Socially and on the whole one of the most attractive social events was the Catholic ladies' bazaar, given in the old Elks' building. The ladies entered into the affair in the spirits of good will and used every effort to make the bazaar a success. The Elks' building is transformed into a bower of beauty; rows of bouquets decorated in beautiful colorings, the ladies trying to out do the others in making their booths most attractive. Added to this is an atmosphere of congeniality and good will. The ladies deserve great credit for the wonderful success of such a huge undertaking, all giving up their social and household duties to give their time to the bazaar.

The first booth is the "Good Eats" booth and is the center of attraction especially at the luncheon hour, and each day an elegant luncheon is served to the public which is greatly patronized. The decorations of this booth are purple and white and most tastefully arranged. The hostess of this booth is Mrs. Gulligan, assisted by Mrs. Rohan, Mrs. Larcom, Miss Ryan, Mrs. P. Theisen, Mrs. Garity, Mrs. Lindenburg, Bertha Schmidt and Mrs. Fitzgerald.

Following this booth is the Miscellaneous booth from which can be purchased many beautiful and useful articles both large and small. The decorations of this booth are of lavender and white beautifully blended.

der and white beautifully blended. Mrs. L. A. McAllister is the hostess assisted by Mrs. J. G. Miller and Mrs. E. T. Andrews.

A most interesting booth is devoted to canned fruits. This booth is very uniquely decorated with apple bows laden with large ripe apples. The hostess is Mrs. Julius Roesch assisted by Mrs. Christ Miller, Mrs. P. A. Miller and Miss A. Roesch.

The next display was the fancy work booth, with a most gorgeous outlay of hand-worked articles, all contributed by the ladies of the club. The decorations are of bright red, blending beautifully with the dainty display. The hostess is Mrs. J. E. Foley assisted by Mrs. E. A. Stoup and Mrs. J. F. O'Connell.

The handkerchief booth is next on the list and this is one of the most attractive, made dainty with decorations of apple blossoms. The display of hand-made handkerchiefs is most lavish, all the work having been done by the ladies and contributed for the bazaar. The hostess is Mrs. F. L. Meyers, assisted by Mrs. Fred Spaeth and Mrs. J. McKenna.

Adjoining this pretty booth is the baby booth, done in baby blue color. In the back ground is a huge doll with a tag attached "Guess My Name." The guesses are very numerous, each being registered in a book on the counter. Any needs for the baby can be obtained at this booth. The hostess is Mrs. C. R. Newlin assisted by Mrs. DeLile Greene, Mrs. Chas. Reynolds, Mrs. Kelly, Mrs. C. P. Carroll and Miss M. Rug.

The apron booth is decorated in pink and lavender and is under the supervision of Miss Katherine Kalin, Mrs. R. Heden, Mrs. Joe Desilet and Mrs. R. Provost.

The fish pond is a very popular attraction for the kiddies. Each catch contains useful articles. The decorations are of yellow poppies and white. Mrs. C. L. Lynch is the hostess assisted by Mrs. Lee Bellinger.

Those who have a sweet tooth are accommodated at the candy booth where all kinds of home made candy is served. Mrs. H. M. Bay is the hostess assisted by Mrs. J. G. Snodgrass and Miss Elizabeth Donnelly. This booth in connection with the punch and soft drinks is decorated in yellow tarleton with white. The hostess is Miss Leona Newlin who devoted her entire time in making this booth very popular. Miss Newlin is assisted by Miss Mary Newlin and Miss Charboneau.

The country store is certainly a typical one for one can purchase anything from a mowing machine to an evening dress. Mrs. Norman Desilet is the village store keeper and is ably assisted by Miss Henrietta Foley and Miss Irene Murphy.

The parcel post booth is most unusual. Each package is sent to some one of the ladies from friends from all parts of the United States. Each parcel contains useful and valuable articles. The hostess is Mrs. A. Newlin assisted by Miss Mae McNeely and Miss Beaver.

