COVE GREETINGS NEW RANCHER

ROY BAKER MOVES FROM ENTERPRISE TO CORP RANCH NEAR COVE.

Personal Mention and News Items From Cherry Town—Grange Meeting Big Affair.

Cove, Oct. 20—(Special)—Roy Baker, who has been living on Coal Creek 13 miles from Enterprise, has bought and moved onto the Dr. F. L.

Corp ranch. Geo. Baker met him at Imbler and helped him bring in 60 head of cattle, eight horses and eight colts.

Louis Peck has built an addition to his house.

Mr. Nice is putting up a new barn. Clyde Howater is recovering from a sprained ankle.

Mr. Snedeker is repapering his house.

Mrs. Prilliman received a very troublesome cut on her hand while preparing some corn for canning.

Miss Thelma Anderson celebrated her eighth anniversary Saturday September 30 by entertaining a few of her friends.

Frank Galloway spent a few days of last week visiting friends in Wallowa.

Tom Conklin and family made the trip to Wallowa in their car stopping over several days. Mr. Huntly, Jean and Lawton Stearns accompanied them.

Mt. Fannie Grange entertained the Pomona Grange Saturday Oct. 14 at Shanghai schoolhouse. There was not a very large attendance owing to the busy times. As usual a sumptuous dinner was served to which all gave their undivided attention and when the inner man was thoroughly satisfied the program for the afternoon was taken up.

Mr. Spillman, county agriculturist, in a short address introduced G. B. Hegardt, of Portland, engineer of commission of Public Docks and Prof. Hurd, member of the Extension board of O. A. C. who discussed bulk handling of grain.

Edward Dalton gave a recitation "The Moon."

Vocal Solo, "Memories" by Mrs. Georgiana Chadwick.

Recitation—Gladys Dorin.

Instrumental Solo—Eudell Gray.

Recitation, "The Spider Web,"—Wallace Pease.

Instrumental Solo—Othello Gray.

Vocal Solo, "She Sang Alleo To Me"—Mrs. Gray.

The rest of the afternoon was spent in discussion of the Measures and Amendments to be voted upon, led by Mr. Davis of La Grande.

The meeting adjourned to meet with Blue Mountain Grange at Grange hall in December.

Lee Motly and Mr. Dickson were Cove visitors Sunday.

Floyd Antles left last week for Pullman, Wash., to attend the Washington State College and will take a course in veterinary.

Prune packing will be finished this week. Cove has sent out about thirty-five carloads of prunes up to the present time.

Mrs. W. D. Foreman was taken to the hospital in Pendleton last Saturday. Mrs. English and the children accompanied her and are stopping with Mrs. Foreman's brother, Chas. Bloom.

The high school dismissed for one week on account of prune packing and resumed work again last Monday.

Miss May Stearns is ill with la grippe.

Mrs. Ed Stearns has returned from a visit to Pendleton.

Mrs. Fred Houx is ill and under the doctor's care.

Miss Bessie Lantz after a week's vacation has resumed her music classes.

Mrs. Lou Paine left for Janesville, Wis., taking Miss Dora Jones with her to spend the winter with her maternal aunt.

Tom Jones returned from Oklahoma last week Sunday. During the last year he has traveled all through the east.

Carl Gasset and family have moved to La Grande for the winter where he has secured work in the round house.

Roland Ingram has been home on a short visit. He has had charge of a crew of government surveyors working in Baker.

Yale In Action Today. Other Big Teams Tomorrow.

New York, Oct. 20.—(United Press)—Yale is the only one of the big eastern teams which will be in action tomorrow as it will stage its weekly game this afternoon in the Yale Bowl with Virginia Poly as its opponent.

Harvard has the Massachusetts Aggies on its card for tomorrow's tussle; Princeton will line up against Lafayette at Princeton; Cornell will tackle Bucknell at Ithaca, and Dartmouth will do battle with Georgetown at Hanover. The Navy and Army elevens will be in action, the former against West Virginia at Annapolis and the cadets against Trinity at West Point.

