and Fanny Sofmer, Mrs. Bollons and daughter, Mrs. Finn.

Mrs. Arthur Gard of Winona Junction, Wash., is spending the week end with the genial Dr. P. A. Charlton family.

Peter Arnoldus and Miss Leona H. Finley were united in marriage at the home of the bride's parents Thursday evening at 7 o'clock. Mr. Arnoldus is a young farmer of much promise and his bride is a young lady of high social standing in the city.

Rev. H. L. Ford of the Christian church officiated, and the wedding march was played by Mrs. Ford. The happy couple left on the same evening for their wedding tour to visit relatives in Idaho and Washington.

Something truly good is certain to result from a campaign now at its height to make Halloween night at the Y. M. C. A. lobby one of the most entertaining spots in La Grande that date. Teachers of the schools will have jurisdiction over the program. Next Monday evening representatives from the faculty meet with the Social committee of the "Y" but this meeting is perfunctory for the social committee is stepping down and out in favor of the teachers. Those "on the inside" of affairs assure the public Halloween night will be a big show at the "Y."

Out of last year's Leap Year club which held a long and pleasant series of card parties in the 1915-1916 season, has grown the Fortnightly club, which meets alternate Friday evenings. Afternoon affairs will be for women, and at night the husbands will be graciously admitted. Mrs. G. E. Ahlquist was the first to entertain, doing so Thursday afternoon. Auction bridge prevailed, and at cards Mrs. C. R. Hibberd won first honors. At the correct hour dainty refreshments were served the guests. Mr. and Mrs. F. E. Oxner have the honor of being first to entertain the evening division.

La Grande merchants never did anything quite as big socially as the informal dance given at Zuber hall Wednesday night of this week. Two hundred and twenty-five tickets were sold, and for a time the hall was jammed full of people, fully 350 being on the floor and galleries. There was a distinct atmosphere of informality, and so well entertained were the dancers that they asked for and got permission to remain until 1 a. m. Sandwiches—by the hundreds—made by Mrs. W. R. Jones, great quantities of delicious coffee prepared by "Grandma" Shields, ice cream, cake and other delicacies were served in the dining compartment during the whole evening and cigars followed that for the men. Serving 15 at a time the waitresses were constantly alert to keep the guests entertained at the luncheon table, and did remarkably well. Haines' orchestra supplied good music, and it was "some" party. Dick Jones and Tom Ormond who constituted the committee of general arrangements, and the other committees which helped, deserve much credit. Do it again! is the popular slogan.

A well known La Grande girl has gone to Alaska and there married—her name is Leone Wade, who grew to womanhood in La Grande but lived in Portland more recently. Miss Wade took her departure from her mother's home in Portland about the middle of September. Immediately upon arrival at Anchorage, she was married to William D. Stearns, an engineer who is well known in Portland. Alaska papers have reached La Grande with news of the wedding. The Anchorage Daily Times says in this connection:

"Among the passengers on board the steamer Mariposa that reached Anchorage at 7 o'clock this morning was Miss Leone Wade, of Portland, Oregon, coming to this city to meet Wm. D. Stearns, an employee of the Alaskan Engineering commission. Dr. J. L. McBride performed the ceremony at the Presbyterian manse and Mr. and Mrs. Stearns will spend the winter in Anchorage, residing in the Martin residence at the end of Fourth avenue."

Harvest Festival Dates Are Named

Salvation Army Barracks Outlining Big Events for Middle of October—Big Attractions Planned.

La Grande's Salvation Army is to join with other barracks of the country in giving harvest festivals. October 13-14 have been chosen for the La Grande festival and the place is the old Palace restaurant building on Depot street.

This good old custom is being kept alive throughout the civilized world by the Salvation Army, which annually celebrates the closing of the Harvest with a great Festival, which usually takes place from October 7th to 9th.

The Ancient Jews celebrated the Feast of Pentecost as their Harvest Festival. The Romans, Egyptians and the Druids of Ancient England all celebrated their Harvest Festival usually at the close of the reaping or when the grain had all been garnered in, and the custom survives in weird ceremonies still performed in the harvest fields of Russia, England, Scotland and other lands.

"The songs, exercises and addresses are all prepared with a view to impressing the hearer with a sense of gratitude for God's goodness to man in giving a bountiful harvest," explains Ensign Childers, and says: "The Salvation Army also seek to impress upon the minds of the people through this celebration the fact that the great harvest of life, with all its golden opportunities for the production of the eternal fruits of love and unselfish service, will soon be past."

"During the Harvest Festival, special efforts are made to secure funds

RICHEY PIANO HOUSE

HOME INSTITUTION

We have a piano bought of one concern for an absolutely new instrument, and recommended by another concern in order to boost the outside game. Worked over and badly worked at that, composition keys, back painted to hide defects, checks, worm holes, and a great many other faults too numerous to mention, call and examine the tone of this so-called standard piano, and ask yourself the question, Does it pay to buy from people here one day some where else tomorrow? Buy of the man that is here to make good, and face you after goods are tested out. We have no culls shipped from other towns, and no worked over goods to be saddled upon the unsuspecting buyers. Call and satisfy yourselves as we are able to verify all statements above mentioned.