Each evening the guests are entertained with a musical program and afterwards dancing.

Too much praise cannot be given to Mrs. T. N. Murphy who as president of the Altar society made it possible to give such an elaborate affair and to the ladies who have so ably assisted her in making the bazaar a success both socially and financially. The bazaar closes tonight with a program and a grand ball.

A very interesting afternoon's program was enjoyed when the Neighborhood club met on Tuesday for its regular session. This day was set aside as Child Welfare Day, and the ladies threw themselves into the work with enthusiasm as was shown by the four splendid papers given. After routine business had been disposed of, Dr. H. L. Underwood gave a short talk in the interests of Armenian Relief work. A committee was appointed by the president, Mrs. Logan, to act for the club in this work. Dr. Margaret Ingle then gave a carefully prepared paper on Child Welfare work giving some personal experiences of her work in this department at Los Angeles. Following this Mrs. Ida French, Mrs. H. C. Rees and Mrs. John Crymes gave short talks on "The Child in Our Midst," applying their words locally. C. P. Ferrin very beautifully sang, "The Old Sweet Story" with Mrs. J. Garfield King as accompanist. Ten new names were received for membership at this meeting making a total of 18 new members for the two meetings.

One of the most important topics brought up at this meeting was the arrangement for bringing to La Grande the Child Legislation exhibit prepared by the Oregon Child Welfare commission at a cost of over $4000. This exhibit will be in La Grande on October 28, coming here from Pendleton where it will also be on exhibit. The Oregon Child Welfare commission was appointed by Governor West and was the first of its kind in the United States. It has been re-appointed by Governor Withycombe and is doing very effective work. An effort should be made by every citizen of La Grande to see this remarkable exhibit when it is shown here.

Mrs. Norman Frees announced a meeting of the dramatic department of the Neighborhood club for Tuesday afternoon October 24 in the club

"Edison Has No Records!"

Certain talking machine dealers say that "Edison has no records." Their statement is true—

but Edison Has Over 1,000 Different Re-Creations

Mr. Edison has a trade-mark on the word Re-Creation as applied to the phonographic reproduction of sound. He alone can use that word, and he alone can actually re-create music. If you own a you do not play Edison "records." You play Edison Re-Creations. If you want to play talking machine records on the New Edison, you must buy an attachment. The New Edison was not made to play talking machine records.

Greatest Catalog Mr. Edison has the world's finest collection of recorded music. Look at his catalog and his new supplements. Listen to typical examples of his new art and be convinced. Already he has more than 1,000 different Re-Creations on sale and new selections are being produced every week.

rooms and asked that all the ladies who were interested in this work make a special effort to attend. Already the dramatic department boasts of a large membership and as definite plans of study will be put in motion at Tuesday's meeting it is very important that all who intend to join should hand in their names as soon as possible.

On Wednesday afternoon the Catholic ladies gave a five hundred party of 30 tables. Miss Fanny Sommers won the first prize, this being a beautiful ribbon handbag. The second prize was won by Mrs. Lou Givens which was a hand embroidered apron. An elegant luncheon was served. The reception committee was Mrs. F. L. Meyers, Mrs. DeLile Greene, Mrs. L. A. McAllister, Mrs. A. Newlin and Mrs. J. B. O'Connell.

The ladies also gave a party for the children of the Convent Thursday afternoon, serving them with ice cream and cake and a general good time was given the youngsters.

Mrs. Wm. Bollins and Mrs. E. T. Andrews entertained the Lucky Thirteen club on Thursday afternoon at the home of Mrs. Bollins.

Decorations of yellow and black prevailed carrying out the Halloween spirit. The honors were won by Mrs. Gus Levy. A two-course luncheon was served.

Mrs. J. Van Buren was hostess to the Thursday Bridge club on Thursday afternoon. Mrs. F. S. Ivanhoe won honors. The next club meeting will be held at Mrs. J. J. Carr's.

Mrs. M. J. Crandall, of Baker, is the house guest of Mrs. R. J. Green.
