Under the auspices of the Methodist choir the music-loving folk of La Grande are to have a rare treat in the near future, Oct. 30, when Pauline Miller Chapman, mezzo contralto, will give a concert in the Methodist Episcopal church. Through the influence and friendship of Mrs. J. P. Graham Mrs. Chapman has been persuaded to appear on the above date and it

SUNDAY DOROTHY GISH and OWEN MOORE

IN "Susan Rocks The Boat"

She is a rich little girl with lots of time on her hands and plenty of money—but she is not happy in her environment. Like her idol, Joan of Arc, she wants to do something in the world—to make things better than they are. Her experience is interesting.

needless to say she will sing before a capacity house. Whenever this noted singer has appeared crowds throng to hear her and go away charmed with the quality and coloring of this wonderful mezzo contralto. After graduating from Chicago conservatory she studied with Signor Marescalchi, Max Heinrich and afterwards she studied abroad with Etelka Gersten and with that master of voice teachers of Berlin Lamperti. Don't forget the date, Oct. 30th, and reserve it. She will be accompanied by her husband who is a noted artist on the violin, having studied with Bernhard Listeman and Tivalar Gaches.

The opening session of the M. I. A.'s season activities was held at the tabernacle last Tuesday before a large and appreciative audience. Following the regular session came the Social hour which was enlivened by the presentation of a "Ladies' Minstrel Show" by Mrs. Ray Baum's Bee-Hive girls. The work of the young ladies was greatly enjoyed.

The Salt Lake Telegram (non-Mormon) has the following to say about the course of study outlined for the young men this year.

"Junior classes of the Mutual Improvement association of the Mormon church will pursue a course in 'The Development of Character' during this winter's course and senior classes will study the theme, 'The Church as an Organization for Social Service,' according to the manuals which were released from the press yesterday.

"One of the chapters in the manual for the senior classes which is deemed by church authorities both Mormon and other denominations represented here, as especially noteworthy is 'The Word of Wisdom.'

"In brief this chapter is summarized as follows: Avoid strong drink, tobacco, hot beverages and tea and coffee. They should be used only in cases of medical necessity. Fruits and grains are highly recommended and the 'flesh of beasts' is also recommended, provided, it is used sparingly and in time of cold weather.

"The following promises are tendered those obeying these words of wisdom: They shall receive health, shall find wisdom, shall be physically strong and 'The destroying angel shall pass by them.'

"The junior book is a treatise on the development of courage. In it the highest examples of courage are set before the pupils and they are exhorted at no time to fear to do right, even though it may mean death or injury, and to practice forbearance in all things."

The senior girls will study "Latter-day Saint Teachings" and the junior girls, "Stepping Stones to Fame."

Next Tuesday night as an item of timely interest a portion of the time devoted to preliminary program will be turned over to Jacob.

H. Trayner who will speak for the Democrats and Elmer I. Stoddard for the Republicans.

M. I. A. meetings are held every Tuesday night at 7:30 to which a cordial invitation to attend is extended to those interested.

Mary Pennington, the charming daughter of Mr. and Mrs. C. C. Pennington was quietly married to Earle E. Freeman, of Portland, Wednesday morning. Rev. Father Driscoll, officiating. The wedding was very informal only intimate friends being present. The bride was attended by Miss Irene Murphy, the groom by C. A. Ramsey. The bride wore her going away gown and carried a shower bouquet of Ophelia and Cecil Bruner roses entwined with pink tulle. Miss Irene Murphy caught the bride's bouquet.

Mrs. Freeman, (Miss Pennington) will be greatly missed by her many friends in La Grande. Socially she was a great favorite and her host of friends extend to the young couple congratulations and best wishes. Mr. and Mrs. Freeman will take an extended trip through the East and on their return will make their future home in Portland.

Mr. and Mrs. Chas. H. Stevens entertained with a dinner party at the Foley hotel on Saturday evening. The motive being their first wedding anniversary. The dinner guests were Mr. and Mrs. Pat Foley, Mr. and Mrs. Edward Ford, Mr. and Mrs. Clarke Leiter and Don Meyers.

Although in many ways a happy event, but marked throughout with the deepest sort of regret and disappointment, a party given at the Mrs. A. S. Geddes home last evening served as a farewell to C. P. Ferrin, who left today for Grants Pass. Songs were sung and refreshments served, but the large number of guests returned home with heavy hearts at the departure of Mr. Ferrin to another city.

The afternoon division of the Fort-nightly club met Thursday afternoon at Mrs. Emahizer's home. High score was won by Mrs. Oxner. A delicious lunch was served and all had a very enjoyable time.

Twenty of Mr. and Mrs. Geo. Kelly's friends journeyed to their home in Fruitdale this week to celebrate their tenth wedding anniversary. The evening was spent most pleasantly; games and music were enjoyed and a delicious lunch was served. The guests left at an early hour wishing Mr. and Mrs. Kelly many more happy anniversaries. Many presents were given to the couple.