Perhaps the most important conflict will be staged in the far West, where Nebraska university and the Oregon Aggies are due for an inter-sectional clash at Portland, Ore. These teams have been supreme in their sections for some time and the result of their contest will be interesting especially to middle and far western football devotees. Nebraska's coach recently left the coaching job at the Oregon school to take up the same duties at Lincoln, and this will add to the rivalry between the schools.

The big nine will be well represented on the day's schedule, every school with the exception of Indiana being billed for combat. Chicago should have easy sailing against Northwestern, while Minnesota should have no trouble with South Dakota. Wisconsin will meet the Haskell Indians at Madison, and Iowa will clash Purdue at Iowa City. Illinois and Ohio State will battle in a conference game at Urbana.

A TALE OF TURKEY.

Queer Things That Happened in the Name of the Constitution.

The ignorance of the Turkish masses concerning political questions, says Sir Edwin Pears in "Forty Years in Constantinople," is shown by certain incidents of the revolution of 1908. The hamals, or porters, in the towns, like the peasants in the country, when they heard that his majesty had sworn to be faithful to the constitution, inquired what it was. Was it a person? Was it a new calliph? And very few could give any clear explanation. The words "liberty" and "equality" meant something good, although they could not have said what. To some they signified general license.

Two English friends of mine were motoring outside Smyrna upon a number of Turkish boys set upon them and flung stones at them. The Englishmen gave chase and caught the principal offenders. The eldest was asked why he had thrown stones.

"Hurriet var," was the reply. "There's liberty. We can do what we like now."

The Englishman replied, "Hurriet var, and I am at liberty to give you a good thrashing, am I not?"

One of the boys said yes, he supposed that would be so, but he hoped the liberty would not be used. The Englishman replied that it would not be used that time, but if the offense were repeated he would use it to the fullest extent.

The workmen on a newspaper during that time asked for a large increase of wages.

"But why?" asked the owner. "Because there is a constitution."

The tramway men struck for higher wages, and the only justification that they put forward was that there was now a constitution. Yet men of all classes cheered in the lustiest manner for the constitution. Throughout the month of August smuggled tobacco was openly sold in the streets at a very cheap rate, buyers and sellers alike considering that the constitution allowed men to set aside the law that had made the sale of tobacco a government monopoly.

HOSPITALITY IN SYRIA.

A Custom That May Have a Bearing on a Passage in Scripture.

Approaching his hoped for guest, a Syrian engages him in something like the following dialogue, characterized by a glow of feeling which the translation can only faintly reveal:

"Ennobles us by your presence."

"I would be ennobled, but I cannot accept."

"That cannot be."

"Yes, yes, it must be."

"No, I swear against you by our friendship and by the life of God. I love just to acquaint you with my bread and salt."

"I swear also that I find it impossible to accept. Your bread and salt are known to all."

"Yes, do it just for our own good. By coming to us you come to your own home. Let us repay your bounty to us."

"Astaghfero Allah (by the mercy of God) I have not bestowed any bounty upon you worth mentioning."

Here the host seizes his guest by the arm and with an emphatic, "I will not let you go," pulls at him and would drag him bodily into his house. Then the guest, happy in being vanquished "with honor," consents to the invitation.

Do you now understand fully the meaning of the passage in the fourteenth chapter of Luke's gospel? "A certain man made a great supper, and bade many. . . . and they all with one consent began to make excuse. . . . And the Lord said unto the servant, 'Go out into the highways and hedges, and compel them to come in that my house may be filled.'"—Abraham Mitrie Ribbany in Atlantic Monthly.

Come In And Let Me Tell You About My New Farm Loan

A 20 Year Amortized Rural Credit Loan No Commission No Renewals

TO UNION COUNTY FARMERS:-

For several years I have been working and planning for easier money to loan on good old Grand Ronde farm lands.

Finally I have arranged with one of the largest loaning companies (a company that has $85,000,000 loaned to the farmers of the West) for a real Rural Credit loan based on a 20-year amortized plan. 20 equal payments of but little more than current interest pays off your entire debt.

You pay no commissions, choose your own date of payment and pay at your own bank. You can pay any amount of your loan at any time. This plan figures you a saving of nearly 3 per cent over the usual farm loan made heretofore in this county. If interested call and let me explain fully.
